THE USE AND ABUSE OF ALCOHOL

Read the article and answer the questions that follow.

Introduction
Alcohol is a drug that affects the brain and the body. It is a depressant, which means it slows down the functions of the brain and the body. It is also a habit-forming substance, which means that people can become addicted to it. Alcohol is one of the most commonly used drugs in the world, and it is also one of the most abused. It is a major cause of many health problems, including liver disease, heart disease, and cancer. It is also a leading cause of accidents and injuries, particularly when it is consumed before driving a car.

Alcohol and the Brain
Alcohol affects the brain in several ways. It slows down the transmission of messages between the different parts of the brain. This can lead to problems with memory, judgment, and coordination. It can also lead to changes in the brain's chemistry, which can result in addiction. The more alcohol a person drinks, the more these effects are pronounced.

Alcohol and the Body
Alcohol also affects the body in several ways. It can cause dehydration, which can lead to dizziness and headaches. It can also irritate the stomach and liver, which can lead to more serious health problems. Long-term use of alcohol can lead to liver disease, heart disease, and other health problems.

Alcohol and Society
Alcohol plays a significant role in many aspects of society. It is often used in social settings, and it is a common part of many cultural traditions. However, it is also a major cause of many social problems, including domestic violence, child abuse, and traffic accidents. It is important to understand the effects of alcohol on the individual and on society in order to make informed decisions about its use.

assessment and treatment of all psychological problems considered in this volume have been incorporated into the text. Account has been taken of changes in the diagnosis and classification of psychological problems reflected in the DSM 5. Chapters on ADHD in adults, emotion focused therapy, radically open dialectical behaviour therapy and schema therapy have been added. The book is divided into 6 sections. Section 1 covers conceptual frameworks for practice, lifespan development, classification and epidemiology, CBT, psychodynamic, emotion focused, systemic and bio medical models and general assessment procedures. Section 2 deals with mood problems: depression, bipolar disorder, suicide risk and anger management. Section 3 focuses on anxiety problems: social phobia, generalized anxiety disorder, panic disorder, obsessive compulsive disorder, post traumatic stress disorder and depersonalization disorder. Section 4 deals with psychological problems linked to physical health: health anxiety, somatization, chronic pain, adjustment to cancer and eating disorders. Section 5 focuses on other significant psychological problems that come to the attention of clinical psychologist in adult mental health services: ADHD in adults, alcohol and other drug problems, psychosis and psychological problems in older adults. Section 6 contains chapters on therapeutic approaches to psychological distress related to complex childhood trauma: dialectical behaviour therapy for borderline personality disorder, racially open dialectical behaviour for over controlled presentations and schema therapy. Each of the chapters on clinical problems explains how to assess and treat the condition in an evidence based way with reference to case material. Interventions from cognitive behavioural, psychodynamic, interpersonal, systemic and biomedical approaches are described where there is evidence that they are effective for the problem in question. Skill building exercises and further reading for psychologists and patients are included at the end of each chapter. This book is one of a set of three volumes which cover the lion's share of the curriculum for clinical psychologists in training in the UK and Ireland. The other two volumes are the Handbook of Child and Adolescent Clinical Psychology Third Edition by Alan Carr and the Handbook of Intellectual Disability and Clinical Psychology Practice Second Edition edited by Alan Carr. Christine Linehan, Gary O'Reilly, Patricia Noonan Walsh, John McEvoy. The Case Formulation Approach to Cognitive-Behavior Therapy. Jacqueline B. Persons, 2012-10-22. A major contribution for all clinicians committed to understanding and using what really works in therapy, this book belongs on the desks of practitioners, students and residents in clinical psychology, psychiatry, counseling and social work. It will serve as a text in graduate level courses on cognitive behavior therapy and in clinical practice. The American Journal of Drug and Alcohol Abuse, 1980. Elementary School Health Instruction. Marion B. Pollock, Kathleen Middleton, 1984. Neurobehavioural Disability and Social Handicap Following Traumatic Brain Injury. Tom McMillan, Rodger Wood, 2017-02-17. Neurobehavioural disability (NBD) follows many forms of serious brain injury and is a major constraint on social independence. This book brings together a group of leading academics and practising clinicians to provide an overview of the nature of NBD, considering how it translates into social handicap and what can be done to address associated problems through social and behavioural rehabilitation, vocational training and family education.
