milieu including its music poetry architecture legal system and prominence in the Islamic world The Arabs in Antiquity Jan Retso,2013-07-04 The history of the Arabs in antiquity from their earliest appearance around 853 BC until the first century of Islam is described in this book It traces the mention of people called Arabs in all relevant ancient sources and suggests a new interpretation of their history It is suggested that the ancient Arabs were more a religious community than an ethnic group which would explain why the designation Arab could be easily adopted by the early Muslim tribes The Arabs of antiquity thus resemble the early Islamic Arabs more than is usually assumed both being united by common bonds of religious ideology and law Grounded Identities ,2019-07-15 Grounded Identities Territory and Belonging in the Medieval and Early Modern Middle East and Mediterranean is a collection of essays on attachment to specific lands including Kurdistan Andalusia and the Maghrib and geographical Syria in the pre modern Islamicate world Together these essays put a premium on the affective and cultural dimensions of such attachments fluctuations in the meaning and significance of lands in the face of historical transformations and at the same time the real and persistent qualities of lands and human attachments to them over long periods of time These essays demonstrate that grounded identities are persistent and never static Contributors are Zayde Antrim Alexander Elinson Mary Hoyt Halavais Boris James Steve Tamari Historiography in Saudi Arabia Jörg Matthias Determann,2013-10-25 Saudi Arabia is generally and justifiably viewed as a country with some of the fewest democratic institutions and the weakest traditions of pluralism It is therefore surprising to learn that at least in one corner of the Saudi world there can be found a plurality of opinions and lively debate Jorg Matthias Determann brings this element to light by analysing an important field of cultural activity in Saudi Arabia historical writing Since the 1920s local tribal Shi i and dynastic histories have contributed to a growing plurality of narratives Paradoxically this happened because of the expansion of the Saudi state including state provision of mass education It was also due to globalizing processes such as the spread of the internet In challenging the widely held perception of Saudi Arabia as an irredeemably closed and monolithic society Historiography in Saudi Arabia provides a deeper understanding of modern Arab historiography the Saudi state and education and scholarship in the Middle East ABU BAKR AL -SEDDEQ THE FIRST CALIPH MOHAMMAD RIDA,2008-01-01 Money, Power and Politics in Early Islamic Syria Professor John Haldon,2013-06-28 The transformation of the eastern provinces of the Roman empire from the middle of the seventh century CE under the impact of Islam has attracted a good deal of scholarly attention in recent years and as more archaeological material becomes available has been subject to revision and rethinking in ways that radically affect what we know or understand about the area about state building and the economy and society of the early Islamic world and about issues such as urbanisation town country relations the ways in which a different religious culture impacted on the built environment and about politics This volume represents the fruits of a workshop held at Princeton University in May 2007 to discuss the ways in which recent work has affected our understanding of the nature of economic and exchange activity in particular and the broader implications of these advances for the history of the region
