Alberts Story:

Collective Memory and the Dutch East Indies Paul Doolan, 2025-10-01 Collective Memory and the Dutch East Indies Unremembering Decolonization examines the afterlife of decolonization in the collective memory of the Netherlands It offers a new perspective on the cultural history of representing the decolonization of the Dutch East Indies and maps out how a contested collective memory was shaped Taking a transdisciplinary approach and applying several theoretical frames from literary studies sociology cultural anthropology and film theory the author reveals how mediated memories contributed to a process of what he calls unremembering He analyses in detail a broad variety of sources including novels films documentaries radio interviews memoirs and historical studies to reveal how five decades of representing and remembering decolonization fed into an unremembering by which some key notions were silenced or ignored The author concludes that historians or the historical guild bear much responsibility for the unremembering of decolonization in Dutch collective memory Short Story Index, 1979 A Metropolitan History of the Dutch Empire Matthijs Kuipers, 2025-10-01 A Metropolitan History of the Dutch Empire Popular Imperialism in The Netherlands 1850 1940 examines popular imperial culture in the Netherlands around the turn of the twentieth century In various and sometimes unexpected places in civil society the empire played a prominent role and was key in mobilizing people for causes that were directly and indirectly related to the Dutch overseas colonies At the same time however the empire was ostensibly absent from people's minds Except for some jingoist outbursts during the Aceh War and the Boer War indifference was the main attitude with which imperial affairs were greeted How could the empire simultaneously be present and absent in metropolitan life Drawing upon the works of scholars from fields ranging from postcolonial studies to Habsburg imperialism the author argues that indifference to empire was not an anomaly to the idea of an all permeating imperial culture but rather the logical consequence of an imperial ideology that rendered metropole and colony firmly separated entities The different groups and individuals that advocated imperial or anti imperial causes such as missionaries former colonials Indonesian students and boy scouts hardly ever related to each other explicitly and had their own distinctive modes of expression but were nonetheless part of what the author calls a fragmented empire and shared the common thread of Dutch imperial ideology This suggests we should not mistake colonial culture's metropolitan invisibility for a lack of strength Untold Stories Jan Critchett, 1998 I'm your half brother and I'm here to stay This is my home With these words Wilmot Abraham sought refuge with his white relations Wilmot was the best known Aboriginal in the Warrnambool district of Victoria a man who maintained the old way of life long after his people were dispossessed Local farmers spoke of him as the last of his tribe Few were aware that his father had been a white lad working as a boundary rider on the Western District frontier and only the Aboriginal community knew that Wilmot had barely escaped with his life from the violent seizure of his mother's people's country In Untold Stories Jan Critchett presents a series of moving Aboriginal biographies from the Western District of Victoria drawing both on the oral tradition of local Koori Elders and on official records Wilmot's is one of the many untold stories that appear here for the first time. Untold Stories opens our eyes to a number of remarkable individuals who managed to make a life for themselves in the interstices of the society that had dispossessed them. Their long running battle to maintain their culture and their connection to country in the face of a regime that seemed bent on denying their humanity is both humbling and inspiring.

The Two Alberts Gordon Richard Owen, 1996 Two of the most colorful influential and controversial figures in southern Territorial New Mexico were Albert Jennings Fountain and Albert Bacon Fall. Fountain arrived in southern Territorial New Mexico with the California Column during the Civil War and made his mark twenty five years before Fall's arrival. Fall, born during the Civil War, ventured westward to seek his fortune as a miner. Both brought with them dominant personalities, an ability with words, a flair for leadership, and an endless enthusiasm for their adopted land. They were instrumental in shaping the growth of economics, law, government, and politics of Territorial New Mexico. Devoted to their families and their political parties, both rose to the top of New Mexico politics. Fall served as a U.S. Senator and a Cabinet Secretary. Political opponents and bitter personal enemies, they locked horns almost from Fall's arrival in the Territory until Fountain's disappearance. In spite of their political and legal successes, both lives ended in tragedy. Fountain and his 9 year old son Henry disappeared near the San Andres Mountains while returning from Lincoln, New Mexico. Their bodies have never been recovered and their fate is one of Southern New Mexico's most intriguing unsolved mysteries. Fall died an ill and broken man as a result of the Teapot Dome Scandal. Owen has meticulously researched what has been written by and about these two men to provide an unbiased analysis of their lives and contributions and their interactions with each other.

Young Lady Albert Is Courting Disaster (Manga) Volume 2 Saki, 2023-03-16 Set on her own downfall, Mary continues along her course to catastrophe. The heroine Alicia's fondness for her is becoming harder to ignore, but Mary's determined to keep her head in the sand. As the game's story progresses, Mary finds herself front and center of one of its most crucial scenes: the accusation event. Heart High's eligible bachelors condemn and criticize her one after another, but Mary is ready to return fire armed with an icy smile. Are these noble gentlemen prepared for the wrath of young lady Albert?

War, Literature, and the Arts, 1992 The Memoir and the Memoirist Thomas Larson, 2007 The memoir is the most popular and expressive literary form of our time. Writers embrace the memoir and readers devour it, propelling many memoirs by relative unknowns to the top of the best seller list. Writing programs challenge authors to disclose themselves in personal narrative. Memoir and personal narrative urge writers to face the intimacies of the self and ask what is true. In The Memoir and the Memoirist, critic and memoirist Thomas Larson explores the craft and purpose of writing this new form. Larson guides the reader from the autobiography and the personal essay to the memoir, a genre focused on a particularly emotional relationship in the author's past, an intimate story concerned more with who is remembering and why than with what is remembered. The Memoir and the Memoirist touches on the nuances of memory, of finding and telling the truth, and of disclosing one's deepest self. It explores the craft and purpose of personal narrative by looking in detail at more than a dozen examples by writers such as Mary Karr Frank McCourt Dave Eggers Elizabeth Wurtzel Mark Doty Nuala O Faolain Rick Bragg and Joseph Lelyveld to show what they reveal about themselves Larson also opens up his own writing and that of his students to demonstrate the hidden mechanics of the writing process For both the interested reader of memoir and the writer wrestling with the craft The Memoir and the Memoirist provides guidance and insight into the many facets of this provocative and popular art form
