Poetics of the Literary Self-Portrait Michel Beaujour,1992-10 Investigates the literary self portrait genre From St Augustine to Montaigne and from Nietzsche to Barthes individual self portraits are analyzed along with the cultural matrix from which self portrayal derives its non narrative structure and many of its recurrent topics

Scapeland Gillian B. Pierce,2012-01-01 Scapeland Writing the Landscape from Diderot s Salons to the Postmodern Museum is a comparative interdisciplinary study tracing theories of the sublime and a history of spectatorship from Diderot's eighteenth century French Salons through art criticism by Baudelaire and Breton to Jean Fran ois Lyotard's postmodern exhibition Les Immat riaux. In the Salons an exploration of the painted landscape becomes an encounter with both the limits of representation and the infinite possibilities of fiction. Baudelaire and Breton explore similar limits in their work set against the backdrop of the modern city. For them as for Diderot the attempt to render visual objects in narrative language leads to the development of new literary forms and concerns. Lyotard's concept of the postmodern museum frames the sublime encounter once again in terms that expressly evoke Diderot's verbal rendering of painted spaces as a personal promenade. According to Lyotard Diderot ouvre par crit les surfaces des tableaux comme les portes d'une exposition il abolit l'opposition de la nature et de la culture de la r alit de l'image du volume et de la surface. Reading the literary production of these four writers alongside their art criticism. Scapeland considers narrative responses to art as imaginative assertions of human presence against the impersonal world of objects.

Malraux Olivier Todd, 2005 Writer and French government minister Andr Malraux was renowned as a Renaissance man of the 20th century. Now the author of the acclaimed biography Albert Camus examines Malraux's life in which fact competes with his subject's previously little known mythomania photos.

Japanese Art - Transcultural Perspectives Melanie Trede, Christine Guth, Mio Wakita, 2024-12-02 The transcultural approach to Japanese art history embraced by the contributors to this volume centers on the dynamic aesthetic, artistic, and conceptual negotiations across cultural, temporal, and spatial boundaries. It not only acknowledges material objects, people, and technologies as agents but also intangible practices such as knowledge and concepts as vital agencies of interaction in transcultural processes. With its premise on connectivity, trans-territoriality, networks, and their transformative potential, this research destabilizes categorical configurations such as center vs. periphery and high vs. low, calling into question the classical canon of Japanese art history.

Art and the Human Adventure Derek Allan, 2009 Derek Allan has published widely on aspects of Malraux's works and the theory of art and literature. He holds a PhD in Philosophy and a Masters degree in French Language and Literature and is currently a Visiting Scholar in the School of Humanities at the Australian National University. Book Jacket

Photography and Sculpture Sarah Hamill, Megan R. Luke, 2018-01-02 Ever since the mid-nineteenth century when the new medium of photography was pressed into service to illustrate sculpture, photographs of sculptural objects have directed viewers as to what in the course of ambling around a sculpture was the single perfect moment to stop and look. What is the photograph's place in writing the history of sculpture? How has it changed according to culture, generation, critical conviction, and changes in media? Photography and Sculpture: The Art Object in Reproduction studies aspects of these questions from the perspectives of sixteen leading art historians. Their essays consider iconic photographs, archival collections, new and forgotten technologies, and conceptual challenges in photographing three-dimensional forms that have directed changing historical and stylistic
