Report of the National Reading Panel : Teaching Children to Read : an Evidence-based Assessment of the Scientific Research Literature on Reading and Its Implications for Reading Instruction National Reading Panel (U.S.), 2000

The Nature of Consciousness Mark Rowlands, 2001-10-11 In The Nature of Consciousness Mark Rowlands develops an innovative account of the nature of phenomenal consciousness one that has significant consequences for attempts to find a place for it in the natural order The most significant feature of consciousness is its dual nature consciousness can be both the directing of awareness and that upon which awareness is directed Rowlands offers a clear and philosophically insightful discussion of the main positions in this fast moving debate and argues that the phenomenal aspects of conscious experience are aspects that exist only in the directing of experience towards non phenomenal objects a theory that undermines reductive attempts to explain consciousness in terms of what is not conscious His book will be of interest to a wide range of readers in the philosophy of mind and language psychology and cognitive science

Report of the National Reading Panel : Teaching Children to Read : an Evidence-based Assessment of the Scientific Research Literature on Reading and Its Implications for Reading Instruction : Reports of the Subgroups National Reading Panel (U.S.), 2000 In 1997 Congress asked the Director of the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development NICHD in consultation with the Secretary of Education to convene a national panel to assess the status of research based knowledge including the effectiveness of various approaches to teaching children to read The panel was charged with providing a report that should present the panel s conclusions an indication of the readiness for application
