Christian Ethics Robin W. Lovin, 2010-03-01 In this excellent outline of Christian ethics Robin W Lovin achieves a balance between the questions and issues which form the core of the study of ethics and the life situations from which those questions arise Eschewing a sectarian approach which dismisses other understandings of the moral life Lovin nonetheless lays claim to a specifically Christian understanding of ethics He begins with basic Christian convictions about the reality of God and human redemption and weaves these convictions into the fabric of moral concerns that are widely shared in contemporary society He takes note of the problems that arise when Christians try to act on or enforce their convictions in a pluralistic society and recognizes the variety of theological and moral beliefs that are held within the Christian community as well as in the wider society

The Case Against Christianity Michael Martin, 1991 In this systematic philosophical critique of the major tenets of Christianity Michael Martin examines the semantic and epistemological bases of religious claims and beliefs Beginning with a comparison and evaluation of the Apostles Creed the Niceno Chalcedonian Creed and the Athanasian Creed Martin discusses the principal theological historical and eschatological assumptions of Christianity These include the historicity of Jesus the Incarnation the Second Coming the Virgin Birth the Resurrection Salvation through faith in Jesus and Jesus as a model of ethical behavior Until now an adequately convincing criticism of Christianity did not exist Martin's use of historical evidence textual analysis and interpretations by philosophers and theologians provides the strongest case made to date against the rational justification of Christian doctrines

Christian Moral Realism Rufus Black, 2000 Christian Moral Realism describes the shape of a Christian ethic that arises from a conversation between contemporary accounts of natural law theory narrative and virtue ethics and an insistence that any Christian ethic begin with a distinctively Christian description of reality The key partners in this conversation are the leading Christian ethicists Germain Grisez Stanley Hauerwas and Oliver O Donovan The ethic that emerges from this conversation seeks to resolve the tensions in Christian ethics between creation and eschatology narrative and natural law objectivity and relativity the cultivation of virtue and a focus on the resolution of moral dilemmas In defence of its philosophical foundations this book argues that a thoroughly realist ethic can respect the logical claim that no ought can be derived from is Dr Black moves from this analytic foundation to conclude that worship lies at the heart of a theologically grounded ethic whose central concern is the flourishing of the whole human person in community with both one another and God

Richard Niebuhr William Werpehowski, 2002-09-20 In this careful analysis and evaluation of the monumental influence of Niebuhr Werpehowski traces four streams that flow from Niebuhr's theology particularly as it deals with ethics In a tightly knit and comprehensive investigation of the work of four contemporary ethicists important in their own right Paul Ramsey Stanley Hauerwas James Gustafson and Kathryn Tanner Werpehowski explores how the legacy of Niebuhr has made an impact on their thought and work He presents a clear concise nuanced analytical criticism of the development of the four ethicists' construction of ethics and does it in a way that interweaves and puts the four into a dialogue and conversation with Niebuhr and each other Addressing a number of substantive issues including the viability of just war tradition and the relationship between church and world American Protestant Ethics and the Legacy of H. Troubled Paradise Eric Reitan, 2024-12-12 Grief over the loss of those we love is one of the most painful parts of life But Christianity has long offered consolation to those who grieve in the form of the Easter promise Death is not the end Beyond it lies a realm of perfect joy where mourning is no more and every tear is wiped away But won't this promise have limits if as Christians have traditionally believed some of God's creatures are eternally lost Can I really be perfectly happy in heaven if say my children are damned or annihilated And what about the Christian teaching that those in heaven are morally sanctified Doesn't this mean they will be perfected in a love so wide it includes even our enemies and hence the lost While delving deeply into the nature of grief and its relation to Christian ethics this book explores the reasoning that generates this problem of heavenly grief examines purported solutions and invites deeper reflection on a frequently dismissed idea that avoids the problem altogether the universalist notion that there are no limits to Easter's promise because all are ultimately saved

Covenantal Biomedical Ethics for Contemporary Medicine James J. Rusthoven, 2014-04-29 Principles based biomedical ethics has been a dominant paradigm for the teaching and practice of biomedical ethics for over three decades Attractive in its conceptual and linguistic simplicity it has also been criticized for its lack of moral content and justification and its lack of attention to relationships This book identifies the modernist and postmodernist worldviews and philosophical roots of principlism that ground the moral minimalism of its common morality premise Building on previous work by prominent Christian bioethicists an alternative covenantal ethical framework is presented in our contemporary context Relationships constitute the core of medicine and understanding the ethical meaning of those relationships is important in providing competent and empathic care While the notion of covenant is articulated through the richness of meaning taught in the Christian Scriptures covenantal commitment is also appreciated in Islamic Jewish and even pagan traditions as well In a world of increasing medical knowledge and consequent complexity of care such commitment can help to resist enticements toward the pursuit of self interest It can also improve relationships among caregivers each of whose specific expertise must be woven into a matrix of care that constitutes optimal medical practice for each vulnerable and needy patient
