John Gunn George Kennaway, 2021 Examines the life and work of Scottish cellist and antiquarian John Gunn 1766-1824 through newly discovered sources. The Scottish cellist and antiquarian John Gunn 1766-1824 is unique among British writers on music in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth century. Learned and practical at home in classical and modern languages knowledgeable in a wide range of musical topics and with even wider ranging interests and committed to the ideal of progress through rational thought he typified the Enlightenment. His published output was large and diverse: a cello treatise in two quite different editions two books on the flute and one on the piano a treatise on figured bass a history of the harp in the Highlands and a translation of a French work of music theory. The list of his unrealised publications is even longer including a proof of the oriental origins of the Scots. He married Anne Young a well known Edinburgh piano teacher and his letters cast new light on the circumstances and date of her death. Taking account of Gunn's diverse experiences as a musician scholar in Cambridge London and Edinburgh studying his sundry occupations and exploring his social connections through a recently unearthed cache of his letters this study moves away from treatise archaeology and offers a broader view than is usually possible with such figures. The book will be of interest to those studying historical performance practice music education in Enlightenment Britain and the dissemination of Enlightenment thought.
