Basildon Plotlands:

A Portrait of Basildon Plotlands Deanna Walker, 2010-09-01 The former plotlands around Laindon and Dunton are still held dear in the memories of many of their former residents Most of the grassy lanes have since been swallowed up by new housing but the combination of archive material with the recollections and photographs of those who once made the plotlands their home will bring back to life the period from the 1930s to the advent of Basildon Development Corporation in the 1950s when the plotland population was its highest Although the memories of those who owned weekend huts are included the focus is on the permanent residents who were here all year round They couldn't depart for London when the mud reached the tops of their boots the milkman's cart got stuck in a rut and the standpipes were frozen solid Some had fled the London blitz but now found themselves under attack in the Essex countryside Material from Lord Leatherland's estate shows how the Parish Invasion Committee helped plotlanders prepare for possible invasion and even held an exercise to test their preparations Coverage includes plotland lanes in the west of Laindon an area that has received little attention so far Documentary evidence reveals just how the Corporation tackled the thorny question of what to do with the shack dwellers For the unmade roads lined with self built bungalows were home to those who coped without the basic mains services that were generally being taken for granted Other hazards included adders bulls spiders in the loo vicious dogs disappearing bread shotgun pellets and arson attacks And yet the plotlands inspire enormous nostalgia and those who recall with pleasure the hot tea and blackberries they once enjoyed here will find a great deal in this delightful book to amuse them Basildon Plotlands Deanna Walker, 2007-11

In the late 19th century due to the agricultural depression farmland in several parts of Essex was divided into small plots and sold by auction Mainly bought by Londoners the plotlands sadly no longer exist having been absorbed into Basildon New Town This fascinating book traces the plotlanders story from the 1890s to the 1990s St

Peter-On-The-Wall Johanna Dale, 2023-05-15 The Chapel of St Peter on the Wall built on the ruins of a Roman fort dates from the mid seventh century and is one of the oldest largely intact churches in England It stands in splendid isolation on the shoreline at the mouth of the Blackwater Estuary in Essex where the land meets and interpenetrates with the sea and the sky This book brings together contributors from across the arts humanities and social sciences to uncover the pre modern contexts and modern resonances of this medieval building and its landscape setting The impetus for this collection was the recently published designs for a new nuclear power station at Bradwell on Sea which if built would have a significant impact on the chapel and its landscape setting St Peter on the Wall highlights the multiple ways in which the chapel and landscape are historically and archaeologically significant while also drawing attention to the modern importance of Bradwell as a place of Christian worship of sanctuary and of cultural production In analysing the significance of the chapel and surrounding landscape over more than a thousand years this collection additionally contributes to wider debates about the relationship between space and place and particularly the interfaces between both medieval and modern cultures and also heritage and the natural environment      This Luminous Coast Jules Pretty,2015-06-04 Over the course of a year Jules Pretty walked along the shoreline of East Anglia in southeastern England eventually exploring four hundred miles on foot and another hundred miles by boat It is a coast and a culture that is about to be lost not yet perhaps but soon to rising tides and industrial sprawl This Luminous Coast takes the reader with him on his journey over land and water over sea walls of dried grass beside stretched fields of golden crops alongside white sails gliding across the intricate lacework of invisible creeks and estuaries under vast skies that are home to curlews and redshanks and the outpourings of skylarks East Anglia s coastline is as much a human landscape as it is a natural one and Pretty is equally perceptive about the region s cultural heritage and its industrial wild fishing villages and the modern seaside resorts family farms and oil refineries pleasure piers and concrete seawalls cozy pubs and military installations Through words and photographs Pretty interweaves stories of the land and sea with people past and present He is a passionate and sensitive guide to a region in transition under stress and perhaps even doomed as finely attuned to its history as he is to its unique sensory world      Essex James Bettley,Nikolaus

Pevsner,2007-01-01 Essex one the largest counties of England stretches from the suburban fringes of East London to the fishing and sailing ports of Harwich and Maldon and the famous seaside resorts of Clacton Frinton and Southend Its buildings encompass rich Roman survivals powerful Norman architecture and the remains of major Tudor and Jacobean country houses Essex is first and foremost a county famed for its timber buildings from the eleventh century church at Greensted to the early and mighty barns at Cressing Temple and a wealth of timber framed medieval houses Later periods have also made their contribution from Georgian town houses to Victorian and Edwardian industrial and civic buildings and from important exemplars of early Modern Movement architecture to the major monument of High Tech at Stansted Airport

Weeds Richard Mabey,2010-10-14 Ever since the first human settlements 10 000 years ago weeds have dogged our footsteps They are there as the punishment of thorns and thistles in Genesis and two millennia later as a symbol of Flanders Field They are civilisations familiars invading farmland and building sites war zones and flower beds across the globe Yet living so intimately with us they have been a blessing too Weeds were the first crops the first medicines Burdock was the inspiration for Velcro Cow parsley has become the fashionable adornment of Spring weddings Weaving together the insights of botanists gardeners artists and poets with his own life long fascination Richard Mabey examines how we have tried to define them explain their persistence and draw moral lessons from them One persons weed is another s wild beauty      Colin Ward and the Art of Everyday Anarchy Sophie Scott-Brown,2022-07-22 Colin Ward and the Art of Everyday Anarchy is the first full account of Ward s life and work Drawing on unseen archival sources as well as oral interviews it excavates the worlds and words of his anarchist thought illuminating his methods and charting the legacies of his enduring influence Colin Ward 1924 2010 was the most prominent British writer on anarchism in the 20th century As a radical journalist later author he applied his distinctive anarchist principles to all aspects of community life including the built environment education and public policy His thought was subtle universal in aspiration international in implication but at the same time deeply rooted in the local and the everyday Underlying the breadth of his interests was one simple principle freedom was always a social activity This book will be of interest to students scholars and general readers with an interest in anarchism social movements and the history of radical ideas in contemporary Britain      The Gardens of the British Working Class Margaret

Willes,2014-04-29 This magnificently illustrated people s history celebrates the extraordinary feats of cultivation by the working class in Britain even if the land they toiled planted and loved was not their own Spanning more than four centuries from the earliest records of the laboring classes in the country to today Margaret Willes s research unearths lush gardens nurtured outside rough workers cottages and horticultural miracles performed in blackened yards and reveals the ingenious sometimes devious methods employed by determined obsessive and eccentric workers to make their drab surroundings bloom She also explores the stories of the great philanthropic industrialists who provided gardens for their workforces the fashionable rich stealing the gardening ideas of the poor alehouse syndicates and fierce rivalries between vegetable growers flower fanciers cultivating exotic blooms on their city windowsills and the rich lore handed down from gardener to gardener through generations This is a sumptuous record of the myriad ways in which the popular cultivation of plants vegetables and flowers has played and continues to play an integral role in everyday British life      AA Files ,1985      A House Through

Time David Olusoga,Melanie Backe-Hansen,2020-05-14 A very readable history of the British way of life viewed through its homes Choice Magazine In recent years house histories have become the new frontier of popular participatory history People many of whom have already embarked upon that great adventure of genealogical research and who have encountered their ancestors in the archives and uncovered family secrets are now turning to the secrets contained within the four walls of their homes and in doing so finding a direct link to earlier generations And it is ordinary homes not grand public buildings or the mansions of the rich that have all the best stories As with the television series A House Through Time offers readers not only the tools to explore the histories of their own homes but also a vividly readable history of the British city the forces of industry disease mass transportation crime and class The rises and falls the shifts in the fortunes of neighbourhoods and whole cities are here tracing the often surprising journey one single house can take from an elegant dwelling in a fashionable district to a tenement for society s rejects Packed with remarkable human stories David Olusoga and Melanie Backe Hansen give us a phenomenal insight into living history a history we can see every day on the streets where we live And it reminds us that it is at home that we are truly ourselves It is there that the honest face of life can be seen At home behind closed doors and drawn curtains we live out our inner lives and family lives      The Estates Gazette ,1977      The future of planning

Yvonne Rydin,2013-09-11 This timely book provides a fresh analysis of the limitations of the growth dependence planning paradigm and considers alternative urban development models ways of protecting and enhancing existing low value land uses and means of managing community assets within the built environment      Tourism and Trails Dallen J.

Timothy, Stephen W. Boyd, 2015 This book provides a comprehensive overview of trails and routes from a tourism and recreation perspective This cutting edge volume addresses conceptual and management issues systematically examining supply demand development and impacts associated with trails and routes     Envisioning Sociology John Scott, Ray Bromley, 2013-06-01 Examines the continuing relevance of early British sociologists Victor Branford Patrick Geddes and their associates     Essex Journal , 1999     Sociable Cities Peter Hall, Colin Ward, 2014-06-05 Peter Hall and Colin Ward wrote Sociable Cities to celebrate the centenary of publication of Ebenezer Howard s To morrow A Peaceful Path to Real Reform in 1998 an event they then marked by co editing with Dennis Hardy the magnificent annotated facsimile edition of Howard s original long lost and very scarce in 2003 In this revised edition of Sociable Cities sadly now without Colin Ward Peter Hall writes the sixteen years separating the two editions of this book seem almost like geological time Revisiting the 1998 edition is like going back deep into ancient history The glad confident morning following Tony Blair s election has been followed by political disillusionment the fiscal crash widespread austerity and a marked anti planning stance on the part of the Coalition government But closely following the argument of Good Cities Better Lives How Europe discovered the Lost Art of Urbanism Routledge 2013 to which this book is designed as a companion Hall argues that the central message is now even stronger we need more planning not less And this planning needs to be driven by broad high level strategic visions national regional of the kind of country we want to see Above all Hall shows in the concluding chapters Britain s escalating housing crisis can be resolved only by a massive programme of planned decentralization from London at least equal in scale to the great Abercrombie plan seventy years ago He sets out a picture of great new city clusters at the periphery of South East England sustainably self sufficient in their daily patterns of living and working but linked to the capital by new high speed rail services This is a book that every planner and every serious student of policy making will want to read Published at a time when the political parties are preparing their policy manifestos it is designed to make a major contribution to a major national debate

Arcadia for All Dennis Hardy, Colin Ward, 2004 From Canvey Island to Jaywick Sands from Peacehaven to Pitsea in the first 40 years of last century thousands of English families made their own place in the sun without benefit of councils planners architects building societies or even builders Were they as many planners and environmentalists suggested making rural slums and seaside eyesores or were they providing a unique example of unaided self build housing with lessons for us all today Here Dennis Hardy and Colin Ward uncover the history of the plotlands of South East England telling the fascinating detail of the places people built for themselves on the coast and in the country and of what happened to them since drawing parallels with similar developments in other parts of the world Urban Wildscapes Anna Jorgensen, Richard Keenan, 2012-03-12 Urban Wildscapes is one of the first edited collections of writings about urban wilderness landscapes Evolved rather than designed or planned these derelict abandoned and marginal spaces are frequently overgrown with vegetation and host to a wide range of human activities They include former industrial sites landfill allotments cemeteries woods infrastructural corridors vacant lots and a whole array of urban wastelands at a variety of different scales Frequently maligned in the media these landscapes have recently been re evaluated and this collection assembles these fresh perspectives in one volume Combining theory with illustrated examples and case studies the book demonstrates that urban wildscapes have far greater significance meaning and utility than is commonly thought and that an appreciation of their particular qualities can inform a far more sustainable approach to the planning design and management of the wider urban landscape The wildscapes under investigation in this book are found in diverse locations throughout the

UK Europe China and the US They vary in scale from small sites to entire cities or regions and from discrete locations to the imaginary wildscapes of children s literature Many different themes are addressed including the natural history of wildscapes their significance as a location for all kinds of playful activity the wildscape as commons and the implications for landscape architectural practice ranging from planting interventions in wildscapes to the design of the urban public realm on wildscape principles

Twentieth Century Industrial Archaeology Michael Stratton,Barrie Trinder,2014-04-04 This book examines the industrial monuments of twentieth century Britain Each chapter takes a specific theme and examines it in the context of the buildings and structure of the twentieth century The authors are both leading experts in the field having written widely on various aspects of the subject In this new and comprehensive survey they respond to the growing interest in twentieth century architecture and industrial archaeology The book is well illustrated with superb and unique illustrations drawn from the archives of the Royal Commission on the Historical Monuments of England It will mark and celebrate the end of the century with a tribute to its remarkable built industrial heritage
