Manuals Combined: U.S. Navy Journalist Basic, Journalist Advanced And Journalist 3 & 2 Training Publications , Over 1 300 total pages. To the young man or woman choosing a Navy career field whether for one enlistment or for 30 years the journalist rating offers endless avenues for an imaginative yet mature thinker. Many of the duties and responsibilities of the journalist rank among Americans favorite hobbies and pastimes such as writing broadcasting and photography. The Navy journalist learns and practices a distinguished profession and becomes an official representative of the Navy in public affairs matters. The first enlisted specialists to work full time in the field of Navy journalism were Naval Reserve personnel selected during the early years of World War II. They were designated Specialist X Naval Correspondents. In 1948 under a major overhaul affecting almost every enlisted rating the journalist JO rating was established. MAJOR TASKS AND RESPONSIBILITIES
LEARNING OBJECTIVE Identify the major tasks and responsibilities of the Navy journalist the personal traits required for one to best perform the duties of the rating the applicable NECs and the purpose of the JO 3 2 training manual. TRAMAN In our democratic society government depends on the consent of the governed. This important principle means that in the long run the United States government does only what the people want it to do. Therefore we can have a Navy only if the people know and understand the importance of the Navy and support it. The Navy like the other services depends on this country's citizens for the four key tools of its trade personnel money materials and the authority to carry out its mission. As a Navy journalist your main function will be to make the facts about your Navy available to the Navy's three main publics the people at your ship or station Navy people in general and the people of the United States as a whole. The Video Studio Alan

Birmingham, Ed Boyce, Ken Angold-Stephens, Michael Talbot-Smith, 1994-10-17 The recent demise of the independent television companies and the expansion of satellite and cable networks has led to an explosion in small independent production facilities. In parallel with this development has been a steady increase in media training and a major expansion in corporate video facilities. The Video Studio is written for everyone contemplating setting up a professional installation whether studio or location based. The Video Studio shows how to estimate the scale of investment required and depending on the nature and frequency of use of the facility the layout of technical areas and the function of the main items of equipment is described in easy to understand language. In short this is a nuts and bolts approach to planning and operating a studio of 150 square metres or less. Completely updated to take account of all the recent technological advances which have taken place the book now covers DAT timecode digital compression non linear editing and all current digital video formats. Research for Media Production Kathy Chater, 2001-12-11 Outlines the main skills techniques and practices for the job of the researcher. An easy to follow guide to production research it will help the new researcher to understand the possibilities to be considered when undertaking research and the kind of questions that need to be asked at each stage of the production process. Every project whether it is a programme for television or radio or an article for publication is different and there is no one correct answer to each situation. Based on the author's wealth of experience as a researcher on many and varied kinds of broadcast and non broadcast programmes this quick reference will guide the reader through the problems they are likely to encounter and help to resolve them. It also includes many tips to help the reader gain a better understanding of the real world of production. Research for Media Production is a rework and expanded edition of Production Research also written by Kathy Chater. Digital Video Camerawork Peter Ward, 2012-08-21 This manual introduces digital camerawork techniques used in television and video production. Written as a practical guide the author's step by step instructions take you through everything you need to know from camera controls to editing lighting and sound. This text provides a solid foundation to build upon in the area of digital video production. In a period of transition between analogue and digital acquisition recording formats Digital Video Camerawork provides up to date information familiarizing you with the different production styles and requirements. Diagrams are used to illustrate the technology and techniques explained. Digital Video Camerawork combines clear technical explanations with practical advice. It is ideal for the less experienced broadcast camera operator and for students on media and television production courses. Nonlinear Editing Patrick Morris, 2012-11-12 Nonlinear is a buzzword for every broadcaster and facility house worldwide. Systems range from the humble to the exotic and despite the growing acceptance of the technology many users both new and experienced find the complexity of the operation and the time spent loading the material and rendering effects difficult to manage at first. Non linear editing also comes with its own specialist language requiring each editor to be conversant with a new range of skills from day one. As desktop systems improve the role of the traditional editor is constantly evolving and expanding. This is an operational manual for professional trainees and students in the post production industry It will also serve as a useful reference tool for producers and directors Written in a concise and clear manner the book serves as a practical guide to the efficient management and operation of non linear editing systems It describes the technology involved the essential techniques to be mastered including on line and off line editing project management rendering effects working with graphics and audio and adding third party applications Designed for quick and easy reference this is a practical user guide to non linear editing that comes complete with an extensive jargon buster that will get you fully conversant with the technology in a short space of time Patrick Morris is a Trainer in Post Production for the Television Corporation of Singapore and the Singapore Broadcasting Authority as well as Chairman of the South East Asia User Group He is an AVID Certified Trainer with a working knowledge of Lightworks Media 100 Quantel D Vision and other systems Formerly a consultant and Senior Editor for BBC ITV and SKY TV he also spent many years a Training Manager for BBC Wood Norton and as Senior Video Tape Editor for Television South West
