Basketmaking In Ireland:

Basketmaking in Ireland Joe Hogan, 2001 Baskets in Europe Maurice Bichard, 2008 Europa Tradition Korb
Korbflechten Technik Rohmaterial ethnografische Quellen Holz Zweige Wurzeln Bast The Stars of Ballymenone, New Edition Henry Glassie, 2016-09-12 In the time of the Troubles when bombs blew through the night and soldiers prowled down the roads Henry Glassie came to the Irish borderland to learn how country people endure through history He settled into the farming community of Ballymenone beside Lough Erne in the County Fermanagh and listened to the old people For a decade he heard and recorded the stories and songs in which they outlined their culture recounted their history and pictured their world In their view their world was one of love defeat and uncertainty demanding the virtues of endurance faith bravery and wit Glassie's task in this book is to set the scene to sketch the backdrop and clear the stage so that Hugh Nolan and Michael Boyle Peter Flanagan Ellen Cutler and their neighbors can tell their own tale which explains their conditions and converts them into a tragedy of conflict and a comedy of the absurd It gathers the saints and warriors and celebrates the stars whose wit enabled endurance in days of violence and deprivation With patience and respect Glassie describes life in a time and a place exactly like no other and yet Ballymenone is like a thousand other places where people work on the land during the day and tell their own tales at night forgotten while the men of power fill the newspapers and history books by sending poor boys out to be killed The Stars of Ballymenone is an integrated analysis of the complete repertory of verbal art from a rural community where storytelling and singing of quality remained a part of daily life Irish Rural Interiors in Art Claudia Kinmonth, 2006-01-01 This book offers a fascinating view of many aspects of Irish rural life from the eighteenth to the mid twentieth century Illustrated with more than 250 images many of which have not been published before the book evokes the hardships and celebrations of laborers and farmers men and women the old and the young as depicted in oil paintings watercolors drawings prints postcards and cartoons Most of the illustrations show people engaged in indoor activities at home but schools shops pubs and doctors surgeries are also included Claudia Kinmonth draws on extensive knowledge of the material culture of rural life to present a new social history of Irish country people Working within a broadly chronological framework the author addresses such themes and patterns of rural life as the architecture of houses where people slept cooking over the open hearth rural dress display childcare work within the home the arrangement of marriages weddings wakes and celebrations The book also explores why Irish and foreign artists depicted rural interiors and sets their work in the context of art history Folktales of Newfoundland (RLE Folklore) Herbert Halpert, J.D.A. Widdowson, 2015-02-20 This collection of Newfoundland folk narratives first published in 1996 grew out of extensive fieldwork in folk culture in the province The intention was to collect as broad a spectrum of traditional material as possible and Folktales of Newfoundland is notable not only for the number and quality of its narratives but also for the format in which they are presented A special transcription system conveys to the reader the accents and rhythms of each performance and the endnote to each tale features an analysis of the narrator's language. In addition, Newfoundland has preserved many aspects of English and Irish folk tradition, some of which are no longer active in the countries of their origin. Working from the premise that traditions virtually unknown in England might still survive in active form in Newfoundland, the researchers set out to discover if this was in fact the case.

Contemporary International Basketmaking Mary Butcher, 1999 Exploring basketmaking's variety of form, pattern and construction, this volume questions the traditional boundaries and status of the technique from its anthropological influences and history to the effect it has had on contemporary craft and sculpture.

The Material Culture of Basketry Stephanie Bunn, Victoria Mitchell, 2020-11-26 The Material Culture of Basketry celebrates basketry as a culturally significant skilled practice and as a theoretically rich discipline which has much to offer contemporary society. While sometimes understudied and underappreciated, it has much in common with mathematics and engineering, art, craft and design, and can also act as a socially beneficial source of skill and care. Contributors show how local knowledge of materials, plants and place are central to the craft. Case studies include the skill in weaverbird nest building, challenging how we perceive learning in craft and nature; an engineer's perspective on twining Peruvian grass bridges; and the local knowledge embodied in Pacific plaited patterns and knots. Photo essays explore materials and techniques from the point of view of artists, anthropologists and mathematicians, revealing how the structure and skill in basketwork illustrate a significant form of textile technology. Thus, the book argues that the textures, patterns and geometric forms that emerge through basketwork reflect an embodied knowledge which expresses mathematical and engineering comprehension. The therapeutic value of the craft is recognised through a selection of case studies which consider basketry as a healing process for patients with brain injury, mental health problems and as a memory aid for people living with dementia. This reclaims basketry's significant role in occupational therapy as an agent of recovery and well-being. Finally, basketry's inherently sustainable nature is also considered, demonstrating the continuation of basketry in spite of handwork's general decline and profiling new and recycled materials. Above all, the book envisages basketry as an intellectually rewarding means of knowing. It presents the craft as embodying care for skilled making and for the social and natural environments in which it flourishes.

Wild Basketry Ruby Taylor, 2025-05-08 A maker's guide to sourcing and harvesting foraged plants to make natural cordage and baskets. Making with our hands is a fundamental human activity; connection with the natural world and the feeling of belonging to place are basic human needs. A counterbalance to our digitalised lives is the wish to connect with the simple joy and satisfaction of creating beautiful and useful objects, tapping into ancestral skills and wisdom and taking care of our world by reducing our ecological impact. Wild Basketry brings all this together in a rich combination of reflection and practical guide. Beautiful photographs take you through a seasonal year of seven basketry and cordage projects, suitable for beginners as well as for those wishing to expand their basketmaking skills. Ruby Taylor guides you through each step, following a range of techniques with suggestions for further exploration to give you a thorough grounding in the fundamentals of the craft. Guidance on the principles of harvesting and processing plant fibres and contextual information about the evolution of basketry are covered throughout the book along with spotlights on several inspiring international artists Appalachian White Oak

Basketmaking Rachel Nash Law, Cynthia Wieboldt Taylor, 1991 In an era when baskets served as basic containers for gathering transporting and storing goods many settlers in the Central and Southern Appalachian mountain region found white oak the best material for basketmaking This book surveys the varied forms and techniques that evolved as basketmakers selected prepared and wove this wood The authors display special appreciation of white oak basketry as an important dimension of regional material culture Drawing on extensive fieldwork including interviews with traditional basketmakers in the Central Appalachian region Rachel Law and Cynthia Taylor establish a framework for classifying comparing and identifying Appalachian basketry forms In demonstrating how details of basket construction technique and style can be linked to specific makers regions and ethnic traditions the authors have created a resource essential for cultural historians collectors and craftspeople The three major types of white oak baskets rib rod and split are carefully delineated in this study Oak rodwork which previously has received little attention is extensively treated here as a specifically American adaptation of European willow basketmaking For all three major types this volume details construction techniques for numerous variants using copious illustrations and clear explanatory text Irish Economic and Social History ,2002
