

HOW TO CRAFT THE IDEAL INTERVIEW SCORECARD

Step 1

Identify key competencies

Select 5-8 specific competencies aligned with the job description, focusing on measurable skills.

Step 2

Establish a clear rating scale

Implement a 5-point or 3-point scale with explicit definitions to standardize evaluations.

Step 3

Save room for rich insights

Incorporate space for notes under each competency to provide context behind the scores.

Step 4

Consider additional scoring elements

Evaluate candidates on professionalism, culture fit, and engagement for a holistic assessment.

Step 5

Outline a scoring system

Use a clear, weighted scoring system with minimum thresholds for critical competencies.

Handbook of Interview Research Jaber F. Gubrium, James A. Holstein, 2002 The Handbook of Interview Research is the most ambitious attempt yet at examining the place of the interview in contemporary society. Interviewing is the predominant mode of research in the social sciences. It is also the stock in trade of information seekers in organizations and institutions of all kinds as well as in the mass media. Across the board interviews provide today's leading window on the world of experience. The Handbook offers a comprehensive examination of the interview at the cutting edge of information technology. Drawing upon leading experts from a wide range of professional disciplines, this book addresses conceptual and technical challenges that confront both academic researchers and interviewers with more applied goals. From interview theory to the nuts and bolts of the interview process, the coverage is impressively broad and authoritative. The Handbook of Interview Research is both encyclopedic and thematic. As an encyclopedia, it provides extensive discussions of the methodological issues now surrounding interview practice, offering a multi-faceted assessment of what has become the method of choice for obtaining personal information in today's society. But the Handbook also is a story which spins a particular tale of interviewing, one that moves from the commonly recognized individual interview to what is called the interview society. The gist of the presentation is that we can no longer regard the interview as simply an instrument for gathering data, but must now also view it as an integral part of society. Speechwriting Simon Lancaster, 2018-08-10

Speechwriting is the definitive guide to writing a speech, revealing all the tools and techniques of the trade, such as how to win an argument, construct a sound bite, and perform on stage. The first part of the book covers the arts of persuasion, argument, story telling, and metaphor, providing a solid grounding in the theory of speechwriting, which should appeal to anyone with an interest in politics, communication, or language. The second part covers the crafts of editing sound bites, media manipulation, performance, and strategy, giving invaluable practical guidance to professional or aspiring speechwriters. This book combines academic rigour with practical nous, drawing on lessons from Aristotle to Obama. It is the essential guide for anyone who writes speeches for themselves or others in politics, PR, or business. Inspecting the Interview Carsten Junker, 2024-09-03

Interviews are omnipresent in scholarship and public discourses. They play a crucial role in various spheres, from collecting research data to providing persons in the public eye a platform in print and online media. Interviews do not only capture a dialogue; they provide a framework in which dialogue gets staged. As such a framework, the interview protocols experiential knowledge and personal experience in certain ways according to interlocutors' different degrees of authority to speak. The volume contributes state-of-the-art research on what conclusions can be drawn from these and further reflections for a general assessment of the interview as method and form. It offers fundamental conceptualizations of the interview as a structured and mediated site of knowledge production. Theoreticians and practitioners assembled here conceptualize the interview from perspectives in different fields of the humanities and social sciences, such as linguistics, literary and cultural studies, musicology, psychology, and philosophy. Campaigning in the Twenty-First Century Dennis W. Johnson, 2016-02-12. In view of the 2016 US election season, the second edition of this book analyzes the way political campaigns have been traditionally run and the extraordinary changes that have occurred since 2012 Dennis W Johnson looks at the most sophisticated techniques of modern campaigning micro targeting online fundraising digital communication the new media and examines what has changed how those changes have dramatically transformed campaigning and what has remained fundamentally the same despite new technologies and communications Campaigns are becoming more open and free wheeling with greater involvement of activists especially through social media and average voters alike At the same time they have become more professionalized and the author has experience managing and marketing the process Campaigning in the Twenty First Century illustrates the daunting challenges for candidates and professional consultants as they try to get their messages out to voters Ironically the more open and robust campaigns become the greater is the need for seasoned flexible and imaginative professional consultants New to the Second Edition Includes coverage of the 2012 and 2014 elections looking ahead to 2016 Updates coverage of campaign finance since the landmark Citizens United Supreme Court decision Adds to the discussion of demographic and technological changes in elections since 2012

Islandscapes and Tourism Joseph M. Cheer, Solène Prince, Philip Hayward, 2023-04-07. The links between islands and tourism as sights of pleasure is embodied in the touristification of sun sand and sea. Islandscapes are central to the tourist imaginaries that shape islands as touristified places: curated, designed and commodified for both mass tourism and more niche inclined versions. Yet while islands are parlayed for touristic pleasure seekers islands are also home to longstanding communities that have variously battled with the tyranny of distance from metropolitan centres as well as the everyday challenges of climate change effects and benefitted from their isolation from modern day pressures. This anthology of articles previously published in the journal Shima explores emergent themes that describe how island peoples adapt and respond in localised cultural islandscapes as a consequence of tourism expansion. It is aimed at researchers in island studies tourism sustainability human geography cultural studies sociology and anthropology. The anthology will also be of interest to those with an abiding interest in the trajectories of islands and their peoples particularly where tourism has come to shape islandscapes.

The Art of Toshiko Takaezu Peter Held, 2011-04-15. Tracing the artistic development of renowned potter Toshiko Takaezu 1922-2011 this masterful study celebrates and analyzes an artist who held a significant place in the post World War II craft movement in America. Born in Hawaii of Japanese descent in 1922 Takaezu worked actively in clay fiber and bronze for over sixty years. Influenced by midcentury modernism her work transformed from functional vessels to abstract sculptural forms and installations. Over the years continued to draw on a combination of Eastern and Western techniques and aesthetics as well as her love of the natural world. In particular Takaezu's vertical closed forms became a symbol of her work created through a combination of wheel throwing and hand building techniques that allowed her to grow her vessels vertically and eased the circular restrictions of the wheel. In addition to her art Takaezu was renowned for her teaching including twenty years at Princeton University. This beautifully illustrated book offers the first scholarly analysis of Takaezu's life work and includes essays by Paul Smith director emeritus of the American Craft Museum and Janet Koplos former senior editor of Art in America. Jack Lenor Larsen a textile designer author collector and advocate of traditional and contemporary craftsmanship provides a foreword.

nation state etc Craig Staff explores particular instances wherein artists sought to extend the parameters of the object beyond what had been called into question namely the proclivity for modernist painting s strength to be understood as denoting amongst other things a perceived set of universal essences This book will be of interest to scholars working in art history fine art cultural studies critical theory curatorial studies and philosophy

The Top Books of the Year Craft Of The Media Interview The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. Craft Of The Media Interview : Colleen Hoovers "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
