Creating States Angela Esterhammer, 1994      Creating States Angela Esterhammer, 1994-01-01 A study of the language of visionary poetry making use of the principles of speech act philosophy to analyze the creative properties of utterance from the Bible to the work of Milton and Blake      Speech Acts in Blake's Milton Brian Russell Graham, 2022-11-16 Using a framework based on J L Austin's understanding of performative speech and Angela Esterhammer's work on how things are done with words in Milton's and Blake's poetry this study provides an extended close reading of the speech acts of characters in Blake's epic poem Milton With the exception of what we learn about in the part of the poem known as the Bard's Song Blake's Milton is dedicated to providing an incredibly detailed account of the numerous facets of the instant of time immediately prior to apocalypse an instant in which Milton is the protagonist and Blake himself a participant This study explores how in the poem sacred history proceeds towards and through the instant by means of the speech act This extended commentary is intended for not just Blake scholars but also the common reader who wishes to approach Blake's brief epic for the first time For scholars this monograph offers a full account of a crucial but previously unexplored theme in the scholarship about Milton For the common reader it offers a comprehensive introduction to what Northrop Frye called one of the most gigantic imaginative achievements in English poetry      William Blake and the Productions of Time Andrew M. Cooper, 2016-12-05 Challenging the idea that a writer's work reflects his experiences in time and place Andrew M Cooper locates the action of William Blake's major illuminated books in the ahistorical present an impersonal spirit realm beyond the three dimensional self Blake Cooper shows was a formalist who exploited eighteenth century scientific and philosophical research on vision sense and mind for spiritual purposes Through irony dialogism two way syntax and synesthesia Blake extended and refined the prophetic method Milton forged in Paradise Lost to bring the performativity of traditional oral song and storytelling into print Cooper argues that historicist attempts to place Blake's vision in perspective as opposed to seeing it for oneself involve a deeply self contradictory denial of his performativity as a poet artist Rather Blake's expansion of linear reading into a space of creative self conscious collaboration laid the basis for his lifelong critique of dualism in religion and science and anticipated the non Euclidean geometrics of twentieth century Modernism      Northrop Frye on Milton and Blake Northrop Frye, 2005-01-01 Angela Esterhammer a student of Frye's in the 1980s has provided annotation and an introduction that demonstrates the poet's importance for Frye's literary and cultural criticism and provides a twenty first century perspective on the legacy of his work      Blake, Nationalism, and the Politics of Alienation Julia M. Wright, 2004 Despite his reputation as a staunch individualist and repeated attacks on institutions that constrain the individual's imagination Julia Wright argues that William Blake rarely represents isolation positively and explores his concern with the kind of national community being established      Samson's Cords Alex Garganigo, 2018-01-01 Samson's Cords examines the radically different responses of John Milton Andrew Marvell and Samuel Butler to the existential crises caused by an explosion of loyalty oaths in Britain before and after 1660

Intertextuality and the Reading of Roman Poetry Lowell Edmunds, 2003-05-01 How can we explain the process by which a literary text refers to another text For the past decade and a half intertextuality has been a central concern of scholars and readers of Roman poetry In Intertextuality and the Reading of Roman Poetry Lowell Edmunds proceeds from such fundamental concepts as author text and reader which he then applies to passages from Vergil Horace Ovid and Catullus Edmunds combines close readings of poems with analysis of recent theoretical models to argue that allusion has no linguistic or semiotic basis there is nothing in addition to the alluding words that causes the allusion or the reference to be made Intertextuality is a matter of reading
