The 5 Principles of Successful Service Procurement

Whether they realize it or not, companies are increasingly dependent on external service providers to help them meet the current market demands. However, most procurement functions are caught up in their day-to-day operational tasks and lose sight of strategic decision making when procuring services. Read on to set yourself up for success in service procurement.

Creating A Successful E Information Service:

Creating a Successful E-information Service Sheila Pantry, Peter Griffiths, William Oldfield, 2003 To be successful information managers constantly need to reassess the effectiveness of their information services and to ascertain whether they are delivering the services their users actually need Given that information services can now transcend the restrictions of a particular physical location or specific opening hours it is more essential than ever to take advantage of the opportunities afforded by new technologies Through the use of case studies this resource shows how to revamp an existing service as well as how to create one from scratch Key issues covered include Introducing the concept of the e information service What kind of an information service do you want to provide Where are the customers What kind of information do your customers need and in what formats Who needs to be involved in your plans Budgeting for your e information service Keeping in touch with your customers Keeping one step ahead of your competitors Also includes an illustrated glossary of sample electronic services and a list of further information sources Regardless of the type or size of your organization this reference will help broaden your horizons as well as those of your users How to Give Your Users the LIS Services They Want Sheila Pantry, Peter Griffiths, 2009

In these turbulent times with the challenges of a constantly changing job market shifting information seeking behaviour and a vast array of new resources continually being produced library and information services need to constantly keep one step or more ahead of their users The benefits of analysing user behaviour are self evident better strategic planning cost benefits and better use of budgets better marketing satisfied customers satisfied management and a library or information unit that is central to the needs of your parent organization However paradoxically user needs and levels of expectation including those of remote users are often not fully explored This accessible text goes back to the basics and investigates the following key issues Why this book Defining your users Understanding users the what why where when how and who What is the current knowledge of user behaviour and needs is it really predictable Great expectations how LIS professionals can manage and train users Using information about past user behaviour Making the most of knowing your users Keeping track of changes in what users want Tracking the future electronic and social networking Future perfect Readership This book will help any library or information professional anywhere to take a fresh look at this important area and to tackle it in their organization so as to ensure that their users will always obtain exactly what they want Webmasters and knowledge managers will also find much to interest them Computers for Librarians Stuart J. Ferguson, Rodney Hebels, 2003-08-01

Computers for Librarians is aimed primarily at students of library and information management and at those library and information service professionals who feel the need for a book that will give them a broad overview of the emerging electronic library It takes a top down approach starting with applications such as the Internet information sources and services provision of access to information resources and library management systems before looking at data management computer systems and technology data communications and networking and library systems development It also provides an interesting set of case studies which help to put theoretical and technical issues into context Computers for Librarians can be read as a survey of where we are in terms of the electronic library but it is also intended as an educational resource and includes self learning aids such as learning objectives keywords and review questions for each chapter

Innovative Planning for Electronic Commerce and Enterprises Cheng Hsu,Somendra Pant,2007-05-08 Hsu and Pant in Innovative Planning for Electronic Commerce and Enterprises A Reference Model have proposed a management planning model for developing strategic goals for e commerce enterprises The authors feel they may be provocative sometimes however the field is so new that there is no working model for an e commerce enterprise with a proven success record In this book Hsu and Pant develop a framework for a working model This framework has three parts 1 The first part is the planning model and a methodology The planning model is based on principles derived from the literature and the author s research The methodology also uses Value Chain Analysis to connect e commerce goals with business processes 2 The second part evaluates the model and calibrates it to industrial cases and established scholarly results in the field 3 The last part consists of three exploratory plans for some industrial applications including supply chain integration Internet banking and customer service ordering for heavy industry About fifty cases are discussed in the book at various degrees of depth The three industrial cases illustrate how to apply the planning model using the methodology Hence the book s e commerce reference model is obtained from the planning model its methodology and the industrial benchmarks
