The Cambridge Companion to Medieval Jewish Philosophy Daniel H. Frank, Oliver Leaman, 2003-09-11 From the ninth to the fifteenth centuries Jewish thinkers living in Islamic and Christian lands philosophized about Judaism Influenced first by Islamic theological speculation and the great philosophers of classical antiquity and then in the late medieval period by Christian Scholasticism Jewish philosophers and scientists reflected on the nature of language about God the scope and limits of human understanding the eternity or createdness of the world prophecy and divine providence the possibility of human freedom and the relationship between divine and human law Though many viewed philosophy as a dangerous threat others incorporated it into their understanding of what it is to be a Jew This Companion presents all the major Jewish thinkers of the period the philosophical and non philosophical contexts of their thought and the interactions between Jewish and non Jewish philosophers It is a comprehensive introduction to a vital period of Jewish intellectual history     Theories of Perception in Medieval and Early Modern Philosophy Simo Knuuttila, Pekka Kärkkäinen, 2008-03-27 Sense perception is one of the classical themes in philosophy Although perhaps not among the most exciting topics it is traditionally considered a necessary preamble to many of these such as the mind body relationship consciousness knowledge and scepticism This introductory role is not the only reason for the philosophical interest in perception It is also a phenomenon which raises important questions about what is perceived how a perceptual experience is caused what the content of perception is whether this content is conceptual how perception is related to epistemic attitudes and so on While philosophical psychology is the main area in which perception is dealt with in contemporary philosophy it is also discussed in the theory of knowledge cognitive science philosophical aesthetics and metaphysics In recent years the rich tradition of various philosophical theories of perception has been increasingly studied by scholars of the history of philosophy of mind It may be added that there is of course a large number of scientific studies of perception in psychology physiology and contemporary neuroscience     Aristotle's Ethics as First Philosophy Claudia Baracchi, 2007-12-17 In Aristotle's Ethics as First Philosophy Claudia Baracchi demonstrates the indissoluble links between practical and theoretical wisdom in Aristotle's thinking Referring to a broad range of texts from the Aristotelian corpus Baracchi shows how the theoretical is always informed by a set of practices and specifically how one's encounter with phenomena the world or nature in the broadest sense is always a matter of ethos Such a modern intimation can thus be found at the heart of Greek thought Baracchi's book opens the way for a comprehensively reconfigured approach to classical Greek philosophy     Breaking with Athens Christopher A. Colmo, 2005-01-01 This unique interpretation of Alfarabi's thought stresses the ways in which the tenth century Arab philosopher self consciously broke the metaphysical tradition that began with Plato By examining Alfarabi's work as more than an extension or continuation of Greek philosophy Colmo rethinks what medieval philosophy is and challenges almost universal assumptions about the origins of modernity     Suffering in Mu'tazilite Theology Heemskerk, 2021-07-26 Abd al abb r d 1024 AD belonged to the Bah amiyya branch of the Basra Mu tazila The Mu tazilites upheld the principle of divine justice and from this perspective they attempted to explain the existence of pain and suffering This volume deals with Abd al abb r s opinions on different aspects of pain such as what pain is how it is perceived how it comes into existence how to judge the infliction of pain and for which purpose God imposes suffering on His creatures Attention is also given to opinions expressed by M nkd m and Ibn Mattawayh disciples of Abd al abb r Included is a historical survey of the Bah amiyya school The book sheds light on Abd al abb r s Mu tazilite method in dealing with the question of the existence of human suffering     History of Islamic Philosophy Seyyed Hossein Nasr, Oliver Leaman, 2013-03-07 Emphasising
