A Reader's Companion to the Novels and Short Stories of Evelyn Waugh Paul A. Doyle, 1988 An annotated glossary of the narratives a who's who among the characters a gazetteer of the principal places a description of the important proper names and an explanation of abbreviations used in the stories Foreign Correspondence Geraldine Brooks, 2011-01-26 As a young girl in a working class neighborhood of Sydney Australia Geraldine Brooks longed to discover the places where history happens and culture comes from so she enlisted pen pals who offered her a window on adolescence in the Middle East Europe and America Twenty years later Brooks an award winning foreign correspondent embarked on a human treasure hunt to find her pen friends She found men and women whose lives had been shaped by war and hatred by fame and notoriety and by the ravages of mental illness Intimate moving and often humorous Foreign Correspondence speaks to the unquiet heart of every girl who has ever yearned to become a woman of the world A Year by the Sea Joan Anderson, 2011-01-05 The basis for the major motion picture of the same name An entrancing memoir of how one woman's journey of self discovery gave her the courage to persevere in re-creating her life Life is a work in progress as ever changing as a sandy shoreline along the beach During the years Joan Anderson was a loving wife and supportive mother she had slowly and unconsciously replaced her own dreams with the needs of her family With her sons grown however she realized that the family no longer centered on the home she provided and her relationship with her husband had become stagnant Like many women in her situation Joan realized that she had neglected to nurture herself and worse to envision fulfilling goals for her future As her husband received a wonderful job opportunity out of state it seemed that the best part of her own life was finished Shocking both of them she refused to follow him to his new job and decided to retreat to a family cottage on Cape Cod At first casting about for direction Joan soon began to take pleasure in her surroundings and call on resources she didn't realize she had Over the course of a year she gradually discovered that her life as an unfinished woman was full of possibilities Out of that magical difficult transformative year came A Year by the Sea a record of her experiences and a treasury of wisdom for readers The Political in Margaret Atwood's Fiction Theodore F. Sheckels, 2016-02-24 Suggesting that politics and power are at the center of Margaret Atwood's fiction Theodore F. Sheckels examines Atwood's novels from The Edible Woman to The Year of the Flood Whether her treatment is explicit as in Bodily Harm and The Handmaid's Tale or by means of an exploration of interiority as in Cat's Eye and The Robber Bride Atwood's persistent concern is with how the empowered act towards those who are constrained within the political economic and social institutions that facilitate power dynamics

Sheckels identifies an increasing sophistication in Atwood's exposition of power over time that is revealed in the later novels engagement with social class postcolonialism and a globalism that merges science and commerce as issues relevant to politics and power Acknowledging that Atwood is not a political theorist but a novelist Sheckels does not suggest that her work should be viewed as political commentary but rather as a creative treatment of the laudable but ultimately only partially successful ways in which women and other groups resist the constraints placed on them by institutionalized oppression
