Ingraham,2004-06-01 Instantly every eye was fixed upon a young dark eyed brunette not more than seventeen years of age whose delicately olive shaded complexion was incardined with the richest blood her long fringed eyelids were cast to the floor and she stood silent beautiful conscious her pretty fingers picking in pieces a rose bud Never was a maiden of seventeen lovelier than she who now stood confessed before them the shrine of the handsome horseman s adoring reverence authorities They not only instruct they inspire Nobody deserves the privilege of growing up in this city who does not make himself familiar with these books They are epitomes of the history not only of this town but of a good many other Puritan towns It fills this place with memories of by gone scenes and deeds which were precious to the people of those times and are precious still to us their descendants or successors Numeric List of Lenders , American Illustrated Magazine ,1882
