Alzheimer Talk Text And Context Enhancing Communication:

Alzheimer Talk, Text and Context B. Davis, 2005-06-28 The contributors to this volume reference a shared longitudinal corpus of spontaneous conversation elicited in natural settings from speakers with moderate to late moderate Alzheimer's Disease utilizing other collections as appropriate to analyze conversation discourse and written text by and about Alzheimer's speech Cross disciplinary contributions from the USA Canada New Zealand and Germany representing linguistics gerontology geriatric nursing computer science and communications disorders report on empirically based investigations of social and pragmatic language competencies and strategies retained by AD patients which could ground communication enhancements or interventions

Phraseology Sylviane Granger, Fanny Meunier, 2008-06-01 Long regarded as a peripheral issue phraseology is now taking centre stage in a wide range of fields This recent explosion of interest undoubtedly has a great deal to do with the development of corpus linguistics research which has both demonstrated the key role of phraseological expressions in language and provided researchers with automated methods of extraction and analysis The aim of this volume is to take stock of current research in phraseology from a variety of perspectives theoretical descriptive contrastive cultural lexicographic and computational It contains overview chapters by leading experts in the field and a series of case studies focusing on a wide range of multiword units collocations similes idioms routine formulae and recurrent phrases The volume is an invitation for experienced phraseologists to look at the field with different eyes and a useful introduction for the many researchers who are intrigued by phraseology but need help in finding their way in this rich but complex domain

The Handbook of Clinical Linguistics Martin J. Ball, Nicole Müller, Elizabeth Spencer, 2024-01-04 The new edition of the leading reference work on Clinical Linguistics fully updated with new research and developments in the field The Handbook of Clinical Linguistics Second Edition provides a timely and authoritative survey of this interdisciplinary field exploring the application of linguistic theory and method to the study of speech and language disorders Containing 42 in depth chapters by an international panel of established and rising scholars this classic volume addresses a wide range of pathologies while offering valuable insights into key theory and research multilingual and cross linguistics factors analysis and assessment methods and more Now in its second edition The Handbook of Clinical Linguistics features nine entirely new chapters on clinical corpus linguistics multimodal analysis cognition and language the linguistics of sign languages clinical phonotactics typical and nontypical phonological development clinical phonology and phonological assessment and two chapters on instrumental analysis of voice and speech production Revised and expanded chapters incorporate new research in clinical linguistics and place greater emphasis on specific speech disorders connections to literacy and multilingualism This invaluable reference works Reflects the latest developments in new research and data as well as changing perspectives about the priorities and future of the field Features new and revised chapters throughout many with new authors or authorial teams Offers well rounded coverage of the major areas of the speech sciences in the study of communication disorders

Discusses how mainstream theories and descriptions of language are influenced by clinical research Building on the success of the first edition The Handbook of Clinical Linguistics Second Edition is an indispensable resource for researchers and advanced students across all areas of speech language sciences including speech disorders speech pathology speech therapy communication disorders cognitive linguistics and neurolinguistics Fillers, Pauses and Placeholders Nino Amiridze, Boyd H. Davis, Margaret MacLagan, 2010 Fillers are items that speakers insert in spontaneous speech as a repair strategy Types of fillers include hesitation markers and placeholders Both are used to fill pauses that arise during planning problems or in lexical retrieval failure However while hesitation markers may not bear any resemblance to lexical items they replace placeholders typically share some morphosyntactic properties with the target form Additionally fillers can function as a pragmatic tool in order to replace lexical items that the speaker wants to avoid mentioning for some reason The present volume is the first collection on the topic of fillers and will be a useful reference work for future investigations on the topic It consists of typological surveys and in depth studies exploring the form and use of fillers across languages and sections of different populations including cognitively impaired speakers The volume will be interesting to typologists and linguists working in discourse studies

Applying Linguistics in Health Research, Education, and Policy Brett A. Diaz, Robert W. Schrauf, 2022-11-07 Researchers in applied linguistics have found medical and health contexts to be fertile grounds for study from macro levels of conceptual analyses to micro levels of the turn by turn The rich array of health contexts include medical research itself clinical encounters medical education and training caregivers and patients in everyday life from the formal and ritualized to the ad hoc and ephemeral This volume foregrounds the crucial role of applied linguists addressing real world problems while simultaneously highlighting the varied ways that health can be understood as a rich site of language inquiry in its own right Chapters cover a range of health topics including medical training medical interaction disability in education health policy analysis and recommendations multidisciplinary research teams and medical ethics While reporting and reflecting on their specific topics in clinical and health contexts contributors also articulate their own hybrid identities as professional collaborators in health research education and policy

Corpus Linguistics Beyond the Word, 2015-07-14 This volume will be of particular interest to readers interested in expanding the applications of corpus linguistics techniques through new tools and approaches The text includes selected papers from the Fifth North American Symposium hosted by the Linguistics Department at Montclair State University in Montclair New Jersey in May 2004 The symposium papers represented several areas of corpus studies including language development syntactic analysis pragmatics and discourse language change register variation corpus creation and annotation and practical applications of corpus work primarily in language teaching but also in medical training and machine translation A common thread through most of the papers was the use of corpora to study domains longer than the word Not surprisingly fully half of the papers deal with the computational tools and linguistic strategies needed to search for and analyze these longer spans of language while most of the remaining papers examine particular syntactic and rhetorical properties of one or more corpora

Discourse Analysis in Adults With and Without Communication Disorders Carl Coelho, Leora R. Cherney, Barbara B. Dialogue and Dementia Robert W. Schrauf, Nicole Müller, 2013-11-20 This volume takes the positive view that conversation between persons with dementia and their interlocutors is a privileged site for ongoing cognitive engagement The book aims to identify and describe specific linguistic devices or strategies at the level of turn by turn talk that promote and extend conversation and to explore real world engagements that reflect these strategies Final reflections tie these linguistic strategies and practices to wider issues of the self and agency in persons with dementia Thematically the volume fosters an integrated perspective on communication and cognition in terms of which communicative resources are recognized as cognitive resources and communicative interaction is treated as reflecting cognitive engagement This reflects perspectives in cognitive anthropology and cognitive science that regard human cognitive activity as distributed and culturally rooted This volume is intended for academic researchers and advanced students in applied linguistics linguistic and medical anthropology nursing and social gerontology and practice professionals in speech language pathology and geropsychology

The Poetics and Politics of Alzheimer's Disease Life-Writing Martina Zimmermann, 2017-06-07 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license This is the first book length exploration of the thoughts and experiences expressed by dementia patients in published narratives over the last thirty years It contrasts third person caregiver and first person patient accounts from different languages and a range of media focusing on the poetical and political questions these narratives raise what images do narrators appropriate what narrative plot do they adapt and how do they draw on established strategies of life writing It also analyses how these accounts engage with the culturally dominant Alzheimer s narrative that centres on dependence and vulnerability and addresses how they relate to discourses of gender and aging Linking literary scholarship to the medico scientific understanding of dementia as a neurodegenerative condition this book argues that first patients articulations must be made central to dementia discourse and second committed alleviation of caregiver burden through social support systems and altered healthcare policies requires significantly altered views about aging dementia and Alzheimer s patients
