Alexander Kluge The Last Modernist:

Alexander Kluge: Cinema Impure: An Eclectic Modernist Style Peter C. Lutze, 1998 Through his films and theoretical writings and as a television producer teacher political lobbyist lawyer and public spokesman Alexander Kluge has played a substantial role in creating the New German Cinema as well as in German cultural politics Since 1961 Kluge has produced almost thirty films and hundreds of television programs written four volumes of fiction coauthored three major works of sociocultural theory and won almost every major literary and film prize in Germany Peter Lutze provides in depth analysis of Kluge's films and television work but also devotes attention to his political work In raising issues that have become key questions in contemporary debates about modernism and postmodernism Kluge's films and pronouncements demonstrate his modernist sensibility and an appropriation of modernist formal strategies for the purpose of the social critique The Last Modernist Peter Charles Lutze, 1991 The Last Modernist Peter C. Lutze, 1991 The Last Modernist Peter Charles Lutze, 1991 Alexander Kluge Tara Forrest, 2012 Alexander Kluge is best known as a founding member of the New German Cinema His work however spans a diverse range of fields and over the last fifty years he has been active as a filmmaker writer and television producer This work features scholarly essays plus articles stories and interviews involving Kluge from back cover Visions of Violence Richard Langston, 2008 Nazi Germany's campaign against degenerate art and its persecution of experimental artists pushed the avant garde in Germany to the brink of extinction This book examines how the avant garde came back after the war reconfiguring its aesthetics in the light of those years Cinema and Experience Miriam Hansen, 2012 Kracauer Film medium of a disintegrating world Curious Americanism Benjamin Actuality antinomies Aura the appropriation of a concept Mistaking the moon for a ball Micky Maus Room for play Adorno The question of film aesthetics Kracauer in exile Theory of film The Essay Film Timothy Corrigan, 2011-08 Why have certain kinds of documentary and non narrative films emerged as the most interesting exciting and provocative movies made in the last twenty years Ranging from the films of Ross McElwee Bright Leaves and Agnes Varda The Gleaners and I to those of Abbas Kiarostami Close Up and Ari Folman Waltz with Bashir such films have intrigued viewers who at the same time have struggled to categorize them Sometimes described as personal documentaries or diary films these eclectic works are rather best understood as cinematic variations on the essay So argues Tim Corrigan in this stimulating and necessary new book Since Michel de Montaigne essays have been seen as a lively literary category and yet despite the work of pioneers like Chris Marker seldom discussed as a cinematic tradition The Essay Film offering a thoughtful account of the long rapport between literature and film as well as novel interpretations and theoretical models provides the ideas that will change this The New German Cinema Caryl Flinn, 2004 This study of New German cinema identifies different styles of historical remembrance in which music participates It concentrates on how listeners are urged to interact with difference including Germany's difficult past rather than try to master or get past it A House Made of Light George E. Toles, 2001 An examination of how the escapism offered by movies is really a form of homecoming for the viewer Reading Cavell's The World Viewed William Rothman, Marian Keane, 2000 A philosophical reexamination of Stanley Cavell's The World Viewed In their thoughtful study of one of Stanley Cavell's greatest yet most neglected books William Rothman and Marian Keane address this eminent philosopher's many readers from a variety of disciplines who have neither understood why he has given film so much attention nor grasped the place of The World Viewed within the totality of his writings about film Rothman and Keane also reintroduce The World Viewed to the field of film studies When the new field entered universities in the late 1960s it predicated its legitimacy on the conviction that the medium's artistic achievements called for serious criticism and on the corollary conviction that no existing field was capable of the criticism filmed called for The study of film needed to found itself intellectually upon a philosophical investigation of the conditions of the medium and art of film Such was the challenge The World Viewed took upon itself However film studies opted to embrace theory as a higher authority than our experiences of movies divorcing itself from the philosophical perspective of self reflection apart from which The World Viewed teaches we cannot know what movies mean or what they are Rothman and Keane now argue that the poststructuralist theories that dominated film studies for a quarter of a century no longer compel conviction Cavell's brilliant and beautiful book can provide a sense of liberation to a field that has forsaken its original calling read in a way that acknowledges its philosophical achievement The World Viewed can show the field a way to move forward by rediscovering its passion for the art of film Reading Cavell's The World Viewed will prove invaluable to scholars and students of film and philosophy and to those in other fields such as literary studies and American studies who have found Cavell's work provocative and fruitful

Light Motives Randall Halle, Margaret McCarthy, 2003 Light Motives undertakes a long overdue critical reassessment of German popular cinema challenging the traditional view of German film history and offering new ways to think about popular cinema in general Hollywood Destinies Graham Petrie, 2002 Originally published in 1986 Hollywood Destinies was the first full length detailed study of the careers of major European filmmakers including Ernst Lubitsch F W Murnau Victor Sjöström and Mauritz Stiller all of whom left their native countries to work in Hollywood during the 1920s This edition contains recent scholarship on the reception of foreign films and directors in America in the 1920s analyzes films that were not previously available and includes a revised and updated bibliography Writing in Light Joanne Bernardi, 2001 A new look at an important era of Japanese cinema featuring translations of key scripts Nothing that is Sarah Lynn Higley, Jeffrey Andrew Weinstock, 2004 Daniel Myrick and Eduardo Sanchez's The Blair Witch Project seemingly appeared from nowhere to become one of 1999's highest grossing films While generating revenue as a low budget movie backed by a media blitz The Blair Witch Project also generated controversy and made a mockery of the Hollywood industry billing itself as real footage of a supernatural event Critics were divided over some of the most basic questions whether the film was an artistic success or the product of its hype for example and whether it challenged Hollywood conventions or succumbed to them in the end Nothing That Is The Blair Witch Controversies examines these and other debates and initiates some of its own about American taste for horror hoax independent films the Internet and the direction of cinema in the twenty first century The book explores the modest origins and rapid demise of this independent film while also analyzing the sensational results of its broad media discourses a Web site developing the back story of The Blair Witch Project was one of the most accessed sites on the entire Internet at the time of the movie s release These essays from many diverse perspectives also look at The Blair Witch Project s manipulation of cinematic codes its view on technology and the occult its film progenitors and even its effects on the film s setting of Burkittsville Maryland Nothing That Is will interest both film scholars and fans of this unexpected blockbuster that emerged from if not nothing a complex brew of culture technology and ingenuity Leaving Springfield John Alberti,2004 Since its first appearance as a series of cartoon vignettes in 1987 and its debut as a weekly program in 1990 The Simpsons has had multiple even contradictory media identities Although the show has featured biting political and social satire which often proves fatal to mass public acceptance The Simpsons entered fully into the mainstream consistently earning high ratings from audiences and critics alike Leaving Springfield addresses the success of The Simpsons as a corporate manufactured show that openly and self reflexively parodies the very consumer capitalism it simultaneously promotes By exploring such topics as the impact of the show s satire on its diverse viewing public and the position of The Simpsons in sitcom and television animation history the commentators develop insights into the ways parody intermixes with mass media to critique post modern society In spite of the longevity and high cultural profile of the show The Simpsons has so far attracted only scattered academic attention Leaving Springfield will be of importance to both scholars of media and fans of the show interested in the function of satire in popular culture in general and television in particular To Change Reels Isabel Balseiro,Ntongela Masilela,2003 With the end of apartheid South African cinema is at a turning point in its history This collection offers an exploration of a film industry that has excluded its country s black majority in both representation and production and which now must overcome collusion between racist ideology and film form Until recently filmmakers could work only within a culture that reluctantly took black South Africans into account Therefore to explore what South African cinema has been and could become the authors do not limit their discussion to film production but approach cinema as a manifestation of cultural history How has the purpose of cinema been viewed at different times in South Africa by different governments and social groups What is the relation between film and a sense of nationhood in South Africa Such questions lead to a consideration not only of films made by South Africans in South Africa but also of an unfolding film culture within a series of stages that have yet to give rise to a national cinema Feminist Hollywood Christina Lane,2000 Feminist Hollywood examines the differences between commercial cinema and counter cinema by focusing on the work of contemporary women directors who have entered Hollywood from the realm of independent filmmaking Christina Lane compares their early documentaries or avant garde films with their more mainstream endeavors

as she explores the possibilities and limits of feminist expression within the male dominated industry of commercial filmmaking Feminist Hollywood incorporates interviews with directors Susan Seidelman Martha Coolidge Kathryn Bigelow Lizzie Borden Darnell Martin and Tamra Davis in an attempt to bridge the theory gap that often excludes women s professional experiences and makes false assumptions about how the industry operates Lane balances these firsthand accounts with cultural theory and an understanding of the current film industry in which the line between commercial and independent filmmaking has become blurred The timely and comprehensive nature of this volume will make it a welcome addition to the bookshelves of film scholars and amateur movie buffs alike German National Cinema Sabine Hake,2008

German National Cinema is the first comprehensive history of German film from its origins to the present In this new edition Sabine Hake discusses film making in economic political social and cultural terms and considers the contribution of Germany s most popular films to changing definitions of genre authorship and film form The book traces the central role of cinema in the nation s turbulent history from the Wilhelmine Empire to the Berlin Republic with special attention paid to the competing demands of film as art entertainment and propaganda Hake also explores the centrality of genre films and the star system to the development of a filmic imaginary This fully revised and updated new edition will be required reading for everyone
