known Crazy Ji The author uses the evolution of the cult of this eccentric deity to address central questions regarding the nature of the Chinese religion tradition its relation to the Chinese social structure and the role of vernacular fiction and popular media in shaping religious beliefs in China Meir Shara demonstrates that vernacular novels and oral literature played a major role in the dissemination of knowledge about deities and the growth of cults and argues that the body of religious beliefs and practices we call Chinese religion is inseparable from the works of fiction and drama that have served as vehicles for its transmission His analysis of the cult of Crazy Ji shows that far from being as is often argued a mirror of the Chinese bureaucratic order Chinese religion offers a means of liberation from it Finally this study of the cult of Crzy Ji illustrates how lay believers influenced the practices of organized religion in this case monastic Buddhism This study employs the analytical concepts of anthropology and literary criticism and is based on literary historical and ethnographic sources ranging from oral literature vernacular novels puppet plays television serials movies local gazetteers to monastic histories

Abraham—Called by God Witness Lee, 2024-01-19 Abraham was the same as we are today He never dreamed of being called by God Suddenly while he and his relatives were in Chaldea worshipping other gods the God of glory appeared to him This appearing was a great attraction enabling him to come out of his fallen background and accept God s calling Although Abraham answered God s call he did not do so immediately nor absolutely Although he learned to live by faith he had serious failures along the way He followed God in a way not unlike us all Eventually he was brought to know grace for the fulfillment of God s purpose In a remarkable commentary on the life of Abraham from the book of Genesis Witness Lee presents Abraham as a genuine man not unlike us all fallen but called by God Like him we have seen the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ and have been attracted to follow Him Like him we must learn the lessons of faith through trials testing and failure in order to enter into the promises and blessings of God Abraham Called by God taken from the Life study of Genesis presents a unique and vital view of the father of our faith
