to delineate the major types of grounded theory Beyond the Power Mystique Robert Prus,1999-02-25 Despite the considerable attention given to power by foundational sources such as Machiavelli Hobbs Weber Durkheim and Marx and those social theorists who have built on their works surprisingly little attention has been given to the study of power as an enacted feature of community life Locating power more directly within a symbolic interactionist framework Beyond the Power Mystique not only enables scholars to permeate much of the mystique shrouding power but explicitly viewing power as intersubjective accomplishment the material presented here fosters a research agenda that is highly attentive to the collectively articulated aspects of power relations Consideration is given to the ways in which power is brought into existence implemented experienced sustained objectified resisted dissipated and reconstituted in actual practice Addressing the full range of associations occurring in all human arenas from small group settings to large scale theaters of operations this volume provides a conceptually viable means of synthesizing so called macro and micro realms of power Prus considers people s definitions of and routings into situations of power as well as the dilemmas they face the strategies they assume and the limitations they encounter as they enter into interchanges with others on both more individualized and collectively coordinated bases and in both long term and more situated instances The Palgrave Handbook of Methodological Individualism Nathalie Bulle,Francesco Di Iorio,2023-12-28 While methodological individualism is a fundamental approach within the social sciences it is often misunderstood This highlights the need for a discursive and up to date reference work analyzing this approach s classic arguments and assumptions in the light of contemporary issues in sociology economics and philosophy This two volume handbook presents the first comprehensive overview of methodological individualism Chapters discuss historical and contemporary debates surrounding this central approach within the social sciences as well as cutting edge developments related to the individualist tradition with philosophical and scientific implications Bringing together multiple contributions from the world s leading experts on this important tradition of theorizing this collective endeavor provides teachers researchers and students in sociology economics and philosophy with a reliable and critical understanding of the founding principles key thinkers and intellectual development of MI since the late 19th century Socio-Technical Futures Shaping the Present Andreas Lösch,Armin Grunwald,Martin Meister,Ingo Schulz-Schaeffer,2019-11-11 The exploration of ways to conceptualize the shaping of the present by socio technical futures is the aim of this volume Therefore it brings together contributions from Science and Technology Studies and Technology Assessment which focus all on the question how socio technical images of the future shape present processes of innovation and transformation starting from empirical case studies and generalizing specific findings or by tackling conceptual questions from the outset A white paper of 23 authors which aims to sensitize researchers and practitioners completes the volume Studies in Symbolic Interaction Norman K. Situated Cognition David Kirshner, James A. Whitson, 2021-12-16 This book is a result of a symposium at a recent annual meeting of the American Educational Research Association that explored foundational issues relative to situated cognition theory Its chapters contribute to discourse about repositioning situated cognition theory within the broader supporting disciplines and to resolving the problematics addressed within the book There is a cumulative vision to the book its theme is that the notion of the individual in situated cognition theory needs to be fundamentally reformulated No theoretical reconfiguration of the social world or of social practices can overcome an individual cast in the dualist tradition This reformulation probes the physiological psychoanalytic and semiotic constitution of persons Chapters authors cover a wide range of topics including transfer of training arguing that traditional cognitive psychology has found precious little evidence of people's ability to apply knowledge gained in one context to the problems encountered in another ecosocial systems a new object of inquiry for situated cognition theory in which the primary units of analysis are not things or people but processes and practices how linkages between discursive practices are manifested as semiotic chaining of signifiers for individuals engaged in everyday activities at home or at school how the ability to function in ways that are consistent with logic emerges not through reflective abstraction on actions but through an enhanced sense of agency as more responsible roles are adopted in daily life practices the mutual constitution of social and individual knowledge familiar terms and concepts normally available through linguistic labels are cultural models to be distinguished from the variegated and hidden mid level meanings that reflect their situated uses in social activity the material neurological substrate through which cultural models and mid level meanings emerge and how learning environments can be structured to take advantage of the perceptual underpinnings of cognition Making Meteorology Mikaela Sundberg, 2005 This thesis is about the production of knowledge in meteorological research Meteorology is an interesting case because of its crucial role in defining the climate change problem but also because of its reliance on simulation modeling a comparatively little studied scientific practice The thesis provides an analysis of the central practices of simulation modeling and field experimentation It draws upon concepts from social world theory where practice is closely related to work The thesis also employs the notion of translation as developed by the actor network approach in order to analyse how different practices and entities become associated with each other Empirical data was collected with interviews and participant observation and most of the fieldwork was conducted at the Department of Meteorology Stockholm University Bridging the Divide between Faculty and Administration James L. Bess, Jay R. Dee, 2014-06-20 Conflicts between faculty and administration have become particularly virulent and disruptive in recent years as institutions have struggled to adapt to intensifying pressures for efficiency and accountability Analyzing common sources of conflict and challenges on campus that impede attempts to address these conflicts Bridging the Divide between Faculty and Administration provides a theory driven and research based approach for authentic discourse between faculty and administration This important resource presents a wealth of strategies for improving communication in colleges and universities ultimately enhancing organizational effectiveness and institutional performance Special Features End of chapter Implications for Practice provide practical tips and advice for faculty and administrators to use in their own contexts Analysis of actual conflicts based on extensive interviews with administrators and faculty across a variety of college and university settings Exploration of creative ways for faculty and administrators to work across differences in their belief systems and to address the underlying sources of conflict The Social World after COVID-19 Paulo Alexandre e Castro, 2022-11-09 This collection discusses different aspects of the COVID 19 pandemic which began in December 2019 in Wuhan China brought together under the slogan of social worlds It is a book dedicated to thinking a posteriori about the implications and consequences of the pandemic bearing in mind that it was a challenge political social economic and philosophical that tested the limits of human nature and the condition of humans in a world whose logic seems to slip away In this sense this volume brings together different approaches to this topic ranging from philosophy to sociology and from politics to social work thus constituting an original work on such a delicate issue Online Communication and Collaboration Helen Donelan, Karen Kear, Magnus Ramage, 2012-07-26 Communication and collaboration via the Internet has risen to great prominence in recent years especially with the rise of social networking Web 2 0 and virtual worlds Many interesting and worthwhile studies have been conducted on the technology involved and the way it is used and shaped by its user communities From some of the more popular coverage of these interactions it might be thought that these are new phenomena However they draw on a rich heritage of technologies and interactions Online communication and collaboration presents a very timely set of articles that cover a range of different perspectives upon these themes both classic and contemporary It is unusually broad in the range of technologies it considers many books on these topics cover only a few forms of collaboration technology and in considering well established technologies as well as recent ones It blends academic and popular articles to combine scholarly rigour with readability The book is divided into eight sections covering the foundations of online communication and collaboration together with current collaboration technologies such as wikis instant messaging virtual worlds and social network sites These modern communication tools are considered in terms of their interactions but also looking back at lessons to be learnt from their technological ancestors The book also contains an extended case study of online collaboration taking open source software as its example Online communication and collaboration will be of relevance in a wide range of higher education courses in fields related to soft computing information systems cultural and media studies and communications theory
