The Antecedents and Consequences of Alternative Staffing

Strategies Jae Eun Lee, 2016 I explore the antecedents and consequences of law firm staffing strategies My dissertation consists of five chapters including an introduction an overview of the legal industry two empirical papers and a conclusion

Law firms have gone through a major transformation of their business and staffing strategies over the last decade providing a valuable empirical context for my research questions Faced with an increasingly competitive business environment law firms have revised their staffing models to varying degrees and the effectiveness of different staffing strategies is largely under investigated Several findings of my research are noteworthy First despite the general perception that law firms have mostly moved away from the internal development of human capital to a market-oriented external acquisition approach firms differ in the extent to which they rely on internal versus external staffing strategies Firms combine both internal and external staffing to varying degrees and firm staffing strategies change across years Second as firms are embedded within the society and economy firm level phenomena are subject to multiple internal and external contingencies I find that a firm's staffing is influenced by firm level practices as well as the firm's structural and local market conditions Third staffing strategies are correlated with firm level performance outcomes and the relationship becomes more visible when the staffing strategy is measured over a longer time frame This is consistent with the resource based view of the firm and with human capital theory in that it takes time for resources in this case human capital to create positive returns This study is among the few studies that examine the temporal relationships between resource inputs and performance outcomes Overall my dissertation shows that internal labor markets are still relevant and important for law firms staffing strategies and performance Despite the growing interest in taking advantage of workers prior experience and staffing through external labor markets a majority of firms still hire workers without experience and promote employees from within They do so however to a varying degree and the extent to which they rely on internal labor markets not only depends on both internal and external contingencies but also has a direct impact on firm level performance outcomes The findings are relevant not only for professional service firms but also for firms that rely on human capital for their business operation and firm performance

The future of the UK's strategic nuclear deterrent Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee, 2006-12-19 In its White Paper published in December 2006 as Cm 6994 ISBN 0101699425 on the future of the UK's nuclear deterrent the Government reaffirmed its commitment to maintain the submarine based Trident weapons system This will require the procurement of a new generation of nuclear powered Trident submarines to replace the current fleet of Vanguard class submarines Following on from the Committee's earlier report on the strategic context and timetable for decision making on the renewal of the UK's nuclear deterrent HCP 986 session 2005 06 ISBN 0215029445 this report focuses on issues related to the UK manufacturing and skills base These include the level of investment needed to sustain essential infrastructure and core skills in the UK submarine construction industry the potential consequences of a gap in the submarine building programme for the long term viability of the domestic manufacturing and skills base the implications of the rationalisation of the UK shipbuilding industry for the construction maintenance and affordability of a Vanguard class successor and the linkage between the Government's Defence Industrial Strategy and the decision on retention replacement or abolition of the UK's Trident system It also examines the Government's investment programme at the Atomic Weapons Establishment and the possible impact of a new civil nuclear build programme for the retention of nuclear skills and expertise in the military sector Toward a Disposable Workforce United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Labor and Human Resources. Subcommittee on Labor,1993 The Oxford Handbook of Diversity and Work Quinetta M. Roberson,2013-01-31 Greater workforce diversity and business trends make the management of such diversity an important challenge for organizational leaders The Oxford Handbook of Diversity and Work offers a comprehensive review of current theory and research and stimulates thoughtful and provocative conversation about future study of diversity in the workplace Savannah River Plant, Aiken, Continued Operation of K-, L- and P-reactors ,1990 Final Environmental Impact Statement ,1990 Essentials of Physician Practice Management Blair A. Keagy,Marci S. Thomas,2012-06-14 Essentials of Physician Practice Management offers a practical reference for administrators and medical directors and provides a comprehensive text for those preparing for a career in medical administration practice management and health plan administration Essentials of Physician Practice Management is filled with valuable insights into every aspect of medical practice management including operations financial management strategic planning regulation and risk management human resources and community relations New Staffing Strategies for the 90s ,1992 Winning Strategies in a Deconstructing World Rudi K. F. Bresser,Michael A. Hitt,Robert D. Nixon,Dieter Heuskel,2000-12-19 The end of the nineteenth century saw the construction of the vertically integrated value chains that came to define modern business The end of the twentieth century witnessed their deconstruction In industries across the economy markets are intruding on the web of proprietary arrangements that have held these chains together As they do the boundaries defining business companies and industries are coming under attack radically transforming the nature of competition Powerful forces such as globalization and deregulation are undermining the logic and practice of traditional vertical integration but the most powerful partly because it acts as catalyst and an accelerator is a revolution in the economics of information This shift in information economics is giving birth to a myriad of new strategic options. The consequences of deconstruction for the strategic management of the firm as well as for the firm itself are dramatic. Deconstruction forces a fundamental rethinking of some of the basic principles of strategy which will impact on the concepts of the portfolio forms of organizational structure, styles of leadership, mechanisms for acquiring and managing knowledge and approaches to uncertainty and risk. This, the latest volume in the Strategic Management Series, explores the implications of the value chain deconstruction for strategy, the changes in strategic thinking and the action necessary to cope with the challenges and opportunities. Bringing together contributions from key figures in the field of strategy in both practice and academia, this book, as with other books in the series, addresses the ideas and issues at the forefront of strategic management theory and practice. Patient Flow:

Reducing Delay in Healthcare Delivery Randolph Hall, 2006-10-11. Patient Flow: Reducing Delay in Healthcare Delivery is dedicated to improving healthcare through reducing the delays experienced by patients. One aspect of this goal is to improve the flow of patients so that they do not experience unnecessary waits as they flow through a healthcare system. Another aspect is ensuring that services are closely synchronized with patterns of patient demand. Still another aspect is ensuring that ancillary services such as housekeeping and transportation are fully coordinated with direct patient care. It is the first book devoted to have reduction in patient delay as its sole focus and therefore provides the foundation by which hospitals can implement change. Reflecting the highly interdisciplinary and practitioner nature of this book, the chapters have been written by doctors, nurses, industrial engineers, system engineers, and geographers, and thus these perspectives provide the comprehensive view needed to address the problem of patient delay. PHR, PHRi and SPHR, SPHRi Human Resources Certification Complete Study Guide Sandra M.
