Grosswald, 2012-12-06 During the academic year 1980 1981 I was teaching at the Technion the Israeli Institute of Technology in Haifa The audience was small but consisted of particularly gifted and eager listeners unfortunately their background varied widely What could one offer such an audience so as to do justice to all of them I decided to discuss representations of natural integers as sums of squares starting on the most elementary level but with the intention of pushing ahead as far as possible in some of the different directions that offered themselves quadratic forms theory of genera generalizations and modern developments etc according to the interests of the audience A few weeks after the start of the academic year I received a letter from Professor Gian Carlo Rota with the suggestion that I submit a manuscript for the Encyclopedia of Mathematical Sciences under his editorship I answered that I did not have a ready manuscript to offer but that I could use my notes on representations of integers by sums of squares as the basis for one Indeed about that time I had already started thinking about the possibility of such a book and had in fact quite precise ideas about the kind of book I wanted it to be Internal Reconstruction in Indo-European Jens Elmegård Rasmussen, Thomas Olander, 2009 With text in English German this book contains papers from the XVI International Conference on Historical Linguistics held at the University of Copenhagen Quadratic and Hermitian Forms McMaster University, 1984 Contains the proceedings of the 1983 Seminar on Quadratic and Hermitian Forms held at McMaster University July 1983 Between 1945 and 1965 most of the work in quadratic and hermitian forms took place in

Lehmann, Joachim Mugdan, 2000 This series of HANDBOOKS OF LINGUISTICS AND COMMUNICATION SCIENCE is designed to illuminate a field which not only includes general linguistics and the study of linguistics as applied to specific languages but also covers those more recent areas which have developed from the increasing body of research into the manifold forms of communicative action and interaction For classic linguistics there appears to be a need for a review of the state of the art which will provide a reference base for the rapid advances in research undertaken from a variety of theoretical standpoints while in the more recent branches of communication science the handbooks will give researchers both an overview and orientation To attain these objectives the series will aim for a standard comparable to that of the leading handbooks in other disciplines and to this end will strive for comprehensiveness theoretical explicitness reliable documentation of data and findings and up to date methodology The editors both of the series and of the individual volumes and the individual contributors are committed to this aim The languages of publication are English German and French The main aim of the series is to provide an appropriate account of the state of the art in the various areas of linguistics and communication science covered by each of the various handbooks however no inflexible pre set limits will be imposed on the scope of each volume The series is open ended and can thus take account of further developments in the field This conception coupled with the necessity of allowing adequate time for each volume to be prepared with the necessary care means that there is no set time table for the publication of the whole series Each volume will be a self contained work complete in itself The order in which the handbooks are published does not imply any rank ordering but is determined by the way in which the series is organized the editor of the whole series enlist a competent editor for each individual volume Once the principal editor for a volume has been found he or she then has a completely free hand in the choice of co editors and contributors The editors plan each volume independently of the others being governed only by general formal principles The series editor only intervene where questions of delineation between individual volumes are concerned It is felt that this modus operandi is best suited to achieving the objectives of the series namely to give a competent account of the present state of knowledge and of the perception of the problems in the area covered by each volume
