Handbook of Research on Family Literacy Practices and Home-School Connections Fox, Kathy R., Szech, Laura E., 2022-06-24 Research has shown that families and schools that partner together improve literacy outcomes for their students Family literacy includes homework and shared book reading but goes beyond these school to home activities to encompass family generated practices These literacies include family connections around activities such as cooking play religion social and community groups Further study on the importance of the partnership between the home and school is required to implement best practices and provide students with the best possible education The Handbook of Research on Family Literacy Practices and Home School Connections seeks to understand the connections made and new information learned during the COVID 19 pandemic surrounding family literacy and shares updated practices and new perspectives on what it means to partner with families and embrace diverse family literacies in this new world The book also provides teachers perspectives on how future relationships between the school and home can be shaped through both narrative and research based chapters Covering key topics such as parenting homework and social distancing this major reference work is ideal for administrators school faculty academicians scholars practitioners instructors and students

Language, Memory, and Cognition in Infancy and Early Childhood Janette B. Benson, Marshall M. Haith, 2010-05-22 Language cognition and memory are traditionally studied together prior to a researcher specializing in any one area They are studied together initially because much of the development of one can affect the development of the others Most books available now either tend to be extremely broad in the areas of all infant development including physical and social development or specialize in cognitive development language acquisition or memory Rarely do you find all three together despite the fact that they all relate to each other This volume consists of focused articles from the authoritative Encyclopedia of Infant and Early Childhood Development and specifically targets the ages 0 3 Providing summary overviews of basic and cutting edge research coverage includes attention assessment bilingualism categorization skills critical periods learning disabilities reasoning speech development etc This collection of articles provides an essential affordable reference for researchers graduate students and clinicians interested in cognitive development language development and memory as well as those developmental psychologists interested in all aspects of development Focused content on age 0 3 saves time searching for and wading through lit on full age range for developmentally relevant info Concise understandable and authoritative easier to comprehend for immediate applicability in research
