Of The Shark:

Immunobiology of the Shark Sylvia L. Smith, Robert B. Sim, Martin F. Flajnik, 2014-12-04 Immunity studies in sharks over the past three decades have produced some remarkable discoveries If one message rings true it is that alternative animal model systems such as sharks and their relatives have contributed very substantially to a better understanding of the development evolution of our own immune system Immunobiology of the Shark describes the cellular genetic and molecular specifics of immune systems in sharks Diverse approaches were employed to study the immunobiology of the shark from basic microscopic observations to detailed genome annotation The book also raises a series of fascinating questions which can be addressed experimentally using today's technology This book will be a valuable resource for mainstream immunologists comparative immunologists geneticists ecologists evolutionary biologists and investigators engaged in shark research The book also aims to illustrate the magnificence of these animals as model systems and underscores the importance of their study to further understand their complex and often enigmatic biology Field Identification Guide to the Sharks and Rays of the Red Sea and Gulf of Aden Ramón Bonfil, Mohamed Abdallah, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2004-01-01 This volume presents a fully illustrated field guide for the identification of the sharks and rays most relevant to the fisheries of the Red Sea and Gulf of Aden An extensive literature review and two field surveys in the region were carried out for the preparation of this document A total of 49 sharks and 45 batoids reliably reported for the region are listed and those common in the fisheries or likely to be found through fisheries operations are fully treated The guide includes sections on technical terms and measurements for sharks and batoids and fully illustrated keys to those orders and families that occur in the region Color plates for a large number of the species are included Myth and Maneater David Kenyon Webster, 1962 Additions to a Revision of the Shark Genus Carcharhinus J. A. F. Garrick, 1985 Features of the valid nominal species of Aprionodon Gill isodon Valenciennes and Hypoprion M ller and Henle hemiodon Valenciennes macloiti M ller and Henle and signatus Poey plus those of a previously unrecognized species here described as Carcharhinus leiodon n sp are examined and compared with those of Carcharhinus Blainville Features studied include morphometrics vertebral numbers and other vertebral characteristics tooth numbers color pattern and some other aspects of external morphology It is concluded that on these features C Leiodon n sp is entirely encompassed within the parameters of Carcharhinus and that although A isodon H hemiodon H macloiti and H signatus each extend the range of diversity of Carcharhinus in one or more features A isodon is not uniquely different from Carcharhinus and there is no common pattern of difference between the three species of Hypoprion and Carcharhinus Accordingly and because the nature of the teeth of Aprionodon and Hypoprion has been found insufficient to warrant generic distinction from Carcharhinus the genera Aprionodon and Hypoprion are synonymised with Carcharhinus A diagnosis and description are given for each of the above species The descriptions include measurements counts and line illustrations that show the whole shark in lateral view underside of head nostril and teeth The geographic distribution is summarized as are also the meager biological data available on number of embryos size at birth size at sexual maturity and maximum size

Sharks of the Shallows Jeffrey C. Carrier, 2017-07-28 Agile sleek and precise sharks display many qualities we can admire and appreciate These marvels of evolution have adapted to thrive in every major aquatic realm on the planet from frigid Arctic waters through temperate but stormy seas and on into the tropics However few places on Earth are home to the amazing diversity of shark species that beautify the shallow waters of Florida and the Bahamas In this first ever book dedicated to the sharks of this region biologist Jeffrey C Carrier reveals the captivating lives of these large marine predators and describes how they have survived for over 400 million years Guiding readers through basic biology key attributes and identification tips the book explores what makes sharks such successful apex predators Carrier explains fascinating phenomena including the reason for the bizarre shape of the hammerhead how a bull shark is able to swim hundreds of miles up freshwater rivers what lies behind sharks remarkable capability to learn and remember and why many scientists believe that they are equipped with the most sophisticated sensory systems in the animal kingdom With the stunning full color underwater photography of Andy Murch Jillian Morris and Duncan Brake Sharks of the Shallows brings boaters fishers divers and shark lovers directly alongside these unfairly maligned creatures And not a moment too soon Sharks are experiencing stresses unlike any in their long history and are struggling to survive in a changing ocean They will continue to grace our coastlines only if we care enough to understand them

The Sharks of North America Jose I. Castro, 2011-07-28 A complete reference to all the sharks inhabiting North American waters with excellent color illustrations of all the species

Fishery Management Plan (Fisheries Management Plan (FMP)) for Sharks of the Atlantic Ocean, 1992 A Preliminary Evaluation of the Status of Shark Species José Ignacio Castro, Christa M. Woodley, Rebecca L. Brudek, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1999 The status of shark species is reviewed based on the available data A review of the history of shark fisheries demonstrates that intensive shark fisheries are not sustainable Numerous problems are encountered in assessing shark populations a general lack of biological and fishery data lack of suitable models and lack of validated age estimates Sharks have an unusual combination of biological characteristics slow growth and delayed maturation long reproductive cycles low fecundity and long life spans These characteristics make them vulnerable to overfishing A preliminary evaluation of the status of shark species is made on the basis of historical data the reproductive potential of each species and the level of exploitation of the species In this document exploited shark species are classified numerically according to their vulnerability The majority of these species are listed as Category 1 indicating that there are not sufficient data to assess the species Available data indicate that sharks are very vulnerable and are threatened by overexploitation in many parts of the world
