Conceptual Framework Project, 1973-1985 Pelham Gore,1992 This work investigates why the Financial Accounting Standards Board s Conceptual Framework Project 1973 1985 which sought to set down financial reporting standards for accounting attracted so much criticism The author suggests that a CF is expected to bear too heavy a load but that it cannot furnish the answer to all financial accounting ills He believes that the best contribution that a CF can offer is that it can provide a focus to the debate that leads to a new financial reporting standard      Intertwining: Steven Holl,1996-04 To his earlier articulated concept of anchoring which connects a construction with the history of the ground locale and region Holl adds the concept of intertwining which is illuminated by sensory perceptual conceptual and emotional experiences Illustrates with drawings plans and photographs projects in Japan Finland Germany Switzerland Holland Korea and Norway No index Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR      Resources in Education ,1995      Statistical Reference Index

Differences and Changes in Wage Structures Richard B. Freeman, Lawrence F. Katz, 2007-12-01 During the past two decades wages of skilled workers in the United States rose while those of unskilled workers fell less educated young men in particular have suffered unprecedented losses in real earnings These twelve original essays explore whether this trend is unique to the United States or is part of a general growth in inequality in advanced countries Focusing on labor market institutions and the supply and demand forces that affect wages the papers compare patterns of earnings inequality and pay differentials in the United States Australia Korea Japan Western Europe and the changing economies of Eastern Europe Cross country studies examine issues such as managerial compensation gender differences in earnings and the relationship of pay to regional unemployment From this rich store of data the contributors attribute changes in relative wages and unemployment among countries both to differences in labor market institutions and training and education systems and to long term shifts in supply and demand for skilled workers These shifts are driven in part by skill biased technological change and the growing internationalization of advanced industrial economies Cry of the Phoenix Gyeorgos C. The Reference Point ,1989 Part Blood, Part Ketchup Karen R. Tolchin, 2007-01-01 Part Blood Part Ketchup analyzes novels by 20th century authors Edith Wharton J D Salinger Philip Roth John Irving and Jamaica Kincaid uncovering trends that obliterate cultural divides With unrestrained American voices the collective pitch of their complaints soars revealing an unmistakable formula of heightened self exposure and fury As in the case of protagonists on the page and the screen it becomes difficult to distinguish authentic suffering from performance_ or in the words of one reviewer_ the ratio of blood to ketchup Breathtaking in scope Part Blood Part Ketchup situates over one hundred years of literature and film within national historical and global contexts tracing 19th century European allegations of a troubling narrowness in the American character to contemporary insights about the global superpower Ultimately Karen Tolchin finds that subtle evolution of the American coming of age narrative has performed significant cultural work in the construction of our national mythology Change in Industrial Relations P.B. Beaumont, 2024-10-21 Change in Industrial Relations 1990 examines the industrial relations system in the UK at the end of the 1980s after a decade of changes such as the growth of non union firms trade union decline the emergence of human resource management practices and increase in labour management co operation The author describes the major features of the system and discusses the recent changes drawing on insights from economics organizational behaviour and urban and regional research as well as from the traditional literature of industrial relations

Focusing on collective bargaining he examines the practices of the British system of industrial relations in recent years and places the UK in a wider context by providing facts and figures for other national systems in particular making extensive reference to developments and research in the USA     The Writer's Work Frank O'Hare, Dean Memering, 1990
