Charlotte Brontë The Self Conceived:

Charlotte Brontë Helene Moglen,1984 The lives of literary figures have always provided a source of fascination the tragic life of Charlotte Brontë is no different In this interpretive critical biography Helene Moglen takes for granted earlier exhaustive studies done on Brontë to produce an analysis that incorporates not only the facts of her life but also their influence upon her works Through her study Moglen seeks to examine the two dimensions that are essential to any study of Brontë the life she lived and the life she created within the pages of fiction By examining the paradoxical personal tragedy and artistic fulfillment that made up Charlotte Brontë's life Helen Moglen shows the evolution of Brontë's feminism Through Brontë's growth Moglen then is able to explore explicitly formations of the modern female psyche Considered to be a major biography fusing together the making of literature and the formation of personality Moglen offers a new critical insight into Brontë's struggle for self definition and how it can be reflected through the lives of readers more than a century later Charlotte Brontë

Metabiography Caitríona Ní Dhúill,2020-03-09 This book explores the contradictions of biography It charts shifting approaches to the writing and reading of biographies from post hagiographical attitudes of the Enlightenment heroic biographies of Romanticism and irreverent modernist portraits through to contemporary experiments in politically committed and hybrid forms of life writing The book shows how biographical texts in fact destabilise the models of historical visibility cultural prominence and narrative coherence that the genre itself seems to uphold Addressing the fraught relationships between genre and gender private and public image and text life and narrative that play out in the modern biographical tradition Metabiography suggests new possibilities for reading writing and thinking about this enduringly popular genre

The Self in the Cell Sean C. Grass,2014-01-27 Michel Foucault's writing about the Panopticon in Discipline and Punish has dominated discussions of the prison and the novel and recent literary criticism draws heavily from Foucauldian ideas about surveillance to analyze metaphorical forms of confinement policing detection and public scrutiny and censure But real Victorian prisons and the novels that portray them have few similarities to the Panopticon Sean Grass provides a necessary alternative to Foucault by tracing the cultural history of the Victorian prison and pointing to the tangible relations between Victorian confinement and the narrative production of the self The Self in the Cell examines the ways in which separate confinement prisons with their demand for autobiographical production helped to provide an impetus and a model that guided novelists' explorations of the private self in Victorian fiction Victorian Women's Fiction Shirley Foster,2012

Annotation Focusing on the ways in which female novelists have challenged contemporary assumptions about their own sex this book's critical interest in women's fiction shows how 19th century women writers confront the conflict between the pressures of matrimonial ideologies and alternative of single or professional life Women Constructing Men Sarah S. G. Frantz,Katharina Rennhak,2010-01-15 Female novelists have always invested as much narrative energy in constructing their male characters as in envisioning their female The collected articles in demonstrate that the topic of female authored masculinities not only allows scholars to re discover almost every novel written by a woman but also triggers reflections on a host of theoretical questions of gender and genre

Ariadne's Lives Nina daVinci Nichols,1995 Indeed relatively little work has been done on the Cretan myth cycle as a whole a mixture of heroic Greek legend and savage pre Greek elements generally considered to be antithetical to evolved literary languages As a result although Ariadne has been extremely important in Western art from the time of ancient Greece through the nineteenth century she is rarely included in studies of Greek myth

Charlotte Brontë's World of Death Robert Keefe,2014-08-01 By the age of eight Charlotte Bront had lost first her mother and then her two older sisters Later in a second wave of deaths her brother and two younger sisters died leaving her a sole survivor With subtlety and imagination Robert Keefe examines Bront s works as the creative response to these losses particularly the loss of her mother Terrified and yet fascinated by death struggling with guilt remorse and a deep sense of rejection Charlotte Bront found in art a way to come to terms with death through its symbolic reenactment In her earlier writings she created a fictional world marked by devices that allow her to control or deny death In her later works these mechanisms evolved into mature expressions of a profound psychological reality Bront's preoccupation with death is seen in her fiction in the recurring patterns of separation and exile Keefe traces the development of these motifs in the juvenilia and the four novels The Professor Jane Eyre Shirley and Villette Unique in its emphasis on the maternal relationships in Bront's life and art this study also explores certain aspects of her life that have often puzzled biographers

The ^Aerotics of Talk Carla Kaplan, 1996-12-12 Is feminism in crisis With many feminists now questioning identification and focusing on differences between women what is the fate of feminist criticism's traditional imperative to rescue women's stories and make their voices heard In this provocative rereading of the classic texts of the feminist literary canon Carla Kaplan takes a hard look at the legacy of feminist criticism and argues that important features of feminism's own canon have been overlooked in the rush to rescue and identify texts African American women's texts she demonstrates often dramatize their distrust of their readers their lack of faith in the cultural conversation through strategies of self silencing and self talk At the same time she argues the homoerotics of women's writing has too often gone unremarked Not only does longing for an ideal listener draw women's texts into a romance with the reader but there is an erotic excess which is part of feminist critical recuperation itself Drawing on a wide range of resources from sociolinguistics and anthropology to literary theory Kaplan's highly readable study proposes a new model for understanding and representing talk She supplies fresh readings of such feminist classics as Jane Eyre The Yellow Wallpaper Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl Their Eyes Were Watching God and The Color Purple revealing how their erotics of talk works as a rich political allegory and form of social critique

Secrets Beyond the Door Maria Tatar, 2006-10-03 Maria Tatar analyses the many forms the tale of Bluebeard's wife has taken over time showing how artists have taken the Bluebeard theme and revived it with their own signature twists

Godiva's Ride Dorothy Mermin, 1993-09-22 Students and teachers of Victorian women's careers will be grateful for Mermin's intelligent and equable guidance as they negotiate the paradoxes of Godiva's Ride Modern Philology This brief study should be enormously helpful to students seeking an introduction to feminist approaches to Victorian writers Choice Mermin's fine book is a work of synthesis that moves across many genres of women's writing and touches on neglected writers of the period as well as on the canonized few American Historical Review Godiva's Ride is a stimulating and enjoyable study of an exceptionally rich subject Victorian Periodicals Review Accessible original and gracefully written Godiva's Ride is likely to be as engrossing for the general reader as for the expert Victorian Studies Describes the first great age of women's writing in England Mermin discusses how women were encouraged to become writers how they were discouraged and hindered and what they wrote The many women entering the mainstream of English literature in this era included the Bront's Elizabeth Gaskell George

Eliot Margaret Oliphant Elizabeth Barrett Browning Christina Rossetti and Harriet Martineau Imperialism at Home Susan Meyer, 2019-06-30 The implicit link between white women and the dark races recurs persistently in nineteenth century English fiction Imperialism at Home examines the metaphorical use of race by three nineteenth century women novelists Charlotte Bront Emily Bront and George Eliot Susan Meyer argues that each of these domestic novelists uses race relations as a metaphor through which to explore the relationships between men and women at home in England In the fiction of for example Anthony Trollope and Charles Dickens as in nineteenth century culture more generally the subtle and not so subtle comparison of white women and people of color is used to suggest their mutual inferiority The Bronte sisters and George Eliot responded to this comparison Meyer contends transforming it for their own purposes Through this central metaphor these women novelists work out a sometimes contentious relationship to established hierarchies of race and gender Their feminist impulses in combination with their use of race as a metaphor Meyer argues produce at times a surprising if partial critique of empire Through readings of Jane Eyre Wuthering Heights The Mill on the Floss Daniel Deronda and Charlotte Bront s African juvenilia Meyer traces the aesthetically and ideologically complex workings of the racial metaphor Her analysis is supported by careful attention to textual details and thorough grounding in recent scholarship on the idea of race and on literature and imperialism

Madness and Sexual Politics in the Feminist Novel Barbara Hill Rigney, 1978 A greater part of the feminist movement has considered traditional psychology to be both a product and a defense of the status quo a patriarchal society Here Barbara Hill Rigney explores emerging feminist psychology by applying it to literary works by women who have depicted the relationship between madness and the female condition The result is a fascinating and illuminating exposition certain to be welcomed by students and scholars in literature and women s studies as well as those in sociology and psychology whose interests include feminism and problems of women and society Among the works Rigney considers are Charlotte Bront s Jane Eyre Virginia Woolf s Mrs Dalloway Doris Lessing s The Four Gated City and Margaret Atwood s Surfacing all of which depict insanity in relation to sexual politics These authors portray a patriarchal social system which in itself manifests symptoms of collusive madness in the form of war or sexual oppression and is thereby seen as threatening to female psychological survival Each of Rigney s author subjects sees her protagonist as tragically divided between male society s prescribed roles for women and a sense of an authentic self Thus emerges a pattern common to all works in which the divided self is reflected by the inevitable juxtaposition of the protagonist to a doppelgänger an insane self an extension of the protagonist who herself can be regarded as sane only by degree A return to true sanity is traced through the patterns found in the selected works Rigney explores the literary metaphor of the return of Demeter or the Amazon mother to restore the alienated female protagonists In order to begin the return from psychosis Rigney concludes they must find the mother within themselves in the form of a feminist consciousness of self worth

Literature and the Development of Feminist Theory Robin Truth Goodman, 2015-12 This book offers an insightful look at the development of feminist theory through a literary lens Stressing the significance of feminism s origins in the European Enlightenment it traces the literary careers of feminism s major thinkers in order to elucidate the connection of feminist theoretical production to literary work
