The Documentary History of Judaism and Its Recent Interpreters Jacob Neusner, 2012-07-10 The result for the history of Judaism of a documentary reading of the Rabbinic canonical sources illustrates the working of that hypothesis It is the first major outcome of that hypothesis but there are other implications and a variety of new problems emerge from time to time as the work proceeds In the recent past Neusner has continued to explore special problems of the documentary hypothesis of the Rabbinic canon At the same time Neusner notes others join in the discussion that have produced important and ambitious analyses of the thesis and its implications Here Neuser has collected some of the more ambitious ventures into the hypothesis and its current recapitulations Neusner begins with the article written by Professor William Scott Green for the Encyclopaedia Judaica second edition as Green places the documentary hypothesis into the context of Neusner's entire oeuvre Neuser then reproduces what he regards as the single most successful venture of the documentary hypothesis contrasting between the Mishnah's and the Talmuds programs for the social order of Israel the doctrines of economics politics and philosophy set forth in those documents respectively Then come the two foci of discourse Halakhah or normative law and Aggadah or normative theology Professors Bernard Jackson of the University of Manchester England and Mayer Gruber of Ben Gurion University of the Negev treat the Halakhic program that Neusner has devised and Kevin Edgecomb of the University of California Berkeley has produced a remarkable summary of the theological system Neusner discerns in the Aggadic documents Neusner concludes with a review of a book by a critic of the documentary hypothesis Jesus as Mirrored in John James H. Charlesworth, 2018-11-29 James H Charlesworth begins from a burgeoning point of scholarly consensus More and more scholars are coming to recognize that the Fourth Gospel is more historically complex than previously thought Charlesworth outlines two historical horizons within John On the one hand there is the Jewish background to the text complete with the evangelist's knowledge of Palestinian geography and Jewish customs which Charlesworth perceives as offering a window into pre 70 Palestinian Judaism On the other hand the gospel also reflects a post 70 world in which non believing Jews with more unity begin to part definitely with those who identified Jesus as the Messiah Split into four sections this volume first examines the origins of the Fourth Gospel its evolution in several editions and its setting in Judea and Galilee Charlesworth then looks specifically at the figure of Jesus and issues of history He proceeds to consider this Gospel alongside earlier and contemporaneous Jewish literature most notably the Dead Sea Scrolls Finally the volume engages with John's symbolism and language looking closely at key aspects in which John differs from the Synoptic Gospels and raising such provocative questions as whether or not it is possible that Jesus married Mary Magdalene From one of the New Testament's most noted scholars this book allows deeper understanding of the ways in which the Gospel of John is a vital resource for understanding both the origin of Christianity and Jesus position in history Chapters in the Formative History of Judaism Jacob Neusner, 2010-07-15 This collection of eight essays draws on a half year of work the second six
