200 Years--and Still Counting! Wesley R. Willis, 1979      75 Years of IFMA, 1917-1992 E. L. Frizen, 1992 Author is an alumnus of Evanston Township High School class of 1943      The Supreme Court and the Attitudinal Model Revisited Jeffrey A. Segal, Harold J. Spaeth, 2002-09-16 Two leading scholars of the Supreme Court explain and predict its decision making      Myself when I Am Real Gene Santoro, 2001 An acclaimed music critic strips away the myths shrouding Jazz s Angry Man in the best examination yet of an American original The Washington Post      The Manphlet Markell Smart, 2018-12-06 An unconventional conversation with the inner self void of ego Noticeable imperfections to bring about a perfect sense of alternate perceptions in areas including fear love human existence finding common ground questioning the very fabric of reality we ve grown accustomed to among other obstacles one must face or ignore as so may choose Old soul views balanced with millennial experiences though for the faint of heart it is not For there are many challenges that will make themselves present Some of which you may agree with and some may make you want to toss it out the window Either way I promise you growth which is inevitable when evolving ones under or inner standing to be technical Is this the answer Or are answers just secret doors to more questions Written from the perception of a 36 year old so called black man in America You get to decide      Teaching in the Life of the Church Darin R. Clements, 2025-04-28 I chose to publish my dissertation for two reasons First though quite narrow in scope as good qualitative research should be this research makes a modest contribution to the growing scholarship on Christianity in Cambodia Second this research makes an empirical contribution to the field of nonformal Christian Education from an Asian context in which Christians are a tiny minority As my literature review indicates the field of nonformal CE is dominated by a North American point of view which ironically is facing a general breakdown of historical CE institutions like Sunday school While much of the literature is useful in the Majority World it does not take into account the education levels educational contexts and social dynamics of places like Cambodia For example the findings from my cases indicate that nonformal CE in Cambodia has more in common with the Sunday school movement in the 19th century than with the functions organizational structures and teaching approaches discussed in current literature As I have presented these ideas in class feedback from students has consistently confirmed that my findings resonate with contexts across Asia Pacific      Revive Us Again Joel A. Carpenter, 1999 Publicly humiliated by the Scopes monkey trial of 1925 fundamentalism in America seemed extinct by the end of the 1920s and then all but invisible to the mainstream until evangelists like Billy Graham gave new life to the movement in the popular revivals of the 1940s and 50s Here Joel A Carpenter illuminates these hidden years in the fundamentalist movement s history and in doing so provides answers to the riddle of its survival Blending painstaking research telling anecdotes and astute analysis Carpenter brings this era into focus for the first time ever He shows that contrary to the popular opinion of the day fundamentalism was alive and well in America in the late 1920s and used its isolation over the next 20 years to build new strength from within Taking a reasoned objective approach to a topic frequently reduced to caricature Revive Us Again gives us a fresh look at the continuing influence of American fundamentalism an influence still evident in today s newspapers and cable TV newscasts
