Jean Meyer Centre for Research and Teaching in Social Sciences Mexico City Book Jacket      Postdigital Theologies Maggi Savin-Baden, John Reader, 2022-09-01 This book is about the relationships between technologies and the content of religious belief and practice A number of models are now starting to emerge but each of these depends on the theological or philosophical framework within which the debate is set At the same time there are dilemmas operating at different ends of the spectrum For example at one end there is a tendency towards subsuming the digital within the divine and at the other an instrumental stance relating to how technology is deployed Either of these stances could be said to ignore rather than acknowledge that the human itself is being changed as a result of the interactions with the digital The book explores the following areas Where is God to be found or present in the postdigital condition What are the implications of the postdigital condition for spirituality and indeed for the activity of God through the Holy Spirit How do concepts of transhumanism or posthumanism effect understandings of the incarnation Does the doctrine of the Trinity need revisiting in the light of the digital as medium of relationship Does Creation now include the postdigital What of the Kingdom of God now that the kingdom of the Tech giants is so powerful all consuming      Graceful Simplicity Jerome M. Segal, 2003-04-30 Despite the United States economic abundance the good life has proved elusive Millions long for more time for friends and family for reading or walking or relaxing Instead our lives are frantic hectic and harried In Graceful Simplicity Jerome M Segal philosopher political activist and former staff member of the House Budget Committee expands and deepens the contemporary discourse on simple living He articulates his conception of a politics of simplicity one rooted in beauty peace of mind appreciativeness and generosity of spirit      Trance Forms Ronaldo Morelos, 2010-05-21 This study investigates forms of theatre performance practice and training that can be seen to employ trance states or engage the concept of states of consciousness as performative practice Trance is considered to be the result of sustained involvement with detailed information that is structurally organised invoking imaginative and affective engagements that are maintained as interactions between the performer other performers the environment and audience of the performance This thesis investigates trance performance through the conceptual lens of dramatic arts practice In their respective cultural contexts trance and theatre attain qualities considered as sacredness Trance practice and performance across a range of cultural contexts are analysed as social processes as elements of power relations that influence the performer audience and environment of the performance As performance traditions and events this study will examine strands of praxis that can be drawn from Constantin Stanislavski to Lee Strasberg to Mike Leigh from Antonin Artaud to Samuel Beckett and Jerzy Grotowski from the Balinese trance performance form of Sanghyang Dedari in the 1930s to the 1990s from the Channeling practitioners in the U S in the 1930s to Seth and Lazaris in the 1970s to the 1990s and from traditions of military training performance violence and rhetoric associated with the attacks of the 11th of September 2001 in the U S and its aftermath      On the Nature of

Ecological Paradox Michael Charles Tobias, Jane Gray Morrison, 2021-05-18 This work is a large powerfully illustrated interdisciplinary natural sciences volume the first of its kind to examine the critically important nature of ecological paradox through an abundance of lenses the biological sciences taxonomy archaeology geopolitical history comparative ethics literature philosophy the history of science human geography population ecology epistemology anthropology demographics and futurism The ecological paradox suggests that the human biological and from an insular perspective successful struggle to exist has come at the price of isolating H sapiens from life sustaining ecosystem services and far too much of the biodiversity with which we find ourselves at crisis level odds It is a paradox dating back thousands of years implicating millennia of human machinations that have been utterly ruinous to biological baselines Those metrics are examined from numerous multidisciplinary approaches in this thoroughly original work which aids readers particularly natural history students who aspire to grasp the far reaching dimensions of the Anthropocene as it affects every facet of human experience past present and future and the rest of planetary sentience With a Preface by Dr Gerald Wayne Clough former Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and President Emeritus of the Georgia Institute of Technology Foreword by Robert Gillespie President of the non profit Population Communication      Social Structuration in Tibetan Society Jia Luo, 2016-12-20 This volume is unique in the literature concerning both the sociology of education and Tibetan society It aims to propose a Tibetan sociology of education something that no other author has attempted as well as to provide insights into the nature of Tibetan society both historically and currently through the application of Giddens structuration theory supplemented by the work of ancient Tibetan philosopher Je TsongKhapa Previous Western accounts of Tibetan history and society have lacked insider perspectives as well as access to original documentation in the Tibetan language The author of this volume is Tibetan and does not experience these limitations He has also taught sociology at the university level and in 1999 published a general textbook on sociology in Tibetan which attempted to draw on Western theories and apply them to the Tibetan context In short the author appears to be highly credible in taking on this extremely ambitious project      Alienation and Wellbeing Chris Yuill, 2023-12-21 Marx argued that capitalist society acts against the core capacities skills and talents of human beings and that it also limits their realisation or channels them into activities related to profit rather than need Bringing Marx's theory of alienation forward to the present day this book uniquely links it to health and well being Using case studies and vignettes of workers across different industries it reveals their lived experiences offering crucial insights into the insidious ways in which capitalism continues to damage human well being This is a resounding call for how society can change for the better      Annual Review of Anthropology William H.
