Heart Failure Bodh I. Jugdutt, 2014-02-19 This book synthesizes the major research advances in molecular, biochemical, and translational aspects of aging and heart failure over the last four decades and addresses future directions in management and drug discovery. It presents clinical issues and molecular mechanisms related to heart failure, including the changing demographics in the aging population with heart failure, hypertension, and prevention of diastolic heart failure in the aging population, polypharmacy, and adverse drug reactions in the aging population with heart failure. It also discusses changes in the heart that accompany advancing age, from humans to molecules, aging-associated alterations in myocardial inflammation and fibrosis, and aging-related changes in mitochondrial function and implications for heart failure therapy. The book succinctly summarizes the large volume of data on these key topics and highlights novel pathways that need to be explored.
