Berg,Jennifer Seymour Whitaker,2023-04-28 This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California

Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1986 Essays on the Political Economy of Rural Africa Robert H. Bates, 1987-04-20 The essays in this volume represent a dialogue between theory and data The theory is drawn from a branch of contemporary political economy which can also be labeled the collective choice school The data are drawn from Africa The book extends the methods of reasoning developed in collective choice from their original base the advanced industrial democracies to new territory the literature on rural Africa Such as extension challenges the power of this form of political economy It also enriches it for the central questions which motivate the contemporary study of political economy are often addressed with unique clarity in the scholarship on rural Africa Economic Crisis and Third World Agriculture Ajit Singh, Hamid Tabatabai, 1993-10-21 Examines the effects of world economic crisis on agrarian development at a regional and global level The Famine Effects on African Refugees United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Immigration and Refugee Policy, 1985 Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology Wallace C. Olsen, 1991 The first of an eight volume series The Literature of the Agricultural Sciences this book analyzes the trends in the published literature of agricultural economics and rural sociology during the past fifty years It uses citation analysis and other bibliometric techniques to identify the primary journals report series and monographs of current importance to the developed industrial countries as well as those in the Third World Rural Transformations and Development - China in Context Norman Long, Jingzhong Ye, Yihuan Wang, 2010-01-01 Rural Transformations and Development China in Context is a thoughtful book in both senses penetrating and packed with ideas True to its title it takes the reader through the main socio economic and political changes of Chinese rural society The book brings together a selected group of authoritative international experts on agricultural development with particular reference to China It is a good read for everyone and an eminently recommendable text for professionals and students interested in issues of China's rural change Peter Ho University of Groningen The Netherlands This is an insightful and excellent theoretical and empirical collection about China's contemporary agrarian transformation critically studied not in isolation from either the urban sector or the broader world but in relation to these It is a must read for academics and development policy practitioners who are interested in agrarian and development issues in China in particular and the world more generally Saturnino M Borras Jr Saint Mary's University Canada Bringing together contributions by some of the leading Western scholars working on paths of rural transformation with studies by their counterparts in China this book examines the value of contemporary development theories for understanding the specificities of China's trajectory of change It is a first class contribution both to Modern China studies and to the renaissance of international research on agrarian change that is now going on It deserves a wide readership John Harriss Simon Fraser University at Vancouver Canada Interesting comparative perspectives are coupled to extensive on the ground research in this exploration of the vast changes underway in China's villages. This book by 19 specialists pushes forward our knowledge of the circumstances and challenges faced by an eighth of humankind. Jonathan Unger, Australian National University. This unique book explores the varied perspectives on contemporary processes of rural transformation and policy intervention in China. The expert contributors combine a critical review of current theoretical viewpoints and global debates with a series of case studies that document the specificities of China's pathways to change. Central issues focus on the dynamics of state-peasant encounters, the diversification of labour and livelihoods, out-migration and the blurring of rural and urban scenarios, the significance of issues of value and capital and their gender implications, land ownership and sustainable resource management, struggles between administrative cadres and local actors, and the dilemmas of participatory development. Rural Transformations and Development: China in Context will prove a fascinating and stimulating read for academics and researchers in the areas of Asian studies, development and agriculture, and public policy.

The cocoa coast: The board-managed cocoa sector in Ghana Kolavalli, Shashidhara, Vigneri, Marcella, 2018-02-07. After almost 20 years of declining cocoa production, Ghana has been able in the last decade to increase the share of export prices going to producers and more than double production. Contrary to Washington Consensus prescriptions, these accomplishments were achieved through reforms that did not include market liberalization. In The Cocoa Coast: The Board-Managed Cocoa Sector in Ghana, the authors identify factors that have contributed to Ghana's success in cocoa production. These include the accountability of the government for the sector's performance, cocoa sector performance being seen as a key dimension of economic management, its interest in maintaining the ability to raise funds globally as a reliable supplier of high quality cocoa, and its policy of retaining a portion of producer revenues to promote the adoption of yield-enhancing measures. The authors also suggest how Ghana can improve the efficiency of the cocoa sector through measures such as increased transparency and curtailing services that would be better provided by the private sector. The Cocoa Coast will be a valuable resource for policy makers, development specialists, and others interested in different national development paths.

Legitimate Governance in Africa Edward Kofi Quashigah, Obiora Chinedu Okafor, 2024-01-22. Any attempt to address the ever-present problem of instability in Africa gives rise to questions regarding legitimate governance. Without future thinking and action on the legitimacy of governance in Africa and how to secure it, past mistakes will go unheeded rather than informing forward movement. Surprisingly, no existing work has comprehensively addressed this critical issue. Legitimate Governance in Africa provides this needed coverage for the first time, examining such key components in the struggle for legitimate governance as the role of the international community in addressing the problem, the particular role women can play, and ways in which women can improve their involvement in the whole enterprise of governance, and the roles of non-governmental organizations and civil society. In this diverse collection of essays, a wide range of expert legal contributors, all familiar with the status of the struggle for legitimate governance in a specific institution or particular African state, brings unique perspectives to the scholarly investigation of legitimate governance in Africa The individual authors have thought deeply about the complexities and subtleties of conducting and evaluating the business of African state governance considering both the practical sustainability of potential approaches and theoretical problems and issues The probing high quality essays facilitate a real understanding of the obstacles to progress in the struggle for legitimate governance Through their depth and diversity of views every one of the papers included in this collection enriches the pool of knowledge on this important subject
