Building Competitiveness in Africa's Agriculture C. Martin Webber, Patrick Labaste, 2009-12-16 Value chain based approaches offer tremendous scope for market based improvements in production productivity rural economy diversification and household incomes but are often covered by literature that is too conceptual or heavily focused on analysis This has created a gap in the information available to planners practitioners and value chain participants Furthermore few references are available on how these approaches can be applied specifically to developing agriculture in Africa Building Competitiveness in Africa's Agriculture A Guide to Value Chain Concepts and Applications describes practical implementation approaches and illustrates them with scores of real African agribusiness case studies Using these examples the Guide presents a range of concepts analytical tools and methodologies centered on the value chain that can be used to design implement and evaluate agricultural and agribusiness development initiatives It stresses principles of market focus collaboration information sharing and innovation The Guide begins by examining core concepts and issues related to value chains A brief literature review then focuses on five topics of particular relevance to African agricultural value chains These topics address challenges faced by value chain participants and practitioners that resonate through the many cases described in the book The core of the book presents methodological tools and approaches that blend important value chain concepts with the topics and with sound business principles The tools and case studies have been selected for their usefulness in supporting market driven private sector initiatives to improve value chains The Guide offers 13 implementation approaches presented within the implementation cycle of a value chain program followed by descriptions of actual cases Roughly 60 percent of the examples are from Africa while the rest come from Europe Latin America and Asia The Guide offers useful guidance to businesspeople policy makers representatives of farmer or trade organizations and others who are engaged in agro enterprise and agribusiness development These readers will learn how to use value chain approaches in ways that can contribute to sound operational decisions improved market linkage and better results for enterprise and industry development

Agribusiness and Rural Enterprise Project Analysis Manual Samuel R. Daines, 1979 Privatization and Deregulation Sidhu, 2012-12-06 Agribusiness development has been constrained by distorted economic policies and institutional controls in the emerging market economies and in most of the developing countries In the former Soviet Union and Eastern Europe the agribusiness complex was dominated by state owned enterprises In many of the developing countries economic policies discriminated against agriculture and agribusiness The results have been obvious Despite major technological advances agriculture and agribusiness sectors in these economies remained inefficient. A large share of the population particularly in the rural areas has not been able to improve household incomes and living standards. The final decade of the 20th century will certainly be recorded as one of the most dynamic in modern history. The restructuring of the former Soviet Union and Eastern Europe and market reforms in many of the developing countries are progressing at a rapid pace. Agribusiness is key to economic performance in these areas in that agriculture is an important sector in many of these economies. Economic transition to a market economy is presenting many challenges and opportunities to accelerate the process of agribusiness development which is so essential to alleviate rural poverty. An international symposium organized by the International Fertilizer Development Center (IFDC) provided a unique opportunity to discuss needed policy reforms to promote efficient and competitive agribusiness development with a particular focus on privatization and deregulation. Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis, 1981-07

Objective Agribusiness Management, 2nd Ed. S.R. Panigrahy, Sanjiv Kumar, Ritambhara Singh, 2017-03-01 Desarrollo de productos de raíces y tubérculos Gregory J. Scott, 1992 Prices, Products, and People Gregory J. Scott, 1995

The authors go beyond the traditional presentation of economic principles offering instead a series of applied methods for data collection and analysis. Drawing on extensive experience in Africa, Asia and Latin America they not only describe specific procedures but also provide a wealth of illustrative research results. This book will be particularly useful to teaching professionals, development specialists and applied researchers working in developing countries. Sustainable Rural Transformation Through Agro-Industries U.K. Srivastava, Pramila Srivastava, 2018-01-01. Indian economy is undergoing structural changes. The share of agriculture and allied activities in GDP has declined over the years. On farm jobs are diminishing or stagnant. There is a need to generate off farm jobs through secondary and tertiary processing of agriculture crop, horticulture, animal husbandry, fisheries, forest produce, raw material and these are not increasing to keep pace with the needs despite potential. In India more than 75% of agro processing is done by informal and small enterprises. But most informal and small units suffer from market and technology constraints. Therefore they cannot go for higher value addition from the main products and from the by products. These informal and small enterprises are not in a position to create an integrated value chain which can have links with the farmers. As technology is outmoded these units are not in a position to give quality assurance and meet food safety standards. Their products are marketed only in less demanding nearby local markets. World over there is transition from informal and small agro industrial enterprises to large units which are competitive in terms of price and quality, equitable, not exploiting any member of value chain and inclusive, treating farmers as strategic business partners rather than adversaries. They use latest and innovative technology and have national and international markets for selling their products. They enjoy scale economies, are able to comply with national and international standards of quality assurance and go for higher level of value addition. They can forge linkages with the farmers through contract farming and direct procurement and assure their raw material supply by treating the farmers as strategic business partners But these enterprises require the enabling conditions which make it possible to run the enterprises profitably along with transformation of rural areas Over the years the Government of India and nearly all the State Governments have now created most attractive enabling environment Therefore in our assessment India is poised for a great leap in investments in food processing and marketing The book contains 18 chapters dealing with the entire project cycle of agro industries for sustainable rural transformation The most insightful part is the 12 real life case studies The book would be useful to agro entrepreneurs agro processing industries policy makers bankers management consultants students of agriculture universities cooperative management training institutions and MBA students Energy Conservation

Update ,1981 Publications Update World Bank,1992 Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology Wallace C. Olsen,1991 The first of an eight volume series The Literature of the Agricultural Sciences this book analyzes the trends in the published literature of agricultural economics and rural sociology during the past fifty years It uses citation analysis and other bibliometric techniques to identify the primary journals report series and monographs of current importance to the developed industrial countries as well as those in the Third World FAO Document Technique Du Centre D'investissement ,1985
