Esbenshade, 2006 Imre Kertész and Holocaust Literature Louise Olga Vasvári, Steven Tötösy de Zepetnek, 2005 Publisher Description The Jews of Eastern Europe Philip M. and Ethel Klutznick Chair in Jewish Civilization. Symposium, 2005 Most American Jews have roots in Eastern Europe The experiences of our nineteenth and twentieth century ancestors continue to influence in one way or another thinking about Jewish art literature theater education religious observance and political activities The Eastern European experience was far from monolithic for these Jews however and wide gaps separate the realities of their lives from the often idealized sometimes romanticized views still popular today This volume contains a series of lucidly written well argued essays that identify key features of Jewish life in Eastern Europe provide insight into its abiding relevance and comment on the history of related scholarship In the process these authors bring to life many little known as well as prominent individuals and the communities they inhabited and influenced With its solid scholarly foundations full annotations and graceful narratives this collection should appeal to general readers as well as specialists 2001 Susan Sarah Cohen, 2013-02-18 This work includes international secondary literature on anti-Semitism published throughout the world from the earliest times to the present It lists books dissertations and articles from periodicals and collections from a diverse range of disciplines Written accounts are included among the recorded titles as are manifestations of anti-Semitism in the visual arts e g painting caricatures or film action taken against Jews and Judaism by discriminating judiciaries pogroms massacres and the systematic extermination during the Nazi period The bibliography also covers works dealing with philo-Semitism or Jewish reactions to anti-Semitism and Jewish self hate An informative abstract in English is provided for each entry and Hebrew titles are provided with English translations

Sowing the Seeds of Hatred János Pelle, 2004 Analysis of public opinion leading up to and including World War II inevitably raises the issue of responsibility for the Holocaust of Hungarian Jewry Reviewing both archival material and contemporary sources this book asks how extremist publications full of hatred against Jews affected contemporaries Why was it that Hungarian society ignored the dangers threatening Jews in Europe including Hungary János Pelle looks for answers in contemporary and modern literature in the psychology and contrasts theories in operation at those tragic times with current information The "Jewish Question" in Europe Tamás Ungvári, 2000 Ungvári asks why the Hungarian Jewish community became one of the most assimilated in Europe and why there was always a lingering doubt about their true Magyar background Antisemitism Susan Sarah Cohen, 1987 2001, Hebrew Union College Monthly, 1930

Encyclopaedia Judaica Fred Skolnik, Michael Berenbaum, 2007 Provides an exhaustive and organized overview of Jewish life and knowledge from the Second Temple period to the contemporary State of Israel from Rabbinic to modern Yiddish literature from Kabbalah to Americana and from Zionism to the contribution of Jews to world cultures Who's who in

World Jewry Harry Schneiderman, Itzhak J. Carmin, 1955 Shylock and the Jewish Question Martin D. Yaffe, 1997
 Religious scholar Martin Yaffe discusses the role of Shakespeare's character Shylock from his play THE MERCHANT OF VENICE in the history of anti-Semitism. Differing with the general consensus that Shakespeare reflected anti-Semitism of his time, Yaffe argues for the possibility that the playwright portrayed Shylock merely as a bad Jew rather than a typical one.

The Jewish Question in Hungary... Ottokár Prohászka, 1920 (IL) Legitimate Debate James Terence Schelble, 2004
The Jewish Question in Hungary after 1944 István Bibó, 2001 Ahasvérus és Shylock Tamás Ungvári, 1999

Investigates the Jewish question in Hungary from the Reform Age in the first half of the 19th century to the present from the point of view of cultural history, history of ideas, sociology and literary history. Changes in ideas are traced from the Enlightenment to Hungarian neo-Nazism. Describes disputes about the Jewish question conducted by politicians and intellectuals; conservative and liberal approaches to the assimilation of Jews; e.g. Szchenyi and Kossuth; the pogroms in 1848 and their background; István's Antisemitic Party in the 1880s and the Tiszaeszlár blood libel in 1882; the pogroms that followed and how antisemitism permeated the agrarian movement and nationalistic ideologies in the 1890s. Focuses on the rise of antisemitism in the interwar period and its roots. Assimilation was a failure as demonstrated by a blend of popular and political antisemitism; pogroms and anti-Jewish organizations and laws. The views of historian Gyula Szekfű and the debate between the urbanists and the folkists are treated at great length. Relates also to the reappearance of antisemitism in the 1990s.
