as studies of particular works and accounts of the later reception of his writings In this way it is possible to see why the young Samuel Taylor Coleridge was moved to describe Darwin as the first literary character in Europe and the most original minded man Erasmus Darwin Charles Darwin s grandfather was one of the leading intellectuals of eighteenth century England He was a man with an extraordinary range of interests and activities he was a doctor biologist inventor poet linguist and botanist He was also a founding member of the Lunar Society an intellectual community that included such eminent men as James Watt and Josiah Wedgwood

English MPs Michael W. McCahill,2023-01-26 What was the role of elected legislators Was it to represent the opinions of constituents or to vote according to their informed opinions reflecting the needs of the kingdom Most authorities have accepted Edmund Burke s depiction of 18th century MPs insisting it was their right to form their opinions without reference to the instructions of constituents This study provides answers to these important questions and in doing so reveals that Burke s vision does not represent how the House of Commons functioned during the last two decades of the 18th century Rather than focusing on specific issues or demographic groups English MPs brings to the fore the legislative activity of a broad segment of late 18th century English MPs This book shows they were diligent legislators who attended to the needs of constituents in the process developing strong connections with them It demonstrates that these connections did not rest on shared beliefs in reformist ideologies except in and around the metropolis Instead they grew out of the members timely and effective tending session after session to the host of measures brought forward by constituents and neighbours McCahill explores in fascinating detail the consequences of this bond In this book McCahill draws from an impressive array of primary sources and secondary literature to combine a structural analysis with broad surveys and detailed case studies The result is an illuminating and a comprehensive account of the House of Commons between 1760 and 1790

Forging Modernity Martin Hutchinson, 2023-01-01 The Industrial Revolution provided the greatest increase in living standards the world has ever known while propelling Britain to dominance on the global stage In Forging Modernity Martin Hutchinson looks at how and why Britain gained this prize ahead of its European competitors After comparing their endowments and political structures as far back as 1600 he then traces how Britain through better policies primarily from the political Tory party diverged from other European countries Hutchinson's Harvard MBA allows a unique perspective on the early industrial enterprises many successes resulted from marketing control systems and logistics rather than from production technology alone while on a national scale the scientific method and commercial competition were as important as physical infrastructure By 1830 through ever improving policies Britain had built a staggering industrial lead half a century ahead of its rivals Then the Tories lost power and policy changed forever In his conclusion Hutchinson shows how changes welcomed by conventional historians caused the decline of Industrial Britain Nevertheless the policies that drove growth ingenuity and rising living standards are still available for those bold enough to adopt them Whitaker's Books in Print, 1998
