Aging and Adaptation Charlotte Ikels,1983 Aging and Adaptation Charlotte Ikels,1982 Chinese Families in the Post-Mao Era Deborah Davis,Stevan Harrell,1993-10-02 This collection of essays concerns both urban and rural Chinese communities ranging from professional to working class families The contributors attempt to determine whether and to what extent the policy shifts that followed Mao Zedong s death affected Chinese families Chinese Senior Migrants and the Globalization of Retirement Nicole DeJong Newendorp,2020-09-08 The 21st century has seen growing numbers of seniors turning to migration in response to newfound challenges to traditional forms of retirement and old age support such as increased longevity demographically aging populations and global neoliberal trends reducing state welfare Chinese born migrants to the U S serve as an exemplary case of this trend with 30 percent of all migrants since 1990 being at least 60 years old This book tells their story arguing that they demonstrate the significance of age as a mediating factor that is fundamentally important for considering how migration is experienced The subjects of this study are situated at the crossroads of Chinese immigrant and Chinese American experiences embodying many of the ambiguities and paradoxes that complicate common understandings of each group These are older individuals who have waited their whole lives to migrate to the U S to rejoin family but often experience unanticipated family conflict when they arrive They are retirees living at the social and economic margins of American society who nonetheless find significant opportunities to achieve meaningful retired lifestyles They are members of a diaspora spanning vast regional and ideological differences yet their wellbeing hinges on everyday interactions with others in this diverse community Their stories highlight the many possibilities for mutual engagement that connect Chinese and American ways of being and belonging in the world Growing Up the Chinese Way Sing Lau,1996 This volume is a collection of current research on Chinese child development the context of development cognitive development social development and new issues related to the topic International Perspectives on State and Family Support for the Elderly Scott Bass,Jill Norton,Robert Morris Deceased,2013-12-02 Within the context of long range planning this book examines the changing responsibilities of the state and family toward elders in different societies around the world International Perspectives on State and Family Support for the Elderly presents a fresh range of lucid analyses of family caregiving policy from Canada the United States Sweden the United Kingdom Hong Kong Austria Denmark Israel and the People s Republic of China Different institutional structures levels of economic development and cultural values among other factors impact policy development in various countries With the information examined in this book readers can gain an understanding of elder care in other societies which can help them in developing policies for their own countries Authors of International Perspectives on State and Family Support for the Elderly address questions such as Who is responsible for caring for the aged What are the policy issues that determine how such care is handled in various countries Are the underlying principles upon which policy is based changing Who pays for the care of the aged What is the balance of the roles of government family and community Along with these questions authors discuss the importance of family care the well being payment and rights of informal caregivers providing services for informal caregivers shifting the burden of care from formal organizations to families the effects of governmental frameworks on caregiving the impact of the political agenda on caregiving caregiving and the welfare state International Perspectives on State and Family Support for the Elderly contains information for all professionals interested or involved in developing policy for the elderly Demographers sociologists social workers health care and public health professionals gerontologists and advanced students in these fields will find this book a helpful guide in their studies Aging in Chinese Society Homer L. Jernigan, Margaret B. Jernigan, 1992 This intriguing book details the impact of rapid cultural change on the elderly in two predominantly Chinese societies Taiwan and Singapore As Taiwan and Singapore become more urban and industrial and large extended families shrink and become more isolated experiences of older family members become very different from those in traditional Chinese society Aging in Chinese Society describes these changes and discusses how the elderly cope with them Interviews with Chinese elders and consultants knowledgeable about their situations along with data from an extensive survey of the aging population conducted by the government of Singapore illustrate how many aspects of modern life are threatening the quality of life of the elderly Emphasizing the importance of the cultural context in which attitudes and values are formed this book raises questions about how modernization has affected the aging experience in the United States as well as in China Aging in Chinese Society develops a holistic approach to aging which emphasizes understanding the aging experience from the perspective of the elderly themselves Brief stories of individual experience are included to supplement information from interviews and surveys and to illustrate ways in which elders respond to change Geographical historical and cultural contexts of the aging experience in Taiwan and Singapore are considered as are interactions of personality culture and religion in the quality of life of individual Chinese elders Chapters focus on topics such as the nature of the cultural changes which have taken place in Singapore and Taiwan in the last forty years changes in the role status and function in the family of the elderly and responses of the governments of the two countries to the changing situation of Chinese elders Aging in Chinese Society provides helpful and interesting material for gerontologists and psychologists interested in ethnicity aging and the impact of cultural change on the experiences of the elderly Everyone interested in a holistic approach to the interactions of personality and culture or who wish to understand the importance of the holistic approach in working with the elderly will also find much valuable information Growing Old in America Beth B. Hess, Elizabeth Warren Markson, Modern industrial societies are characterized by long term declines in fertility and steady increases in life expectancy Together these trends result in an aging population The United States is no exception since 1969 the median age has risen from 29 4 to a projected 36 4 in the year 2000 This fourth edition of the standard reader on the sociology of aging has been completely revised with 90 percent new material to reflect new information and new issues in this rapidly developing field Students and practicing professionals will find it a lively accessible overview Age Structuring in Comparative Perspective David I. Kertzer, K. Warner Schaie, 2013-05-13 This volume studies age as a basis for social organization by uniting research from the social science disciplines while implementing both cross cultural and historical perspectives The contributors a distinguished interdisciplinary group of scholars advance our understanding of age structuring by relating the changing societal level processes and individual aging experiences and examining retirement practices age and power in society and cultural conceptions of age The Aging Experience Jennie Keith, Christine L. Fry, Anthony P. Glascock, Charlotte Ikels, Jeanette Dickerson-Putman, Henry C. Harpending, Patricia Draper, 1994-09-22 In an attempt to understand the meaning of ageing and the treatment of the aged in different cultures seven anthropologists have made studies of 10 communities on four continents the results of which are presented in this book The authors use both qualitative and statistical data to examine such issues as health and well being perceptions of the life course material resources and functionality of elders A unique resource The Aging Experience provides a detailed comparative analysis of ageing worldwide Annual Review of Gerontology and Geriatrics, Volume 13, 1993 , 1993-10-22 During the past few decades the dramatic social changes with regard to our aging population and changes in the family unit have made both demographic and socioeconomic consequences as well as an effect on matters of social policy The prestigious editors George L Maddox and M Powell Lawton have assembled an impressive group of expert contributors whose chapters address topics from the latest theory and research findings to the changing balance of work and families as well as patterns of kinship Family David Cheal, 2003 This international collection features the most influential scholarship published during the past few decades on the concept of the family and related issues An invaluable resource for students and researchers alike the four volumes cover the following themes Vol 1 Family Groups Vol 2 Family and Gender Issues Vol 3 Family Ties Vol 4 Family and Society The scope offers an international range of material and includes key work from the USA Europe Canada Australia and Asia Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 □□□□□□□□□□ Frank Joseph Shulman, Anna See Ping Leon Shulman, 2001-01-01 A descriptively annotated multidisciplinary cross referenced and extensively indexed guide to 2 395 dissertations that are concerned either in whole or in part with Hong Kong and with Hong Kong Chinese students and emigres throughout the world Growing Old in a New China Rose K. Keimig, 2021-02-12 Growing Old in a New China Transitions in Elder Care is an accessible exploration of changing care arrangements in China Combining anthropological theory ethnographic vignettes and cultural and social history it sheds light on the growing movement from home based to institutional elder care in urban China The book examines how tensions between old and new ideas desires and social structures are reshaping the experience of caring and being cared for Weaving together discussions of family ethics care work bioethics aging and quality of life this book puts older adults at the center of the story It explores changing relationships between elders and themselves their family members caregivers society and the state and the attempts made within and across these relational webs to find balance and harmony The book invites readers to ponder the deep implications of how and why we care and the ways end of life care arrangements complicate both living and dying for many elders A Localized Culture of Welfare Kwok-shing Chan,2012-01-01 This book presents an ethnographic account of the significance of kinship in welfare matters in Chinese society It will be a useful reference book and secondary text for anthropologists sociologists and university students who are interested in Chinese kinship and welfare issues the relationship between welfare and culture and the cultures underlying systems of welfare Aging in World History David G. Troyansky,2015-10-05 In Aging in World History David G Troyansky presents the first global history of aging At a time when demographic aging has become a source of worldwide concern and more people are reaching an advanced age than ever before the history of old age helps us understand how we arrived at the treatment of aging in the modern world This concise volume expands that history beyond the West to show how attitudes toward aging the experiences of the aged and relevant demographic patterns have varied and coalesced over time and across the world From the ancient world to the present this book introduces students and general readers to the history of aging on two levels the experience of individual men and women and the transformation of populations With its attention to cultural traditions medicalization decades of historical scholarship and current gerontology Aging in World History is the perfect starting point for an exploration of this increasingly universal aspect of human experience One Step Ahead in China Ezra F. Vogel,1989 One Step Ahead in China is a groundbreaking book unique in its detailed coverage of Guangdong the first socialist dragon to follow in the path of South Korea and Taiwan 6 maps 7 tables Other Cultures, Elder Years Ellen Rhoads Holmes,Lowell D. Holmes,1995-05-24 Holmes and Holmes have revised their 1983 book and it remains a good supplement for an undergraduate gerontology course or anthropology course It is written at a readable level each chapter has a clear summary It provides an excellent summary of secondary sources avoiding extensive review of primary research complicated theory and methodological issues Clinical Gerontologist Hailed as extremely well organized balanced and impartial in its first edition by The Gerontologist Other Cultures Elder Years is once again available in a fully revamped second edition This new edition provides a comprehensive comparative viewpoint on our knowledge about worldwide patterns of aging It addresses everything from demographic patterns to family relations from perceptions of the life cycle to the impact of modernization on the aged Replete with summaries of crucial studies from various parts of the world Other Cultures Elder Years also offers three extended case descriptions of Inuit Samoan and white American aged as well as an examination of aging patterns among major American ethnic groups Among the other subjects the text addresses are cultural perspectives in health care the future of aging in America and creativity and the life cycle Other Cultures Elder Years is the key text available for use by anyone teaching courses on aging and culture I found the current book a significant improvement over the first edition It remains to be the only usable text in the anthropology of aging available I see the audiences for the book as instructors for the following courses Anthropology of Aging Sociology of Aging and general social gerontology courses I have used this book in past Anthropology of Aging courses and would do so again Jay Sokolovsky University of Maryland Baltimore County This book does a truly artful job of organizing and presenting the complex diversity of human experience related to aging and cultural influence This book offers an implicit biocultural laboratory to the reader the biologic universal of human aging is shaped by the prism of cultural influence The reader is guided through the evolutionary history of aging among anthropoid primates to hominids to Homo sapiens sapiens who are then examined from cultural perspectives found around the globe The effect is one of inquiry search synthesis and ultimately a confrontation with our inner selves as we negotiate the inexorable march toward our ultimate destiny J Neil Henderson Suncoast Gerontology Center University of South Florida
