Modelling and Analysis in Arms Control Rudolf Avenhaus, Reiner K. Huber, John D. Kettelle, 2012-12-06 This book presents the results of an international workshop on Modelling and Analysis of Arms Control Problems held in Spitzingsee near Munich in October 1985 under the joint sponsorship of NATO's Scientific Affairs Division and the Volkswagen Foundation The idea for this workshop evolved in 1983 as a consequence of discussions in the annual Systems Science Seminar at the Computer Science Department of the Federal Armed Forces University Munich on the topic of Quantitative Assessment in Arms Control 1 There was wide agreement among the contributors to that seminar and its participants that those efforts to assess the potential contributions of systems and decision sciences as well as systems analysis and mathematical modelling to arms control issues should be expanded and a forum should be provided for this activity It was further agreed that such a forum should include political scientists and policy analysts working in the area of arms control

Armament, Arms Control and Artificial Intelligence Thomas Reinhold, Niklas Schörnig, 2022-10-08 Looking at a variety of armament sectors the book examines how Artificial Intelligence AI impacts the fields of armament and arms control how existing arms control measures will be affected by AI and what new approaches based on AI have been or are currently developed The significant increase in computing power the increasing reliance on software and the advent of narrow AI and deep learning algorithms all have the potential to lead to disruptive changes for military operations and warfare rendering many classical arms control instruments less effective or even useless On the other hand AI might lead to completely new arms control approaches raising the effectiveness and reliability of new verification measures To provide a common understanding the book starts by presenting a general introduction to the state of the art in artificial intelligence and arms control and how the two topics are interrelated The second part of the book looks at examples from various fields of weapon technology including weapons of mass destruction WMD conventional armament and emerging technologies The final section offers a cross cutting perspective based on the examples presented in the second part This volume will appeal to students and scholars of international relations as well as policy makers and practitioners interested in a better

Mobilizing for Human Rights Beth A. Simmons, 2009-08-31 This volume argues that international human rights law has made a positive contribution to the realization of human rights in much of the world Although governments sometimes ratify human rights treaties gambling that they will experience little pressure to comply with them this is not typically the case Focusing on rights stakeholders rather than the United Nations or state pressure Beth Simmons demonstrates through a combination of statistical analyses and case studies that the ratification of treaties leads to better rights practices on average Simmons argues that international human rights law should get more practical and rhetorical support from the international community as a supplement to broader efforts to address conflict development and democratization

Westing,2013-07-01 This work presents the evolution of the traditional concept of national security as military security to additionally embrace environmental security and then necessarily also social societal security thence to be termed comprehensive human security It accomplishes this primarily by presenting 11 of the author s own benchmark papers published between 1983 and 2010 additionally providing bibliographic citations to a further 36 of the author s related publications during that period The work stresses the importance of transfrontier regional cooperation and also recognizes global overpopulation as a key impediment to achieving comprehensive human security Arms Control Agreements Jozef Goldblat,2021-01-26 This book first published in 1982 provides a well informed historical overview insightful analysis and searching critique of arms control agreements and negotiations from the Hague Declaration of 1899 to the SALT Treaties and Conventions of the 1970s and 1980s Arms control agreements of international importance and historical merit are assessed for the extent to which each affected the arms race or reduced the likelihood of war Security at Sea Stockholm International Peace Research Institute,1990 Since the Second World War five navies are known to have acquired nuclear weapons and naval forces and activities around the world have become increasingly important and dangerous However there has been no serious consideration of naval arms control for more than forty years SIPRI gathered together a group of experts from eight nations to consider the problems of naval forces and the possibilities for arms control This book is a product of that conference and it presents for the first time a broad and detailed assessment of the dangers of the naval arms race problems with arms control possible approaches confidence building measures and verification technologies European Security in the 1990s W. Laqueur,L. Sloss,2013-11-11 Rarely if ever have the political economic and military foundations of the Western Alliance been in such a state of flux Walter Laqueur and Leon Sloss therefore deserve credit not just for the quality of the analysis in this superb book but also for the timeliness of its appearance As Laqueur says in his chapter Touring the Western European Defense Hori zon if the likely development of European defense policies is not particularly reassuring at least it gives no grounds for despair The list of problems we face is a daunting one First there is the spiralling cost of defense expenditures particularly in the absence of significant NATO or inter European cooperation This is particularly serious in light of the reluctance to increase or even maintain current expenditures in the midst of Mikhail Gorbachev's peace offensive and the extraordinary changes in Eastern Europe both of which have had a dramatic impact on Western public opinion There is also a problem in the perceived relative economic decline of the United States vis a vis Western Europe and Japan which only exacerbates calls to reduce the number of American troops in Europe Other dangers to the political cohesion and military credibility of the alliance include demographic trends that threaten current manpower levels transatlantic acrimony over the burden sharing issue and political pressures particularly in West Germany toward denuclearization and even neutralism Asia, Militarization & Regional Conflict Yoshikazu Sakamoto,1988 The Nuclear Non-proliferation Treaty Ian Bellany,Coit D. Blacker,Joseph Gallacher,2014-05-01 This study looks at the interpretations and effects of the Nuclear Non Proliferation Treaty and offers readings of its possible future effects Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1982-06 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world New Technologies and the Law in War and Peace William H. Boothby,2019 Explains how existing and proposed law seek to tackle challenges posed by new and emerging technologies in war and peace Routledge Library Editions: Political Protest Various,2022-07-30 This 26 volume set is a wide ranging time and subject spanning examination of the phenomenon of political protest What drives people to take to the streets and how do their governments respond These questions and many more are analysed in areas as varied as sixteenth century German peasant uprisings revolutionary Russians at the Paris Commune women protesting nuclear weapons at Greenham Common and the role Christianity played in protests across the ages An impressive reference resource this set also looks at the policing of protests and official responses to them
