Analogical City Cameron McEwan, 2024-01-18 In Analogical City Cameron McEwan argues for architecture's status as a critical project McEwan revisits architect Aldo Rossi as a paradigmatic figure of the critical rational tradition studying a neglected aspect of his thought the analogical city to excavate its potential McEwan develops a grammar of the analogical city under the headings of Imagination Transformation City Multitude and Project McEwan argues that the analogical city is critical collective and emancipatory Analogical thought and understanding cities as analogical might open the conditions of possibility for rethinking the critical project in architecture At a time when the humanities and the sciences are threatened by irrational thought from climate denial to post truth narratives and when architecture has seemingly disavowed its critical capacity and political possibility through its commodification as an instrument of the neoliberal city McEwan offers critical strategies conceptual tools figures of thought and knowledge practices to articulate modes of thinking and acting differently within architectural criticism and practice Today knowledge is a common terrain of struggle and thought requires constant reinvention The task of architecture and critique more broadly must be to interpret the world in order to change it Consequently Analogical City proposes modes for imagining the city the subject and the world otherwise towards a more egalitarian and critical architecture of the city Ultimately the analogical city is not a fully developed theory nor is it only an intuitive poetic or purely formal practice as some critics propose McEwan argues that the analogical city is poetic and political it always refers beyond itself towards a collective and critical project of the city and yet it invites a series of formal spatial and graphic operations comprising erasure and negativity followed by substitution and remontage

The Architect Francesca Hughes, 1996 The Architect Reconstructing Her Practice examines how the introduction of women to the main body of architecture might bring about a reconstruction of the orders that pervade architectural production and consumption At a moment when the architectural profession is beginning to shift from its traditionally male domination The Architect Reconstructing Her Practice examines how the introduction of women to the main body of architecture might bring about a reconstruction of the orders that pervade architectural production and consumption In a collection of autobiographical essays in which practice is both the site and the vehicle for change twelve American and European architects reflect on the nature of critical practice and its relation to architecture The contributors were chosen not only for the distinguished quality of their work but also for the range of architectural practices they collectively encompass from the intersection of theory and philosophy to the intersection of building process and industry Together they present a compelling and provocative critique of architectural culture All show a willingness to transgress the various mediums and territories of architecture to recover and reopen certain discussions lost in the architectural discourse they have inherited

Architecture Theory since 1968 K. Michael Hays, 2000-02-28 An anthology of the pivotal theoretical texts that have defined architecture culture in the late twentieth century In the discussion of architecture there is a prevailing sentiment that since 1968 cultural production in its traditional sense can no longer be understood to rise spontaneously as a matter of social course but must now be constructed through ever more self conscious theoretical procedures The development of interpretive modes of various stripes post structuralist Marxian phenomenological psychoanalytic as well as others dissenting or eccentric has given scholars a range of tools for rethinking architecture in relation to other fields and for reasserting architecture's general importance in intellectual discourse This anthology presents forty seven of the primary texts of architecture theory introducing each with an explication of the concepts and categories necessary for its understanding and evaluation It also presents twelve documents of projects or events that had major theoretical repercussions for the period Several of the essays appear here in English for the first time Contributors Diana Agrest Stanford Anderson Archizoom George Baird Jennifer Bloomer Massimo Cacciari Jean Louis Cohen Beatriz Colomina Alan Colquhoun Maurice Culot Jacques Derrida Ignasi de Sol Morales Peter Eisenman Robin Evans Michel Foucault Kenneth Frampton Mario Gandelsonas Frank Gehry Jürgen Habermas John Hejduk Denis Hollier Bernard Huet Catherine Ingraham Fredric Jameson Charles A Jencks Jeffrey Kipnis Fred Koetter Rem Koolhaas Leon Krier Sanford Kwinter Henri Lefebvre Daniel Libeskind Mary McLeod Alberto Pérez Gómez Jos Quetglas Aldo Rossi Colin Rowe Massimo Scolari Denise Scott Brown Robert Segrest Jorge Silvetti Robert Somol Martin Steinmann Robert A M Stern James Stirling Manfredo Tafuri Georges Teyssot Bernard Tschumi Anthony Vidler Paul Virilio Mark Wigley

IAUS, the Institute for Architecture and Urban Studies Suzanne Frank, Suzanne Shulof Frank, 2010 The book is a combined memoir and impressionistic history of the Institute for Architecture and Urban Studies At first affiliated with New York's Museum of Modern Art and Cornell University the Institute housed architects artists and historians who worked on creative design and intellectual projects and would become world renown Its creation and direction was in the hands of its able leader Peter Eisenman Besides a documentary study of the work that went on there among an international clearing house the book is laced with impressions of the author's experience there. It has been in the works for over 12 years and was originally financed by the Graham Foundation for the Study of the Fine Arts and has subsequently been aided by Dr. Jenny Kaufmann. The photographs of the Institute at the height of its activity are included and so does an original ground plan of its West 40th Street office done by Scott Brandt who also designed the book. It ends with 27 interviews of prominent members of the Institute who comment on it and their experiences. The book should appeal to architecture students and those interested in architecture and urbanism of the seventies when the government in the United States was more reasonable in economic and political equity. 2000 Architects Aisha Hasanovic, 2006. Doctor Haydock, the resident GP of St Mary Mead, hopes to cheer up Miss Marple as she recovers from the flu with a little story. The tale revolves around the return of the prodigal son of Major Laxton, the devilishly handsome Harry Laxton. Harry, after leading a life of childish indiscretions and falling head over heels for the village tobacconist's daughter, has made good and returned to lay claim to his tumbling childhood home and introduce the village to his beautiful new wife. But the villagers are prone to gossip about young Harry's past, and one person in particular cannot forgive him for tearing down the old house. Will Miss Marple's acumen be up to the task of solving the story? Embodied Awareness of Space Christos Kakalis, David Boyd, 2025-01-16. This edited volume explores the notion of embodied experience through a diverse range of disciplines: architecture, music, literature, performance studies, philosophy, geopolitics. In doing so, it illuminates the need to redefine the role of the human body as one of the protagonists for raising awareness of space-time issues through processing, experimentation, and application of histories and theories of embodied awareness of space. Critically revisiting these spatio-temporal dialogues, this book suggests a method of linking theory, history, and practice past, present, and future. The authors reinstate the significance of history and theory in creative thinking and test their applicability in a number of different areas: theoretical and buildable architectural projects, mapping and geography, representation and performative arts. This volume will appeal to students and scholars from architecture, art, cultural studies, landscape studies, media studies, and other disciplines in the humanities and social sciences. Residue Michael J. Ostwald, Chris Tucker, Michael Chapman, 2007. Cine-scapes Richard Koeck, 2013. Cine-scapes ignites new ways of seeing, thinking, and debating the nature of architecture and urban spaces. Drawing on the author's extensive knowledge, it offers insight into architecture and urban debates through the eyes of a practitioner working in the fields of film and architectural design. It emphasizes how filmic, cinematic tendencies take place or find their way into urban practices and can be used as a tool for educators, students, and practitioners in architecture and urban design to communicate and discuss design issues with regard to contemporary architecture and cities. Building Institution Kim Förster, 2024-02-21. Building Institution chronicles the expansion of architecture as a profession and discipline in the postmodern era. Kim Förster traces the compelling history of the Institute for Architecture and Urban Studies, which was active in New York from 1967 to 1985. Drawing on extensive archival research and oral histories, he constructs a collective biography that details the Institute's diverse roles and the dynamic interplay between research and design education culture and publishing By exploring the transformation of cultural production into a practice as well as the culturalization and global postmodernization of architecture the volume contributes significantly to the institutional history of architecture Competitions, 1995 Daidalos at Work Clairry

Palyvou, 2018-12-31 This is primarily a book on architecture and as such it seeks to bring forward the deeper forces that guide the work of all the sons and all the daughters of Daidalos Architecture is the protagonist whereas the prehistoric time of this architecture is as important as any other historical time This book is firmly based on the realities of a long silenced world available to us today through the agency of archaeology In that sense it addresses archaeologists architectural historians and architects alike in the hope that it will prove useful to those interested in understanding the Minoan world through its architecture as much as those interested in exploring architecture through the Minoan paradigm This dual goal emanates from my deep belief in the timeless and universal values of architecture As a teacher of history of architecture the challenge has been to bring history into the studios where future architecture is formulated to engage history in the discourse on current architectural ethos and practices and to show that an analytical and critical approach to the past is a potent tool for advancing architectural awareness and educating future architects I am equally confident that such an approach will return its benefits back to history for it will provide new tools of thought and methods of interpretation of the relics of the past Having set the scope of this book it is only fair to add what is not included in its goals the reader will not find a descriptive account of Minoan buildings and sites nor a list of the major architectural achievements in chronological order This is due not only to the enormous amount of relevant information that has been accumulated to date but also to an altogether different interest in the subject as described above Time however is crucial We have a mental need to grasp that we are rooted in the continuity of time and in the man made world it is the task of architecture to facilitate this experience Pallasmaa 2005b 32 Time related issues therefore such as permanence and change or tradition and innovation will concern us Remaking the City John S. Pipkin, 1984-06-30 This book pulls together a variety of perspectives on urban form and urban design It contains invited contributions by well known architects economists geographers sociologists and planners fostering a much needed dialogue between practitioners and theorists of urban planning The contributions provide inclusive reviews of the state of the art in various fields as well as develop original and sometimes controversial new ideas As a whole they cut across some of the key conceptual lines of demarcation in urban research The distinct concerns of architects planners social scientists and practitioners are probed cognitive and semiotic perspectives on urban form are contrasted and the merits of individualistic versus structural explanation are discussed Writing and Seeing Architecture Christian de Portzamparc, Philippe Sollers, 2008 The creative forms of literature and architecture appear to be distinct one constructing a world on the page the other producing the world in which we live It is a conscious act to read literature but the effects of architecture can pass by unnoticed Yet despite such obvious differences writers and architects share a dynamic with their readers and visitors that is unpredictably similar Writing and Seeing Architecture unveils a candid conversation between Christian de Portzamparc celebrated French architect and influential theorist Philippe Sollers that challenges us to see the analogous nature of writing and architecture Their fascinating discussion offers a renewal of visionary architectural thinking by invoking past literary ideals that sought to liberate society through the reinvention of writing itself Urging that new rules be set for each creation rather than resorting to limitations of the capitalist society the authors daring confrontation of the interactions between writing and designing a space forcefully demonstrates the importance of intellectuals and practitioners intervening in the public sphere Christian de Portzamparc is an architect whose designs include the French Embassy in Germany the Cit de la Musique in Paris and the LVMH Tower in New York City He was winner of the Pritzker Architecture Prize in 1994 Philippe Sollers is a novelist and critic whose journal Tel Quel 1960 1982 published Jacques Derrida Michel Foucault and Bernard Henri L vy He is the author of many books including The Park and Une Vie Divine Catherine Tihanyi s translations include One Must Also Be Hungarian by Adam Biro and The Story of Lynx by Claude L vi Strauss Deborah Hauptmann is associate professor of architecture theory at Delft University of Technology The Netherlands

Architecture in Black Darell Wayne Fields, 2016-09-22 Based on analysis of historical philosophical and semiotic texts Architecture in Black presents a systematic examination of the theoretical relationship between architecture and blackness Now updated this original study draws on a wider range of case studies highlighting the racial techniques that can legitimize modern historicity philosophy and architectural theory Arguing that architecture as an aesthetic practice and blackness as a linguistic practice operate within the same semiotic paradigm Darell Fields employs a technique whereby works are related through the repetition and revision of their semiotic structures Fields reconstructs the genealogy of a black racial subject represented by the simultaneous reading of a range of canonical texts from Hegel to Saussure to Henry Louis Gates Jr Combining an historical survey of racial discourse with new readings resulting from advanced semiotic techniques doubling as spatial arrangements Architecture in Black is an important contribution to studies of the racial in Western thought and its impact on architecture space and time
