Agricultural Biotechnology G. J. Persley, 1993 Agricultural Biotechnology G. J. Persley, 1993 Agricultural Biotechnology Opportunities for International Development G. J. Persley, 1989 Agricultural Biotechnology in International Development Agricultural Biotechnology for Sustainable Productivity Project, 1998 This volume provides an overview of research and applications and policy requirements for biotechnology in developing countries Agricultural Biotechnology, Poverty Reduction, and Food Security Asian Development Bank, 2001 This book is based on a study conducted by the Asian Development Bank ADB together with the Australian Centre for International Agricultural Research and the Australian Agency for International Development to examine the opportunities and risks of using biotechnology in reducing poverty and achieving food security in Asia Agricultural Biotechnology in Developing Countries Matin Qaim, Anatole F. Krattiger, Joachim von Braun, 2013-03-09 Biotechnology offers great potential to contribute to sustainable agricultural growth food security and poverty alleviation in developing countries Yet there are economic and institutional constraints at national and international levels that inhibit the poor people's access to appropriate biotechnological innovations Agricultural Biotechnology in Developing Countries Towards Optimizing the Benefits for the Poor addresses the major constraints Twenty three chapters written by a wide range of scholars and stake holders provide an up to date analysis of agricultural biotechnology developments in Latin America Africa and Asia Besides the expected economic and social impacts the challenges for an adjustment of the international research structure are discussed with a special focus on intellectual property rights and the roles of the main research organizations Harnessing the comparative advantages of the public and private sectors through innovative partnerships is the only way forward to optimize the benefits of biotechnology for the poor The book will be an invaluable resource for both academics and policy makers concerned with agricultural biotechnology in context of developing countries Agricultural Biotechnology G. J. Persley, Reginald MacIntyre, 2002 This book through its overview chapter and 12 country studies provides useful information on the evolving biotechnological research in Asia Africa and Latin America The emphasis is on the potential biotechnologies hold for agriculture in developing countries The reports vary in depth of coverage but all combine to show the urgent need that exists for public and private sector investment to ensure that all countries share in the benefits of modern biotechnologies while minimizing any unintended effects The book contains a subject index Assessing the Impacts of Agricultural Biotechnologies International Development Research Centre (Canada), 1995 Assessing the Impacts of Agricultural Biotechnologies Canadian Latin American Perspectives Handbook on Agriculture, Biotechnology and Development Stuart J. Smyth, Peter W.B. Phillips, David Castle, 2014-03-28 This book is a compendium of knowledge experience and insight on agriculture biotechnology and development Beginning with an account of GM crop adoptions and attitudes towards them the book assesses numerous crucial processes concluding with detail Agricultural Biotechnology G. J. Persley, Reginald

MacIntyre,2002 Following on from earlier titles in this series this volume presents further material generated by the World Bank ISNAR Australian government biotechnology study It covers the present status and future prospects for the application of biotechnology to solve agricultural and environmental problems in a number of developing countries Particular focus is given on to developments that have taken place over the last decade Agricultural Biotechnology ,1991

Biotechnology, Agriculture and the Developing World Timothy M. Swanson,2002 How will the industrial changes implicit within new biotechnologies affect modern agriculture This book investigates these changes and provides an economic analysis of the industrial and distributional impacts of new biotechnologies addressing in detail the significant consequences for developing countries One of the most important facets of biotechnological change is the development of new technologies for appropriating the value of innovations in related industries In agriculture these new appropriation technologies are known as genetic use restriction technologies which enable the innovator to capture the value of innovative plant varieties by preventing their reproduction after purchase This book analyses the implications of such technologies in terms of global agricultural production the rate of innovation at the technological frontier and in particular the diffusion of these innovations across the globe The authors set forth the economic and institutional framework within which innovations are occurring focusing on the impacts on the least technologically advanced nations and their incentives to conserve genetic resources for use in future research and development This stimulating book should be widely read by agricultural and resource economists development economists and scholars and researchers of environmental economics Policymakers in developing countries will also gain valuable insights into the distribution of the potential benefits from biotechnology Agricultural Biotechnology

Margriet F. Caswell,Keith Owen Fuglie,Cassandra A. Klotz,1994 Describes the economic scientific and social factors that will influence the future of biotechnology in agriculture Shows that both private and public sector R D are contributing significantly to the development of biotechnologies A review of 23 published studies on the subject Biotechnology,
