Enough with Famines in Ethiopia Fassil G. Kiros, 2005 When in 2002-03 Ethiopia was ushered into the twenty first century by the threat of famine of unprecedented proportion it stirred a deeply felt reaction to call on policy makers and ordinary citizens to raise arms against a scourge which has afflicted their country throughout its long history The announcement of the threat of famine amounted to a virtual acknowledgement that the country s past national development goal has been little more than a pipe dream For no claim of development can be made in the face of the prospect of mass starvation It is proposed that a new start is needed in Ethiopia in the pursuit of the goal of lasting food security and the prevention of recurrent famine one which can at times put to question the conventional development wisdom and calls for a commitment to certain key principles which can help prevent the repetition of past failures while at the same time providing the foundation for future progress It is argued that lasting food security can only be achieved by means of an interactive development process involving the sustainable development of agriculture and an increasingly diversified national economy In concluding the main questions which may likely concern many people are addressed directly Wherefrom are the investment resources to be obtained and where the capacities are to be summoned to promote the scale and tempo of the development envisaged Examples are offered of the types of measures which could be considered in response to the future development challenges Ultimately both the ends of development and the means by which they might be attained must derive impetus from the cravings and drive for accomplishment of ordinary people acting individually or collectively in the pursuit of their common interests The primary instrument for unleashing this potential belongs to the political realm

The Agriculture of Ethiopia, 1963 Sustainable Agricultural Development in Ethiopia United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee, 1990 Digest of Ethiopia's National Policies, Strategies and Programs Taye Assefa, 2008 Having just emerged from a prolonged civil war and faced with the urgent tasks of establishing political stability and reinvigorating an economy in tatters the Transitional Government of Ethiopia 1991-1995 had to set a new direction for the economic reconstruction and social rehabilitation of the worn torn and poverty ridden country During the Transitional Period a spate of new policies and strategies defining the development priorities goals and implementation instruments of the new regime led by the EPRDF was introduced This work is a synthesis of various sectoral policies and an attempt to trace the genesis of the policies highlight the continuities significant departures and other salient features Each of the reviews in this digest briefly analyses the critical elements of the policies identifies major gaps in the conceptualisation of the policy as well as the achievements registered and the challenges encountered in its implementation The authors also try to identify the outstanding issues to be addressed by policymakers and suggest remedies The policy reviews have been grouped into three parts and presented under social economic and governance sectors

Ethiopia's agrifood system: Past trends, present challenges, and future scenarios Dorosh, Paul A., ed., Minten, Bart, ed., 2020-09-14 Ethiopia has experienced impressive agricultural growth and poverty reduction stemming in part from substantial public investments in agriculture Yet the agriculture sector now faces increasing land and water constraints along with other challenges to growth Ethiopia's Agrifood System Past Trends Present Challenges and Future Scenarios presents a forward looking analysis of Ethiopia's agrifood system in the context of a rapidly changing economy Growth in the agriculture sector remains essential to continued poverty reduction in Ethiopia and will depend on sustained investment in the agrifood system especially private sector investment Many of the policies for a successful agricultural and rural development strategy for Ethiopia are relevant for other African countries as well Ethiopia's Agrifood System should be a valuable resource for policymakers development specialists and others concerned with economic development in Africa south of the Sahara
