Aids And The Church:

ISG 44: Church Communities Confronting HIV and AIDS Gideon Byamugisha, 2012-04-10 A new title in the ISG series to help Christians and churches around the world meet the enormous challenges that HIV AIDS presents particularly in African countries

The Church and Hiv/Aids Epidemic Sam Inyang, 2013-04-01 The work is an explicit revelation of how the Church can take its position in the global struggle against HIV AIDS epidemic It highlights the spiritual social and economic potentials of the Church to make impressive contribution to arrest the exploits of HIV AIDS in human population The book also presents strategies for Christians and corporate Churches to increase their spiritual energy by connecting the all knowing all powerful and the all loving God for increased know how and operational competence It promotes the formation of God Human synergy as necessary requirement for behavioral change improved care prospects for cure and general combat effectiveness against the epidemic Sam Inyang is a prolific Sunday school and Bible Teacher a Journalist and Public Relations practitioner by training He attended the Life and Power Bible Academy In 1991 he met an AIDS patient in Jos University Teaching Hospital Nigeria which changed his perception and views about the disease A year after he began to raise train and empower Christian youths from different denominations to challenge the epidemic on personal family and immediate community grounds and to establish NGOs and CBOs in rural communities of the South South region of Nigeria He believes the solution of the epidemic lies with the Church

Victim Theology Peter Mageto, 2006-03-21 Rarely does a book come along with a renewed understanding on the way certain issues are treated especially the Church's response to HIV AIDS Other books talk about the social economic issues in relation to HIV AIDS but this book goes further to show the theological basis of the church's response With evidence from the history of the main line churches Mageto exposes the suppressed views within the mission churches on the HIV AIDS The book opens up yet another way of understanding the church's response to HIV AIDS so far and shows new ways of looking at the pandemic in particular those who are infected and affected

The Approach of Churches and Church-Related Organizations to HIV/AIDS Programmes: Based on Case Studies in Ethiopia and Southern India Andrea Schirmer-Müller, 2006-07-18 Master's Thesis from the year 2005 in the subject Politics Topic Development Politics grade 1 4 University of Bremen language English abstract The Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome hereafter AIDS pandemic has changed many parts of the world in just a short time despite efforts aimed at controlling it Human Immunodeficiency Virus hereafter HIV AIDS is predominantly a sexually transmitted disease that causes illness and death The groups most at risk are those between 15 and 49 years often described as the sexually active who are the most reproductive people in society and the backbone of the productive forces of any country The particularities of this disease are not only the large number of victims but also the suffering of those affected AIDS is related to two deep dimensions of the human existence sexuality and death The impact of HIV AIDS is multi dimensional as the disease affects social economic political psychological cultural ethical and religious areas Additionally the connection of sexuality and death is often linked to the questions of guilt and innocence chance and causality Wherever such deep dimensions of human existence are raised religion may be called upon The questions of the why and where to are not purely questions of medical science but often involve transcendence and therefore religion HIV AIDS and the approach of churches and church related organizations is a complex issue In many countries congregations and parishes are seen to be in the forefront of effective contributions to sexual education and prevention especially in the form of care and support programmes AIDS thus mobilizes churches as healing communities On the other hand churches are often accused of being a sleeping giant of promoting stigmatization and discrimination based on fear and prejudices of reducing issues related to AIDS to simplistic rigid sexual and moral judgements

Religion and AIDS Treatment in Africa Hansjörg Dilger, Thera Rasing, 2016-04-08 This book critically interrogates emerging interconnections between religion and biomedicine in Africa in the era of antiretroviral treatment for AIDS Highlighting the complex relationships between religious ideologies practices and organizations on the one hand and biomedical treatment programmes and the scientific languages and public health institutions that sustain them on the other this anthology charts largely uncovered terrain in the social science study of the Aids epidemic Spanning different regions of Africa the authors offer unique access to issues at the interface of religion and medical humanitarianism and the manifold therapeutic traditions religious practices and moralities as they co evolve in situations of AIDS treatment This book also sheds new light on how religious spaces are formed in response to the dilemmas people face with the introduction of life prolonging treatment programmes

African Americans and HIV/AIDS Donna Hubbard McCree, PhD, MPH, RPh, Kenneth Terrill Jones, MSW, Ann O'Leary, PhD, 2010-09-14 Among U S racial and ethnic minority populations African American communities are the most disproportionately impacted and affected by HIV AIDS CDC 2009 CDC 2008 The chapters in this volume seek to explore factors that contribute to this disparity as well as methods for intervening and positively impacting the epidemic in the U S The book is divided into two sections The first section includes chapters that explore specific contextual and structural factors related to HIV AIDS transmission and prevention in African Americans The second section is composed of chapters that address the latest in intervention strategies including best evidence and promising evidence based behavioral interventions program evaluation cost effectiveness analyses and HIV testing and counseling As background for the book the Introduction provides a summary of the context and importance of other infectious disease rates i e sexually transmitted diseases STDs and tuberculosis to HIV AIDS prevention and treatment in African Americans and a brief introductory discussion on the major contextual factors related to the acquisition and transmission of STDs HIV Contextual Chapters Johnson Dean author the first chapter in this section which discusses the history and epidemiology of HIV AIDS among African Americans Specifically this chapter provides a definition for and description of the US surveillance systems used to track HIV AIDS and presents data on HIV or AIDS cases diagnosed between 2002 and 2006 and reported to CDC as of June 30 2007

Women, HIV, and the Church Arthur J. Ammann, Julie

Ponsford Holland, 2012-09-24 As the world watched the biggest global epidemic in history evolve many anticipated that Christians would embrace those who were affected just as Jesus during his time embraced those who were sick and dying Mostly the Christian church stood back and observed Sometimes Christians responded with stigma and discrimination Many who sought refuge in the churches churches where they had served the sick and the poor were turned away as they now sought refuge for themselves and their children Individual authors address the critical issues related to the HIV epidemic women and the Christian church how the HIV epidemic affected so many women and children what the Old and New Testaments teach about our responsibility to the poor the needy the sick the widow and the orphan and how difficult it should be for Christians to ignore these teachings The HIV epidemic continues and millions of women and children bear a disproportionate share of the pain and suffering without a refuge Although HIV is a specific disease it serves as a paradigm for all Christians to ask what other needs they may be ignoring

Ethical Dilemmas in Church Leadership Michael R. Milco, Shares case studies on some of the most sensitive issues pastors and church leaders may have to deal with in their churches child abuse AIDS infidelity homosexuality and unexpected pregnancies The Church and AIDS in Africa Amy Stephenson Patterson, 2011 This book explores the role of the Christian church broadly and diversely defined as both institutions and communities of believers although the focus of the analysis is on institutional behaviors in the politics of HIV AIDS in Africa The author creates a typology of church AIDS actions no response early narrow response early broad response late narrow response and late broad response and seeks explanations for where churches fall within this typology in terms of institutional resources organizational structures relations with the state and global networks AIDS and the Church Earl E. Shelp, 1992

Vulnerability, Churches, and HIV Goran Gunner, 2009-01-01 The HIV pandemic has caused serious challenges for the Church as well as for theology The pandemic has brought enormous human suffering to individuals and has affected families and entire societies In this context churches need to listen and to learn and not least to respond to thereby mold their own actions and futures In so doing this book aims to enable churches to become more HIV and AIDS competent Vulnerability Churches and HIV includes two kinds of contributions First researchers present their thoughts about theology the church and HIV A pastoral letter from the bishops of the Church of Sweden provides a second perspective The letter makes recommendations to decision making bodies patent holders and decision makers in the pharmaceutical industry The letter also guides parishes and church workers Contributors include editor Goran Gunner Musa W Dube Susanne Rappmann Kenneth R Overberg Edwina Ward and the bishops of the Church of Sweden The book is the first volume in the Church of Sweden Research Series

Religious Responses to HIV and AIDS Miguel Munoz-Laboy, Jonathan Garcia, Joyce Moon-Howard, Patrick Wilson, Richard Parker, 2016-01-08 Religious institutions shaped the ways individuals communities and societies responded to HIV and AIDS since the 1980s This book draws on research studies ranging in context from sites in sub Saharan Africa to New York City in the USA to examine the complexity of responding to the epidemic both globally and locally Religious systems of meaning practices and institutions have been central to the articulation of projects for social change and inversely sometime strongly resistant to change in diverse institutional responses to HIV and AIDS Sometimes religious movements provided powerful forces for community mobilisation in response to the social vulnerability economic exclusion and health problems associated with HIV In other contexts religious cultures have reproduced values and practices that have seriously impeded more effective approaches to mitigate the epidemic By highlighting these complex and sometimes contradictory social processes this book provides new insights about the potential for religious institutions to address the HIV epidemic more effectively More broadly it shows how research can be done on religion in the area of global public health showing how civil society organizations shape opportunities for health promotion a crucial and new area of global public health research This book was originally published as a special issue of Global Public Health Aids in the Church Linda Davis,2009-03-31 In a crisis people are sometimes confused and put their trust in man When these individuals cant answer their prayers The only name that is important is the name of Jesus He will never leave you or forsake you like man Nor will he tell another human being any of your business I guarantee you that the name of Jesus is who you want to call for when it is time to pray AIDS is Real and It's in Our Church C. Jean Garland,2003 Living with Hope Ezra Chitando,2007 Addressing the need for an in depth understanding and analysis of how Churches in Africa are living with the epidemic of HIV AIDS Ezra Chitando s book insists that the church must accompany people and communities living with HIV and AIDS on their journeys of faith He argues that the church in Africa must be one with friendly feet which ministers to every need thus repenting its negative attitudes as well as the stigma and discrimination surrounding the disease As it works with and among those living with HIV it must also interrogate its theology its attitude to sexuality and its gender insensitivity and awaken to the realisation that it must become an all embracing community Chitando insists that a church with friendly feet does not pose questions about the moral standing of those with whom it is journeying African churches need friendly feet to journey with individuals and communities living with HIV and AIDS warm hearts to demonstrate compassion and anointed hands to effect healing Reflecting on these themes Living with Hope is the first of two books Somebody's Knocking at Your Door Harold G Koenig,Carole B Weatherford,Ronald J Weatherford,2013-10-08 Examining the black church s response to AIDS Somebody s Knocking at Your Door AIDS and the African American Church analyzes sexual ethics and homophobia in the black church to provide pastors social workers and health professionals with intervention strategies for parishioners or members of the community who have AIDS By discussing the church s historic and successful activism and its relationship to the community along with AIDS statistics relevant theologies and other AIDS ministries this book suggests the benefits of increased church involvement versus other agencies or organizations Somebody s Knocking at Your Door will help you develop prevention education and pastoral care programs that will alert individuals to the risks of AIDS and will offer people with AIDS the comfort and assistance they need in coping with the disease Through the voices of leading clergy AIDS

advocates and people living with AIDS PLWAs this book calls on the African American church to become more involved in helping communities deal with the disease Somebody's Knocking at Your Door offers you ideas on how to improve the lives of individuals with AIDS through the church including welcoming PLWAs into the church through announcements by local media church newsletters and Sunday bulletins offering AIDS support groups at the church or loaning office space equipment or clerical assistance to AIDS organizations recognizing the power of intercessory prayer for PLWAs caring for PLWAs by delivering meals to their homes preparing meals at the church and developing a transportation network that will take parishioners to doctor appointments church or on recreational outings preparing meals running errands housekeeping handling paperwork negotiating legal issues and offering friendship possible components of volunteer buddy programs for homebound PLWAs training pastors clergy and Sunday school teachers to educate ministries on AIDS in the African American community sexual intimacy intravenous drug use and needle sharing monogamy community resources and condom use Since some clergy still believe that AIDS is a gay disease Somebody's Knocking at Your Door discusses the issue of homosexuality within the church By analyzing passages from the Bible the authors refute the belief that homosexuals were neglected by God and undeserving of care and love This belief according to the authors inhibits some churches and individuals from discussing HIV AIDS because of fear they would also be acknowledging homosexuality Highlighting AIDS ministries throughout the United States Somebody's Knocking at Your Door encourages the African American church to confront the issue of AIDS and understand that the disease can affect anyone This book will give you the necessary strategies for starting and implementing AIDS ministries and intervention programs that will educate and support your community
