Barbour,Guro Huby,2005-08-04 Meddling with Mythology examines the role of research in the construction of modern mythology or folklore surrounding HIV AIDS Researchers from a variety of disciplines reflect on the insights gained and the impact of their work in light of the initial panic surrounding the prediction of an AIDS epidemic Issues discussed include power representation the politics of text understanding research relationships impact of research on researchers and responders potential for change Meddling with Mythology takes the reader from the theoretical to the practicable and from the public to the personal in the representations of AIDS The issues raised here also have great significance for those concerned with the social construction of knowledge theory building and the research process more generally The Unknown Country: Death in Australia, Britain and the USA Kathy Charmaz,Glennys Howarth,Allan Kellehear,2016-07-27 In a strategy deliberately counter to many earlier texts which focus on social aspects of death and dying this book will not examine death through the social prism of US or British culture alone Drawing only on material from a single society gives readers the misleading impression of a universal experience As a text in the sociology of death and dying this volume examines culture specific images and experiences of death in three major western societies Australia Britain and the USA Men, Gender Divisions and Welfare Jeanette Edwards,Jeff Hearn,Prof Jeff Hearn,Jennie Popay,2002-05-03 A fresh look at the balance of responsibilities and control in care giving both in the public and private spheres Using previously unpublished empirical data contributors focus on male experiences of welfare services Welfare And Policy Neil Lunt,Douglas Coyle,2013-10-15 First Published in 1996 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company AIDS Education, Care, and Drug Development United States. Developing Effective Policies for HIV/AIDS Education practice in Sub Saharan Africa: The Case of Urban Schools of Malawi: A synergy of pupils needs, policies and practice Paul Makochi,2014-11-01 HIV AIDS has been named the Sub Saharan disease In countries that have achieved significant declines in HIV prevalence young people have registered the biggest behavioural changes It means they hold the keys not only to our understanding of the epidemic but more importantly to the efforts required to stem the tide of infections However the majority of young people are ignorant of how to prevent transmission have low compliance to condom use which is in some cases accentuated by misconceptions about HIV AIDS transmission and have insufficient knowledge regarding transmission and avoidance behaviours As such consensus on feasible preventive interventions target young people particularly those in schools It is on this premise that the book unlocks the key pillars in effective HIV AIDS education policies and practices The study has drawn upon the experiences of selected Urban Schools in Malawi to explore the needs of young people in classroom the extent to which the classroom practices respond to the needs and the factors influencing these using questionnaires interviews lesson observations and document analysis Malawi typically represents most Sub Saharan African countries in terms of challenges faced by education systems Given the similar cultural settings of the people of Sub Saharan Africa the findings and recommendations of the study generalises to the education systems of Sub Saharan Africa to a greater extent The book shows the need for open discussion climates on HIV AIDS issues despite a conservative cultural and religious adult world that is not open It has also identified a need for explicit and accurate knowledge on HIV AIDS issues opportunities to acquire behavioural skills for HIV prevention and involvement of external speakers in classroom HIV AIDS education Current classroom practice does not address the pupils needs adequately Factors influencing this can be linked to lack of policies responsive to culture and religion ineffective and inadequate teaching policy guidelines and lack of a policy prioritising HIV AIDS education The findings suggest that in future effective HIV AIDS Education needs to be informed by the pupils needs To address these needs support from the wider society and related policies coupled with appropriate management and classroom practice will be required The book is therefore an indispensable tool for education systems in Sub Saharan Africa It provides an effective model for

AIDS, Poverty, and Hunger Stuart Gillespie, Stuart R. Gillespie, 2006-01-01 The global AIDS epidemic has caused over 25 million deaths since 1981 and there is no end in sight It is a multidimensional phased long wave crisis with impacts that will be felt for decades to come Attempts to defeat the epidemic are conventionally grounded in the three core pillars of AIDS policy prevention treatment and care and mitigation But there is also an urgent need for a deeper understanding of the integral role that food and nutrition can and should play and a corresponding urgency to use that understanding to improve responses at all levels The 18 essays in AIDS Poverty and Hunger Challenges and Responses contribute to such an understanding by examining the impacts of HIV and AIDS on labor markets and wages household income and consumption dynamics and the agricultural sector as a whole by studying the ways in which households respond to prime age illness death and food insecurity and by exploring the implications of local responses for the roles that national and international actors must play in addressing the AIDS hunger nexus This book creates an opportunity for development professionals to build the conceptual links lacking in current multisectoral frameworks assess impacts and costs propose indicators and monitoring systems and design appropriate food and nutrition related interventions and policies
