Aids In The World 1992

Melvin Konner

Aids In The World 1992:

AIDS in the World II Global AIDS Policy Coalition, 1996 AIDS in the World Vol 1 published in 1992 was the first full analysis of mankind's global confrontation with this disease. The AIDS scene however has been changing so rapidly that the need for a second volume was felt much earlier than expected. In AIDS in the World II the authors extend the international comparisons from 38 countries to the entire world and show that the AIDS pandemic has become increasingly fragmented within the world population. They present data that takes the discussion beyond the current understanding of the vulnerability of nations and communities to the worldwide spread of HIV, engaging in a detailed exploration of the social strategies that have enabled individuals to avoid infection. Mann and Tarantola chart a course into the future based on an incisive investigation of the global pandemic and response, the crucial lessons learned from the first decade and their expert understanding of the scientific and social dimensions of the HIV challenge. The authors explain how the variety of reactions to the pandemic has contributed to a more advanced awareness of our vulnerability to HIV/AIDS and offer a blueprint for an expanded global prevention effort. Intended to serve the information needs of all professionals involved in AIDS research and care, this volume's accessibility and clarity of writing make it highly suitable for the general reader as well. History of Recueil des cours de l'Académie de droit européen Academy of European Law Staff, 2013-06-29 Your invitation to me as the President of the European Court of Human Rights to conclude this year's study programme on the protection of human rights in Europe by delivering the prestigious Winston Churchill lecture is a great honour not only for me personally but for the European Court of Human Rights as a whole and I should like to thank the European University Institute and its Academy of European Law most warmly for giving me this opportunity. You are fortunate to have had the opportunity of following a week-long general course on the protection of human rights in Europe given by my colleague and friend Carl Aage Nørgaard, the President of the European Commission of Human Rights. To speak after him in order to bring to a close your study programme makes my task in some respects easier because I can take it for granted that you now have a clear and comprehensive understanding of the guarantees and the functioning of the European Convention on Human Rights. On the other hand, it is I must confess not without a certain apprehension that I take the floor at this juncture because I am very well aware of how difficult it is to keep the attention of an audience which has had the privilege of hearing Carl Aagaard on more or less the same subject An Epidemiological Review of HIV/AIDS in Sub-Saharan Africa Peter O. Gostin, Zita Lazzarini, 1997-04-10 A penetrating analysis of the close relationship between public health and human rights this book makes a compelling case for synergy between the two fields Using the AIDS pandemic as a lens the authors demonstrate that health is closely related to human dignity and individual rights human rights cannot be deemed adequate and comprehensive without ensuring the health of individuals In the course of their analysis Gostin and Lazzarini tackle some of the most vexing issues of our time including the universality of human rights and the counter claims of cultural relativity Taking a cue from environmental impact assessment they propose a human rights impact assessment for examining health policies a tool that will be invaluable for evaluating real world public health problems This volume examines issues HIV testing screening partner notification isolation quarantine and criminalization of persons with HIV AIDS within the framework of international human rights law The authors evaluate the public health implications of a wide range of AIDS policies in developed as well as developing countries The role of women in society receives special emphasis Finally the book presents three case histories significant in the HIV AIDS pandemic and analyzes them from a human rights perspective The cases include discrimination and the transmission of HIV and tuberculosis in an occupational health care setting breast feeding in the least developed countries and confidentiality and the right of sexual partners to know of potential exposure to HIV Gostin and Lazzarini have written a book that will be a valuable addition to the libraries of public health practitioners legal scholars bioethicists policy makers and public rights activists AIDS Michael L. Closen, 1989 Beyond Progress Hugh De Santis, 1996-05-15 Argues that in a world of dwindling resources economic inequality and unrelenting violence the belief in endless progress can no longer be sustained Asserts that we have arrived at a great historic divide in which the old modern order is giving way to an age of mutualism Draws on world history and the study of international relations to explore the emerging future in which new forms of social and political identity and regional associations and alignments will be needed to solve global problems Argues that mutualism will require a dramatic change in the way states international institutions corporations and local communities interact and that this transformation will be especially difficult for the United States which will have to abandon its exceptionalist identity and rejoin a world it can no longer escape Sexual Politics In Cuba Marvin Leiner, 2019-05-28 In this book Marvin Leiner analyzes the practice of quarantine in the context of the Cuban Revolution He also focuses on efforts by Cuban educators to introduce sex education in the schools and to change sexist and homophobic attitudes discussing their successes and failures with candor and examining the explicit and implicit linkages between machismo and homophobia
