Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress,1970 A cumulative list of works represented by Library of Congress printed cards Riding the Academic Freedom Train Jeanett Castellanos,Joseph L. White,Veronica Franco,2023-07-03 Mentoring demonstrably increases the retention of undergraduate and graduate students and is moreover invaluable in shaping and nurturing academic careers With the increasing diversification of the student body and of faculty ranks there s a clear need for culturally responsive mentoring across these dimensions Recognizing the low priority that academia has generally given to extending the practice of mentoring let alone providing mentoring for Black indigenous and people of color BIPOC and first generation students this book offers a proven and holistic model of mentoring practice developed in the field of psychology that not only helps mentees navigate their studies and the academy but provides them with an understanding of the systemic and racist barriers they will encounter validates their cultural roots and contributions and attends to their personal development Further recognizing the demands that mentoring places on already busy faculty the model addresses ways of distributing the work inviting White and BIPOC faculty to participate developing mentees capacities to mentor those that follow them building a network of mentoring across generations and adopting group mentoring Intentionally planned and implemented the model becomes self perpetuating building an intergenerational cadre of mentors who can meet the growing and continuing needs of the BIPOC community Opening with a review of the salient research on effective mentoring and chapters that offer minority students views on what has worked for them as well as reflections by faculty mentors the core of the book describes the Freedom Train model developed by the godfather of Black psychology Dr Joseph White setting out the principles and processes that inform the Multiracial Multiethnic Multicultural M3 Mentoring Model that evolved from it and offers an example of group mentoring While addressed principally to faculty interested in undertaking mentoring and supporting minoritized students and faculty the book also addresses Deans and Chairs and how they can create Freedom Train communities and networks by changing the cultural climate of their institutions providing support and modifying faculty evaluations and rewards that will in turn contribute to student retention as well as creative and productive scholarship and research This is a timely and inspiring book for anyone in the academy concerned with the success of BIPOC students and invigorating their department s or school s scholarship □□□□□□□□,1977 Resources in Education ,1998

Handbook of School Counseling Hardin L.K. Coleman,Christine Yeh,2011-04-06 The mission of this forty eight chapter Handbook is to provide a comprehensive reference source that integrates counseling theory research and practice into one volume It is designed to meet the needs of entry level practitioners from their initial placement in schools through their first three to five years of practice It will also be of interest to experienced school counselors counselor educators school researchers and counseling representatives within state and local governments School-Based Mental Health Ray W. Christner,Rosemary B. Mennuti,2008-12-22 This volume provides school based practitioners with a comprehensive and comparative guide to the strategic interventions therapeutic modalities and treatment approaches that are most commonly and effectively used in educational settings Three main sections of the text present a foundation of universal interventions targeted interventions and alternative interventions appropriate for use in schools Unifying the chapters are two central case examples allowing the reader to see and evaluate the strengths and potential challenges of each technique in a familiar situation This emphasis on case examples and the comparative structure of the volume will provide a level of hands on and practical learning that is helpful for both students and mental health practitioners working in schools for the first time and as a resource for more seasoned professionals who need to expand the tools at their disposal Counselling Skills for Health Professionals Philip Burnard,1999 An introduction to basic theoretical and practical skills essential for all health care professionals Early chapters explore theoretical issues relating to the nature of counseling and self awareness Later chapters consider specific skills and discuss ways in which counseling skills can be learned Includes individual and group exercises This third edition contains new material on aggression and personal safety
