

THE FOSTER CARE & ADOPTION PROCESS

There are millions of children in our own neighborhoods and around the world in need of a loving, permanent family.

Could you be that family?

While no two experiences are alike, here is the general process for becoming a foster or adoptive parent.

- 1 study up on real foster care or adoption experiences by talking to friends or going online
- discuss your thoughts about foster care or adoption with your spouse and family

- 2 contact
several adoption service providers, such as agencies or adoption attorneys
- learn how the foster care or adoption process is unique for every agency, attorney, state, country, and family

- 3 talk about your reasons for fostering or adopting
- think about the ages or needs of children who may be a good fit for you and your family
- decide which adoption service provider is the right fit for you. Don't be afraid to "try out" several until you find a match that feels right.

- 6 complete a homestudy, which may include a tour of your home, as well as legal, financial, and psychological evaluations

- 5 educate yourself
on foster care or adoption through mandatory and/or optional training sessions

- 4 make it official by completing applications or paperwork required by your adoption service provider

- 7 get approved
as a foster or adoptive parent

- 8 get matched
with a child
- decide
if you are ready to be that child's new foster or adoptive parent

- 9 finalize your adoption or foster care placement

- 10 and then... be the best parent you can be! Keep learning, look for new resources, and surround yourself with a community of support.

Adopting for Good Jorie Kincaid,1997 Discusses the issues to consider when making a decision about adoption

Adopting for Good Jorie Kincaid,1997-01-01 There are many children who need parents This book will show you how to find the child who needs you whether you are single infertile or medically prohibited from having a child or just looking for the boy or girl you've always wanted Author Jorie Kincaid is an adopted child herself and she and her husband Ron have adopted children both domestically and internationally In this practical guidebook she provides all the information you need to decide whether adoption is for you and to begin working through the adoption process You'll find out how adoption works both domestically and internationally learn the differences between open and closed adoption and explore the steps you can take to make adoption permanent Kincaid offers advice on special adoption needs for older children and children from other countries cultures and races She also helps you wrestle with ethical questions like When does adoption become buying a baby If you are considering adoption or if you are already in the midst of adopting a child here is an encouraging and helpful resource you'll turn to again and again If you're curious about whether adoption is right for you here is experienced counsel to help you make a wise decision

Adoption and the Gospel Gerald D. Clark,2014-10-15 Adoption and The Gospel delivers sound biblical doctrine that most have never heard One does not need to be a bible scholar to understand its message Gerald Clark chronicles his struggle to overcome his traditional image of an orphanage and how he learned from heart wrenching personal experiences with the children what they so desperately want and need Six years working with children in an orphanage in the Philippines left Gerald and his wife seeking answers to difficult and very troubling questions If God loves me why am I an orphan If you love me why don't you adopt me I kept asking myself What's wrong with this picture No matter how much we love and care for children in an orphanage they're still orphans What's wrong with the picture is that we simply don't understand that children just don't want to BE orphans Would we need more orphanages if Adoption was part of the Global Mission Strategy of every evangelical church in the world Adoption says something about the Gospel and God's love that no other word can say The Gospel is incomplete if it fails to include adoption Jesus came into the world to bring us a living example of God's love so that we might receive the adoption as sons Galatians 4:4-5 As many as received Him to them He gave the right to become children of God John 1:12 The solution to the world's orphan crisis is found in the bible Adoption Ministry equips the church to accomplish the task and God has called millions of families around the world who already want to adopt
