Adoption In Eastern Oceania:

Adoption in Eastern Oceania Vern Carroll,1970

Cross-cultural Approaches to Adoption Fiona Bowie,2004

Adoption is currently subject to a great deal of media scrutiny High profile cases of international adoption via the internet and other unofficial routes have drawn attention to the relative ease with which children can be obtained on the global circuit and have brought about legislation which regulates the exchange of children within and between countries However a scarcity of research into cross cultural attitudes to child rearing and a wider lack of awareness of cultural difference in adoptive contexts has meant that the assumptions underlying Western childcare policy are seldom examined or made explicit These articles look at adoption practices from Africa Oceania Asia and Central America including examples of societies in which children are routinely separated from their biological parents or passed through several foster families Showing the range and flexibility of the child rearing practices that approximate to the Western term adoption they demonstrate the benefits of a cross cultural appreciation of family life and allow a broader understanding of the varied relationships that exist between children and adoptive parents Adoption in Eastern Oceania Vern Carroll, Adoption P. Conn,2013-01-28

Combining advocacy and memoir with social and cultural history this book offers a comparative cross cultural survey of the whole history of adoption that is grounded in the author s personal experience Transactions in Kinship Ivan

Brady,2019-09-30 A collection of essays that follows up on Adoption in Eastern Oceania by Vern Carroll Most were presented at a symposium during the First Annual Association for Social Anthropology in Oceania ASAO meeting in 1972 Polynesia in Early Historic Times Douglas L. Oliver,2002 This book presents a comprehensive and balanced description of major aspects of Polynesian cultures using both the accounts of the European discoverers and the up to date writings of archaeologists and anthropologists BOOKJACKET What is Parenthood? Linda C. McClain,Daniel Cere,2013-01-01

Extraordinary changes in patterns of family life and family law have dramatically altered the boundaries of parenthood and opened up numerous questions and debates What is parenthood and why does it matter How should society define regulate and support it Is parenthood separable from marriage or couplehood when society seeks to foster children s well being What is the better model of parenthood from the perspective of child outcomes Intense disagreements over the definition and future of marriage often rest upon conflicting convictions about parenthood What Is Parenthood asks bold and direct questions about parenthood in contemporary society and it brings together a stellar interdisciplinary group of scholars with widely varying perspectives to investigate them Editors Linda C McClain and Daniel Cere facilitate a dynamic conversation between scholars from several disciplines about competing models of parenthood and a sweeping array of topics including single parenthood adoption donor created families gay and lesbian parents transnational parenthood parent child attachment and gender difference and parenthood A Sealed and Secret Kinship Judith S. Modell,Judith Schachter,2002 Adoption is a controversial subject in the United States particularly in the last 30 years Why that is and how public attention affects the decisions made by those who arrange legalise and experience adoption forms the subject of this book Constructing History, Culture and Inequality Sandra Evers, 2021-10-11 During the early 20th century a group of ex slaves established a frontier society in the no man s land of the extreme Southern Highlands of Madagascar First settlers skilfully deployed a fluid set of Malagasy customs to implant a myth of themselves as tompon tany or masters of the land Eventually they created a land monopoly to reinforce their legitimacy and to exclude later migrants Some of them were labelled andevo slave or slave descent The tompon tany prohibited the andevo from owning land and thereby from having tombs This book focuses on the plight of the tombless andevo and how their ascribed impurity and association with infertility illness death and misfortune made them an essential part of the tompon tany world view Cultural Identity and Ethnicity in the Pacific Jocelyn Linnekin, Lin Poyer, 1990-01-01 Making Families Through Adoption Nancy E. Riley, Krista E. Van Vleet, 2012 This volume examines adoption as a way of understanding the practices and ideology of kinship and family more generally Adoption allows a window onto discussions of what constitute family or kin the role of biological connectedness oversight of parenting practices by the state and the role of race gender sexuality and socio economic class in the building of families The book focuses primarily on adoption practices in the US but will also use examples of adoption and fostering across cultures to put those American adoption practices into a comparative context While reviewing practices of and issues surrounding adoption the authors highlight the ways these practices and discussions allow us greater insight into overall practices of kinship and family

Landscapes of Relations and Belonging Astrid Anderson, 2011-04-01 Wogeo Island is well known to anthropologists of Papua New Guinea through the work of Ian Hogbin Based on substantial fieldwork the author builds on and expands previous research by showing how Wogeos establish and maintain social relationships and identities connected to place and movement in the physical landscape This innovative study demonstrates how Wogeo worldviews and social organization can be described in relation to terms of movements flows and placements in the landscape while in turn the landscape is constituted and made meaningful through people s activities and buildings The author not only addresses some of the key issues in contemporary anthropology concerning place gender kinship knowledge and power but also fills an important gap in Melanesian ethnography Different Faces of Attachment Hiltrud Otto, Heidi Keller, 2014-07-17 This groundbreaking reconceptualization of attachment theory brings together leading scholars from psychology anthropology and related fields to reformulate the theory to fit the cultural realities of our world It will be of particular interest to scholars and graduate students interested in developmental psychology developmental anthropology evolutionary biology and cross cultural psychology A World of Babies Judy S. DeLoache, 2000-05-18 Manuals for new parents illustrating many models of babyhood shaped by different values and cultures Child Fostering in West Africa , 2013-05-15 Child fostering is an age old and also modern phenomenon whose importance stretches much further than the boundaries of so called traditional African societies As a mobile and creative kinship practice child fostering is of growing importance in the global world as it goes along with other forms of mobility such as migration and transnationalism The book aims to revitalize the study of fostering by situating the issue in more recent theoretical approaches to kinship It also examines what functionalist and structuralist theory may still contribute to the understanding of child fostering Historical and recent child fostering practices in several West African countries are discussed from the angles of Anthropology History and Law Mangrove Man David Lipset, 1997-11-13 The first modern ethnography of the Murik a relatively large and important community settled on the Sepik River estuary in Papua New Guinea American Anthropology in Micronesia Robert C. Kiste, Mac Marshall, 1999-01-01 American Anthropology in Micronesia An Assessment evaluates how anthropological research in the Trust Territory has affected the Micronesian people the U S colonial administration and the discipline of anthropology itself Contributors analyze the interplay between anthropology and history in particular how American colonialism affected anthropologists use of history and examine the research that has been conducted by American anthropologists in specific topical areas of socio cultural anthropology Although concentrating largely on disciplinary concerns the authors consider the connections between work done in the era of applied anthropology and that completed later when anthropology was pursued mainly for its own sake The focus then returns to applied concerns in more recent years and issues pertaining to the relevance of anthropology for the world of practical affairs It will be of essential interest to students and scholars of Pacific Islands studies and the history of anthropology New Directions in Anthropological Kinship Linda Stone, 2002-05-30 Following periods of intense debate and eventual demise kinship studies is now seeing a revival in anthropology New Directions in Anthropological Kinship captures these recent trends and explores new avenues of inquiry in this re emerging subfield The book comprises contributions from primatology evolutionary anthropology archaeology and cultural anthropology The authors review the history of kinship in anthropology and its theory and recent research in relation to new directions of anthropological study Moving beyond the contentious debates of the past the book covers feminist anthropology on kinship the expansion of kinship into the areas of new reproductive technologies recent kinship constructions in EuroAmerican societies and the role of kinship in state politics Perspectives on Las Américas Mathew C. Gutmann, Félix V. Rodríguez, Lynn Stephen, Patricia Zavella, 2008-04-15 Perspectives on Las Am ricas A Reader in Culture History and Representation charts new territory by demonstrating the limits of neatly demarcating the regions of Latin America and the United States This landmark volume presents key readings that collectively examine the historical cultural economic and political integration of Latina os across the Americas thereby challenging the barriers between Latino Studies and Latin American Caribbean Studies Brings together key readings that collectively examine the historical cultural economic and political integration of Latina os across the Americas Charts new territory by demonstrating the limits of neatly demarcating the regions of Latin America and the United States Challenges the barriers between Latino Studies and Latin American Caribbean Studies as approached by anthropologists historians and other scholars Offers instructors students and interested readers both the theoretical tools and case studies necessary to rethink transnational realities and identities Family Beyond Family James P. Ito-Adler, Parker Shipton, 2024-12-01 Arguably all humans invent or accept forms of family beyond those that are close biological kin These fictive forms of kinship may vary across diverse cultures and serve different purposes This book explores a wide variety of such kinship forming from expedient daylong pseudo marriages to notions of deities as everlasting parents for humankind and life on earth These range from the purely abstract to the bricks and mortar of college fraternities and sororities Family Beyond Family observes and examines the principles and purposes of such fabricated connections
