The Amazing Power of Adoption: How Unconditional Love Can Overcome Adversity David Michael Waggoner,2017-03-21 A masterfully condensed true story spanning a half century about the incredible power of adoption through the eyes of a man who was adopted gave up a son for adoption and later adopted a son of his own The author is available for speaking engagements and also welcomes comments and questions through the following email address TheAmazingPowerOfAdoption GMail com

The Spirit of

Adoption Jeanne Stevenson Moessner,2003-01-01 In this theology of adoption Stevenson Moessner argues that while the church has long understood the grounding self concept of a Christian as a child of God it has failed to underscore that all people come into the family of faith by adoption

Recognising Adoptee Relationships Christine A. Lewis,2022-08-01 With a triadic perspective this autoethnographic narrative explores the temporal situated nature of interactions between the author as an adoptee with her adult adopted children as well as those between herself and her birth father and mother The epiphanic adoptive family narratives that are foregrounded seek to deepen and challenge understanding of how kinship affinities are experienced The autoethnographic narratives are written in a critical evocative style which is valuable for two reasons Firstly the processes of reflexive self introspection self observation and dialogue with relational others have established a critical connection between recognising and responding to kinship affinities and personal growth Secondly lying at the intersection of the self and other this narrative contributes to deepening insights around epistemic in justice in adoptive kinship This book will be of interest to educators and scholars of adoption in offering an insider perspective on unique family relationships as well as how the author undertakes critical evocative autoethnography Adoptees adoptive parents and birth parents will also find the narratives in Part II of this book of particular interest in informing an understanding of kin relationships and how these may be subject to change over time
