Adult Development, Therapy, and Culture Gerald D. Young, 1997-02-28 This volume proposes a theoretical integration of several major streams in contemporary psychological theory about adult development and therapy It adopts the perspective that there are steps in development throughout the adult period and that they are characterized by a union of the cognitive and affective the self and the other and idea with idea in second order collective abstractions That is they are at once postformal in terms of Piaget s theory sociocultural in terms of Vygotsky s theory and postmodern with the latter perspective providing an integrating theme The affirmative multivoiced contextual relational other sensitive side of postmodernism is emphasized Levinas s philosophy of responsibility for the other is seen as congruent with this ethos The neopiagetian model of development on which the current approach is based proposes that the last stage in development concerns collective intelligence or postmodern postformal thought Kegan 1994 has attempted independently to describe adult development from the same perspective His work on the development of the postmodern mind of the adult is groundbreaking and impressive in its depth However I analyze the limitations as well as the contributions of his approach under scoring the advantages of my particular model

Adult Development, Therapy, and Culture Gerald D. Young, 2013-06-29 This volume proposes a theoretical integration of several major streams in contemporary psychological theory about adult development and therapy It adopts the perspective that there are steps in development throughout the adult period and that they are characterized by a union of the cognitive and affective the self and the other and idea with idea in second order collective abstractions That is they are at once postformal in terms of Piaget s theory sociocultural in terms of Vygotsky s theory and postmodern with the latter perspective providing an integrating theme The affirmative multivoiced contextual relational other sensitive side of postmodernism is emphasized Levinas s philosophy of responsibility for the other is seen as congruent with this ethos The neopiagetian model of development on which the current approach is based proposes that the last stage in development concerns collective intelligence or postmodern postformal thought Kegan 1994 has attempted independently to describe adult development from the same perspective His work on the development of the postmodern mind of the adult is groundbreaking and impressive in its depth However I analyze the limitations as well as the contributions of his approach under scoring the advantages of my particular model

Handbook of Adult Development and Learning Carol Hoare, 2006-03-30 Adult development and learning have always existed as two separate fields of study with development falling under psychology and learning under education Recent advances in theory research and practice however have made it clear that an important reciprocal relationship exists between them advances in development frequently lead to learning and conversely learning quite often fuels development The synchronicity between development and learning is responsible for positive changes in many capacities including insight intelligence reflective and meta cognition personality expression interpersonal competence and self efficacy This synchronicity is also leading to the growth of a new discipline at the borders of adult development and learning The Handbook of Adult Development and Learning is the first to bring together the leading scholars from both adult development and learning to explore what will form the foundation for this new discipline the latest research at the intersection of these fields It examines six major aspects of their intersection foundations key areas of integration the self system higher reaches of development and learning essential contexts and specific applications An introductory chapter explains why it is so important to recognize and fuel the growth of this new discipline Subsequent chapters review the latest theoretical and empirical literature and provide a rich itinerary for future research This handbook is a must read for all who promote optimal aging It will be an invaluable reference for scholars in development and education as well as rich resource for policy makers and practitioners such as corporate executives and human resource personnel

Handbook of Adult Development Jack Demick, Carrie Andreoletti, 2003-01-31 The Handbook of Adult Development is an overview of the major theories and research in the field Included are sections on introductory theory and method biocognitive development in adulthood and social development in adulthood in addition to an introduction and epilogue by the editors This content will be useful for years to come By soliciting contributions from current leading theoreticians and researchers in the field of adult development the volume will present state of the art theory and research on this burgeoning subfield of developmental psychology Professionals clinicians researchers and academics in the larger field of development psychology will find the book an invaluable resource as will graduate students in the same field

The Development of Logic in Adulthood Jan D. Sinnott, 2013-03-09 In this book Jan D Sinnott synthesizes her 20 years of research on lifespan cognitive development to describe the growth of complex or postformal thought in adults She shows specifically how adults improve mentally over a lifetime and learn to think in more complex and wiser ways Applications of postformal thought are demonstrated in such diverse areas as family relations adult education personal identity and spirituality Chapters examine relations between postformal thought and pertinent variables such as age health memory and vocabulary Other sections deal with issues in humanistic psychology such as guided imagery mind body medicine and creative intentionality

Human Development in Adulthood Lewis R. Aiken, 2005-12-21 Human Development in Adulthood is a comprehensive multidisciplinary overview of adult development in a number of areas both personal and societal from mental and physical health to economic and social conditions Variables including race gender economic status and political and religious affiliation are considered in the discussion of such human issues as love and marital relations economic concerns including employment and living conditions violence in its various forms including crime and war aging and death The numerous illustrations chapter summaries and glossary will prove especially useful to students

Development and Causality Gerald Young, 2011-06-24 This book sets forth a new model of development from a causal perspective As this is an area vital to several disciplines It has been written at multiple levels and for multiple audiences It is based on the work of Piaget and Neo Piagetians but also covers other major models in development It has elements that make it attractive as a teaching text but it is especially research focused It has clinical applications It presents many new ideas and models consistent with the existing literature which is reviewed extensively Students researchers and practitioners should find it useful The models presented in the present work build on models introduced in prior publications e g Young 1990a 1990b 1997

Psychology of the Consumer and Its Development Robert C. Webb, 2012-12-06 An unusually understandable survey of the forces or perception and feeling that determine the purchases we make the roles played by fashion fads and status and the psychological needs that they fulfill The book discusses how children become consumers and how they change as they age Research based throughout it shows how ads use classical conditioning harnessing psychological motivation to create image and sell products

Painting and Our Inner World Pavel Machotka, 2003-03-31 Machotka sets out to understand the images produced by a broad sample of students and to connect them to the students inner lives to their interpersonal relations their wishes and fears their impulses and inhibitions

Aging and Human Motivation Ernest Furchtgott, 2013-03-14 I first met Ernest Furchtgott twenty five years ago after joining the faculty of the College of Social Work at the University of South Carolina At that time Ernie chaired the Department of Psychology In the following three years we collaborated with an Academic Committee on Gerontology in conceptualizing and shaping the University s Certificate of Graduate Study in Gerontology Program guiding it to final approval by the South Carolina Commission on Higher Education For twenty years we team taught our graduate level course Psychosocial Approaches to Gerontology involving colleagues from related disciplines Over the years we examined and jointly graded hundreds of research posters prepared by our graduate students in gerontology as their final course requirement Several years ago Ernie formally retired from the university He instantly agreed to my request that he continue teaching the psychology of aging portion of our interdisciplinary course On campus nearly every day since retirement Ernie frequently telephoned to discuss

Handbook of Pain and Aging David I. Mostofsky, Jacob Lomranz, 2013-11-11 From time to time professional journals and edited volumes devote some of their pages to considerations of pain and aging as they occur among the aged in different cultures and populations One starts from several reasonable assumptions among them that aging per se is not a disease process yet the risk and frequency of disease processes increase with ongoing years The physical body's functioning and ability to restore all forms of damage and insult slow down the immune system becomes compromised and the slow growing pathologies reach their critical mass in the later years The psychological body also becomes weaker with unfulfilled promises and expectations and with tragedies that visit individuals and families and the prospect that whatever worlds remain to be conquered will most certainly not be met with success in the rapidly passing days and years that can only culminate in death Despair and depression coupled with infirmity and sensory and or motor inefficiency aggravate both the threshold and the tolerance for discomfort and synergistically collaborate to perpetuate a vicious cycle in which the one may mask the other Although the clinician is armed with the latest advances in medicine and pharmacology significant improvement continues to elude her or him The geriatric specialist all too familiar with such realities usually can offer little else than a hortative to learn to live with it but the powers and effectiveness of learning itself have declined

Psychological Knowledge in Court Gerald Young, Andrew W. Kane, Keith Nicholson, 2006-06-14 PTSD pain syndromes traumatic brain injury these three areas are common features of personal injury cases often forming the cornerstone of expert testimony Yet their complex interplay in an individual can make evaluation and explaining the results in court extremely difficult Psychological Knowledge in Court focuses on this triad separately and in combination creating a unique guide to forensic evaluations that fulfills both legal and clinical standards Its meticulous review of the literature identifies and provides clear guidelines for addressing core issues in causality chronicity and assessment such as Are there any definable risk factors for PTSD How prevalent is PTSD after trauma How do patients emotions relate to their pain experience Are current pain assessment methods accurate enough What is the role of pre-existing vulnerabilities in traumatic brain injury What exactly is mild TBI
