A Graceful Embrace: Theological Reflections on Adopting Children , 2017-11-20 This book significantly deepens the contemporary discussion of the theology and practice of adopting children Though adoption appears prominently in Scripture contemporary adoption practice has thus far proceeded without serious theological engagement This book seeks to fill this gap by offering a theological and ethical perspective on adoption that not only clarifies and complicates contemporary understandings of adoption but also throws fresh light on family community vocation and even what it means to be human Both interdisciplinary and international the volume brings together theologians and ethicists from Europe the UK Canada and the United States A rich set of reflections from both practical and theoretical perspectives offers a unique and uniquely insightful vision of Christian adoption Contributors are Dale P Andrews Jana Marguerite Bennett Marco Derks R Ruard Ganzevoort Bill McAlpine Kirsten Sonkyo Oh Sarah Shea Paul Shrier Henning Thei en Hans G Ulrich Karin Ulrich Eschemann Heather Walton Brent Waters Nick Watson

Towards a Critical Political Ethics Hille Haker, 2020-05-13 In her book Hille Haker pleads for a radical course correction of Catholic social ethics by focusing on three foundational concepts of social ethics human rights human dignity and moral responsibility based on the interplay of compassion solidarity and justice The author argues for a historically and politically mediated ethics that replaces the natural law ethics The theoretical reflections of the book are carried out by the practical social ethical studies The politicization of individual human rights is examined in the contexts of migration religious freedom and criminal justice Human dignity is spelled out as vulnerable agency allowing for a sharp criticism of Catholic sexual morality and neglect of women s human rights The book ends with a discussion of the relationship of political theology and political ethics and its social ethical implications for the further development of a Critical Political Ethics William Kentridge Leora Maltz-Leca,2018-01-26 Introduction on the southern tip of Africa Process as metaphor the metaphors of erasure History as process theaters of politics and Hegel in Africa Process procession a process of change Drawing up drawing out drawing as thinking Projection the most promiscuous of metaphors Being contemporary up south world time and other doubtful enterprises The Experience of Atheism: Phenomenology, Metaphysics and Religion Claude Romano,Robyn Horner,2022-12-29 Religious and atheistic belief are presented anew in a volume of essays from leading phenomenologists in both France and the UK Atheism often presented as the negation of religious belief is here engaged with from a phenomenologically informed notion of experience The focus on experience sparks new debates in readings of belief faith and atheism as they relate to and complicate each other What unites the contributors is their relationship to phenomenology as it has developed in France in the wake of Heidegger and Husserl Leading French intellectuals from this context Jean Luc Nancy Quentin Meillassoux and Catherine Malabou amongst others contribute arresting ideas on atheistic faith the death of God and anarchic faith opening up new areas of understanding in a field whose parameters and core concepts are ever shifting Revealing the extent to which religious and atheistic belief must be seen to influence and on a fundamental level to co create one another the pluralistic society in which religious belief is counted as one option amongst many is given primacy The fact that religious faith has become not only optional but also in many contexts strangely alienated from society deeply modifies the experience of the believer as much as that of the non believer A focus on experience over and above belief moves us towards a mode of experiential knowledge which refuses to privilege the atheistic believer and deride the reality of religious belief Transforming the Sacred into Saintliness Wolfgang Palaver,2021-02-04 Studies into religion and violence often put religion first Ren Girard started with violence in his book Violence and the Sacred and used the Durkheimian term sacred as its correlate in his study of early religions During the unfolding of his theory he more and more distinguished the sacred from saintliness to address the break that the biblical revelation represented in comparison to early religions This distinction between the sacred and saintliness resembles Henri Bergson s complementing Emile Durkheim s identification of the sacred and society with a dynamic religion that relies on individual mystics Girard s distinction also relates to the insights of thinkers like Jacques Maritain Simone Weil and Emmanuel Levinas This element explores some of Girard's main features of saintliness Girard pleaded for the transformation of the sacred into holy not their separation

The University Paul A. Bové, 2000 The essays collected in this issue of boundary 2 were written in response to a call for papers that would treat the contemporary university in various regions and stages of formation around the world in light of the interaction between local and global realities Underlying this project is the assumption that profound changes in economy and world organization transform the function and value of universities in tension not only with the regional histories and forces in which particular universities function but also with what used to be called the idea of the university The authors of these essays approach this topic in two ways some present the history and current situation of the university in a given place and politics and some write of the new university's political economy as the state withdraws support for higher education and hands the institutions over to entrepreneurial and transnational corporate culture None of these essays defends the idea that the university pursues knowledge for its own sake Yet there is a tinge of nostalgia for this idea or at least for the idea that the university's task is to educate to destroy bias to cultivate Of course such an idea remains the public justification for the existence of the university especially in the advanced capitalist societies whose higher classes benefit the most from the globalization of economic production

The Obligated Self Mara H. Benjamin, 2018-05-24 Mara H Benjamin contends that the physical and psychological work of caring for children presents theologically fruitful but largely unexplored terrain for feminists Attending to the constant concrete and urgent needs of children she argues necessitates engaging with profound questions concerning the responsible use of power in unequal relationships the transformative influence of love human fragility and vulnerability and the embeddedness of self in relationships and obligations Viewing child rearing as an embodied practice Benjamin's theological reflection invites a profound reengagement with Jewish sources from the Talmud to modern Jewish philosophy Her contemporary feminist stance forges a convergence between Jewish theological anthropology and the demands of parental caregiving

Armour, 2016-03-15 We are told modernity's end will destabilize familiar ways of knowing doing and being but are these changes we should dread or celebrate Four significant events and the iconic images that represent them catalyze this question the consecration of openly gay Episcopalian bishop Gene Robinson the mistreatment of prisoners at Abu Ghraib prison the politicization of the death of Terri Schiavo and the disastrous response to Hurricane Katrina Framed by an original appropriation of Michel Foucault and drawing on resources in visual culture theory and the history of photography Ellen T Armour explores the anxieties passions and power dynamics bound up in the photographic representation and public reception of these events Together these phenomena expose modernity's benevolent and malevolent disruptions and reveal the systemic fractures and fissures that herald its end for better and for worse In response to these signs and wonders Armour lays the groundwork for a theology and philosophy of life better suited to our post modern moment one that owns up to the vulnerabilities that modernity sought to disavow and better enables us to navigate the ethical issues we now confront Kirjath sepher ,2000 The Logic of the Lure John Paul Ricco,2002 The attraction of a wink a nod a discarded snapshot such feelings permeate our lives yet we usually dismiss them as insubstantial or meaningless With The Logic of the Lure John Paul Ricco argues that it is precisely such fleeting erotic and even perverse experiences that will help us create a truly queer notion of ethics and aesthetics one that recasts sociality and sexuality place and finitude in ways suggested by the anonymity and itinerant lures of cruising Shifting our attention from artworks to the work that art does from subjectivity to becoming and from static space to taking place Ricco considers a variety of issues including the work of Doug Ischar Tom Burr and Derek Jarman and the minor architecture of sex clubs public restrooms and alleyways
