Adolescence In A Moroccan Town Making Social Sense:

Adolescence in a Moroccan Town Susan Schaefer Davis, 1989 There are few serious studies of adolescence in contemporary Islamic society in spite of frequent reference to this part of the world as an example of close cultural regulation of sexuality and male female interaction This welcome contribution by an anthropologist and a psychologist is based on a long term study of about 150 youths and their families in a town in northern Morocco Topics given substantial treatment include sexuality family friendship courtship marriage and social deviance discussion often is organized around individual cases or interviews The book is clearly written and will be useful to those concerned with sexuality and adolescence in the Middle East or cross culturally It is part of the series Adolescents in a Changing World ed by B B and J W Whiting In some respects it nicely complements the well received book by L Abu Lughod Veiled Sentiments CH May 87 The Davis and Davis volume is more explicitly concerned with psychological theory formal interviews and a community wide sample Abu Lughod offers a more intimate and textured picture of domestic life The Children in Child Health Julie Spray, 2020-03-13 A journey into the lives of children coping in a world compromised by poverty and inequality The Children in Child Health challenges the invisibility of children s perspectives in health policy and argues that paying attention to what children do is critical for understanding the practical and policy implications of these experiences Modernizing Patriarchy Katja Zvan Elliott, 2015-09-01 Morocco is hailed by academics international NGO workers and the media as a trailblazer in women s rights and legal reforms The country is considered a model for other countries in the Middle East and North African region but has Morocco made as much progress as experts and government officials claim In Modernizing Patriarchy Katja van Elliott examines why women s rights advances are lauded in Morocco in theory but are often not recognized in reality despite the efforts of both Islamist and secular feminists In Morocco female literacy rates remain among the lowest in the region many women are victims of gender based violence despite legal reforms and girls as young as twelve are still engaged to adult men despite numerous reforms Based on extensive ethnographic research and fieldwork in Oued al Ouliyia Modernizing Patriarchy offers a window into the life of Moroccan Muslim women who though often young and educated find it difficult to lead a dignified life in a country where they are expected to have only one destiny that of wife and mother van Elliott exposes their struggles with modernity and the legal reforms that are supposedly ameliorating their lives In a balanced approach she also presents male voices and their reasons for criticizing the prevailing women s rights discourse Compelling and insightful Modernizing Patriarchy exposes the rarely talked about reality of Morocco s approach toward reform An Introduction to Childhood Heather Montgomery, 2011-09-09 In An Introduction to Childhood Heather Montgomery examines the role children have played within anthropology how they have been studied by anthropologists and how they have been portrayed and analyzed in ethnographic monographs over the last one hundred and fifty years Offers a comprehensive overview of childhood from an anthropological perspective Draws upon a wide range of examples and evidence from different geographical areas and belief systems Synthesizes existing literature on the anthropology of childhood while providing a fresh perspective Engages students with illustrative ethnographies to illuminate key topics and themes     Islands of Eight Million Smiles Hiroshi Aoyagi, 2020-03-17 Since the late 1960s a ubiquitous feature of popular culture in Japan has been the idol an attractive young actor male or female packaged and promoted as an adolescent role model and exploited by the entertainment fashion cosmetic and publishing industries to market trendy products This book offers ethnographic case studies regarding the symbolic qualities of idols and how these qualities relate to the conceptualization of selfhood among adolescents in Japan and elsewhere in East Asia The author explores how the idol manufacturing industry absorbs young people into its system of production molds them into marketable personalities commercializes their images and contributes to the construction of ideal images of the adolescent self Since the relationship between the idols and their consumers is dynamic the study focuses on the fans of idols as well Ultimately Aoyagi argues idol performances substantiate capitalist values in the urban consumer society of contemporary Japan and East Asia Regardless of how crude their performances may appear in the eyes of critics the idols have helped establish the entertainment industry as an agent of public socialization by driving public desires toward the consumption of commoditized fantasies     Coming of Age in South and Southeast Asia Lenore Manderson, Pranee Liamputtong Rice, 2020-11-25 In recent years first feminist considerations and now concerns with HIV Aids have led to new approaches to the study of sexuality The experience of puberty explorations with sexuality and courtship and the pressure to reproduce are a few of the human tensions central to this volume     Teenagers, Literacy and School Ken Cruickshank, 2006-09-27 This unique and timely book follows the experiences of four Arabic teenagers their families and their community focusing on the role of literacy in their daily lives and the differences between home and school The author looks at the conflict between expectations and practices at school and in the home arguing that problems are inevitable where class and cultural differences exist Emerging themes include how literacy practices in the community are undergoing rapid change due to global developments in technology how the patterns of written and spoken language in English and Arabic in the home are linked with social practices in logical and coherent ways how many of the family practices that differ from school culture and language become marginalised Built around these insightful case studies yet grounded in theory this book is of immediate relevance to teachers working in multicultural contexts and students and lecturers in language literacy or on TESOL courses     Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East, A Bibliography, Volume 2 Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East 1988-1992 Strijp, 2021-12-06 During the last two decades the number of anthropologists conducting research in the Middle East has increased considerably Together they have produced an abundance of valuable studies often based on prolonged periods of ethnographic fieldwork Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East A Bibliography offers a comprehensive survey of their results The first volume published in 1992 covered publications which appeared between 1965 and 1987 The second volume brings the bibliography further up to date listing publications between 1988 and 1992 and adds some 260 titles which were published up through 1987 As in the first volume the majority of the titles are annotated

Intimate Selving in Arab Families Suad Joseph,1999-12-01 The study of relationships a topic which has received considerable attention in Europe the United States and parts of Asia until now has not been addressed in the Arab world Here for the first time are articles written by native feminist scholars that focus on intimate Arab familial relationships and provide a scholarly discussion of gendering of the self the process of intimate selving in the Arab community The book is divided into three parts biographical and autobiographical ethnographic and literary accounts in which the authors identify key family relationships mother son brother sister mother daughter granddaughter co wives and father daughter and explore them in terms of shaping and defining gender in relation to others

Alienation or Integration of Arab Youth Roel Meijer,2014-06-03 An anthology of contributions from eleven renowned specialists in the field who deal with topics that effect Arab youth in the Middle East the most such as demographic growth rising unemployment and the difficult prospects of their future Apart from studies on violence and youth in the Algerian civil war the book offers new insights into generational conflicts and attempts by contemporary youth to overcome their alienation by creating their own eclectic cultural solutions to the problems of tradition and modernity The book is based on the latest research and opinion surveys held in different Arab countries

Immigrants in the Sexual Revolution Andrew DJ Shield,2017-08-29 This book focuses on the latter half of the twentieth century when much of northwest Europe grew increasingly multicultural with the arrival of foreign workers and post colonial migrants whilst simultaneously experiencing a boom in feminist and sexual liberation activism Using multilingual newspapers foreign worker organizations archives and interviews this book shows that immigrants in the Netherlands and Denmark held a variety of viewpoints about European gender and sexual cultures Some immigrants felt solidarity with and even participated in European social movements that changed norms and laws in favor of women s equality gay and lesbian rights and sexual liberation These histories challenge today s politicians and journalists who strategically link immigration to sexual conservatism misogyny and homophobia

Youth and Globalization in Central Asia Stefan B. Kirmse,2013 The former Soviet republic of Kyrgyzstan in the heart of Central Asia is home to the city of Osh which is commonly discussed as an epicenter of radical Islamism and political instability yet also fully globalized Stefan Kirmse explores what this means for the everyday lives of the city s young people By focusing on the myriad ways in which young Muslims experience globalization this book offers an alternative to the standard sensationalist accounts of post Soviet Central Asia that discuss the region in terms of an Islamic threat political instability and inter ethnic strife

The Anthropology of Childhood David F. Lancy,2015 Enriched with anecdotes from ethnography and the daily media this revised edition examines family structure reproduction profiles of children s caretakers their treatment at different ages their play work schooling and transition to adulthood The result is a nuanced and credible picture of childhood in different cultures past and present

Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East ,1992 During the last two decades the number of anthropologists conducting research in the Middle East has increased considerably Together they have produced an abundance of valuable studies often based on prolonged periods of ethnographic fieldwork Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East A Bibliography offers a comprehensive survey of their results The first volume published in 1992 covered publications which appeared between 1965 and 1987 The second volume brings the bibliography further up to date listing publications between 1988 and 1992 and adds some 260 titles which were published up through 1987 As in the first volume the majority of the titles are annotated Islam in Dutch Society W. A. R. Shadid,P. Sj. van Koningsveld,1992 This book generally discusses three main topics connected to the situation of Muslims in Dutch society First of all attention is given to the subject of faith and rituals such as the existing mystical orders mosque sermons and the institutionalization of ritual slaughter The second subject deals with Islam and the second generation Muslims in the Netherlands In this context the situation of the so called runaway girls and education in general are discussed Special attention is given to the development and functioning of Islamic schools and to the education in one s own language and culture The last topic deals with Muslim organizations their development and role in the emancipation of these religious groups in Dutch society Furthermore obstacles hindering the establishment of a Muslim council on a national level are thoroughly discussed This book can be of interest to various categories of people such as scholars theologians social scientists lawyers policy makers and those who through their profession are in regular contact with members of the Muslim community in the Netherlands
