California and Western Medicine ,1927 Ben L. Culwell ,1987 The Coastwatchers (Illustrated) Eric A. Feldt, 2019-11-15 The Coastwatchers is the story of the unsung heroic civilian spotters of World War 2 who roamed the coastlines of their home islands and reported back enemy sightings to Allied Intelligence Author Eric Feldt led Operation Ferdinand part of the build up to the Normandy landings in which the Coastwatchers by this time on the US Navy s payroll played a critical role His intimate knowledge of Ferdinand and his familiarity with the Coastwatchers of the Pacific islands provides a unique perspective on this little known but important chapter of military history The Illustrated History of World War II. ,1966 The Illustrated History of World War II. ,1966 The Marshall Cavendish Illustrated Encyclopedia of World War II. ,1972 The War in the South Pacific Jonathan Russell Diamond, 2017 The Japanese invaded the Solomon Islands in May 1942 and in July began construction of a large airfield on Guadalcanal In February 1943 after an epic six month struggle they were expelled from the island and it became a staging base for U S Admiral William F Halsey and his South Pacific force Commanding a powerful force of Navy Marine Corps and Army assets as well as land and carrier based aircraft Halsey's mission was to neutralize the Japanese presence in the South Pacific before moving on to Japan itself. As explained and depicted in this fascinating book, the campaign was eventually successful but only after some of the bitterest fighting of World War II. The fanatical opposition called for extreme measures from U.S., British, and Australian land, sea, and air forces. With detailed narrative and captions, the many archival photographs in The War in the South Pacific make for a superb record of this legendary conflict.

The Battle of Guadalcanal Larry Hama, 2007. In graphic novel format, discusses the battles that took place on the island of Guadalcanal in 1942 and 1943.

Pacific Island Battlegrounds of World War II Earl R. Hinz, 1995. Highlights decisive WWII military operations in Polynesia, Micronesia, and Melanesia and their effects on the islands. Illustrations, maps, and index.

Somewhere in the South Pacific Harold C. Jolliff, Annette Jolliff Johnson, 2011.

Final Hours in the Pacific Donald J. Young, 2011-02-15. From December 7, 1941, until the Battle of Midway in June 1942, the war with Japan was a losing one. It was to be the darkest period of the almost four-year war. During those days, no time was more trying than the final hours for the men trapped on Wake Island, Bataan, Corregidor, Hong Kong, and Singapore. This book, outlining the bitter end to their ordeals, covers the crucial days and final hours that led to their surrender, a capitulation that would shock the free world.

Warpath Across the Pacific Lawrence J. Hickey, Steve W. Ferguson, 1986.

Pacific Star Reg Newell, 2015-10-06. The war in the South Pacific saw some of the most gruelling fighting of World War Two. Conditions: heat, rain, and a hostile jungle were unpleasant, while the Japanese enemy was ruthless. Pacific Star sheds new light on the sacrifices and tribulations of the forgotten soldiers of the 3rd New Zealand Division who fought in the Pacific. It covers their initial service in Fiji and New Caledonia, as well as the major battles they fought in the Solomons, Vella Lavella, the Treasury Islands, and the Green Islands.

The Battalion Artist Janice Blake, 2019. The Battalion Artist explores the three years, three months, and three days of Nat Bellantoni's life on the Pacific front in World War II. He had known since childhood that he wanted to be an artist. When he packed his seabag and took leave of his family and his sweetheart to go to war, he knew that the best way to manage the narrative of his life and to cope with the ups and downs of his feelings was to create images, visual records that spoke of what he felt as well as what he saw. In this stunning book, filled with authentic World War II images, many in full color, we see and feel the intensity of wartime life through the eyes of a talented young artist who was also a US Navy Seabee. Natale Bellantoni, a young art student from Boston, sailed across the Pacific in 1943-45 and returned home with a sea chest of art and photographs documenting his experiences in New Caledonia, New Guinea, the Admiralty Islands, and Okinawa. His subject matter was his daily life: endless weeks at sea, harbors, and ships; men at work; airstrips; the local countryside; and the view of enemy planes overhead at night from his fox hole. Now collected in a lavishly illustrated volume, his watercolor sketches and photographs offer a window onto one of the most significant moments in American history. The Battalion Artist explores the World War II experiences of Nat Bellantoni, but it reflects the story of an entire generation.
